HAYES-CALLIS

Harrellsville, N. C.—On Friday afternoon, June 9th at half after five o'clock at the home of the bride's parents near Harrellsville, Miss Lorraine Doris Callis became the bride of Daniel Turner Hayes of Louisburg.

The living room was decorated with evergreens, daisies and queen Anne's lace carrying out a color scheme of green and white.

Mrs. Starkey Sharpe, Sr., pianist and Mrs. Tennyson Holloman, soloist, rendered a program of nuptial music. Rev. W. C. Francis, the bride's pastor officiated using a double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Ray Orland, of Craddock, Va., sister of the bride was matron of honor and her only attendant. She wore a two piece pink costume with white accessories and carried a nosegay of mixed summer flowers tied with ribbon to match her costume. Leland Fuller of Louisburg, nephew of the groom was best man.

The bride and groom entered together. She was attired in a powder blue, two-piece suit with white accessories and carried a nosegay of mixed summer flowers tied with pink and white ribbon.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Alexander Callis of Harrellsville. She graduated from Chowan Junior College, Murfreesboro and Atlantic Christian College, Wilson. For the past two years she taught in the Bertie and Wake County schools.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hayes, of Louisburg. He graduated from Epsom High School and is a very popular young farmer of Louisburg.

Following the ceremony the couple left for a short honeymoon after which they will be at home, Louisburg, Route Three.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mrs. W. A. Kittrell, Mrs. T. L. Fuller and Mrs. P. C. Fuller, all sisters of the groom, from Kittrell, Leland Fuller, Kittrell, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Hayes, of Louisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hayes and daughters, Mildred and Janie, of Henderson, Mrs. Ray Orland, Craddock, Va., and Mrs. S. L. Callis, of Portsmouth, Va.

Sam, innocent of all golfing lore, watched with interest the efforts of the man in the bunker to get himself out.

At last the ball rose in a cloud of sand, hovered in the air and then dropped on the green and rolled into the hole.

"Gosh," said Sam with a chuckle, "he'll have a tough time to get out of that one."

Face to Face with Death

This is one of the most unusual pictures to come out of the war. Here is a Jap sniper who had hidden himself in an American foxhole, then dug it a little deeper. But sharp eyed doughboys discovered him. Here you see him, crouched down, miraculously dodging bullets and grenades that Yanks shot and lobbed at him. When this picture was taken he was alive, but note the fear of death on his face. A few moments later he died in a hail storm of American lead. Back our boys up who are fighting such men as these by buying War Bonds.

IN SERVICE

Allied Force Advance Press Headquarters, Italy.—Technician Fifth Grade Ollie M. Merritt, crane operator, whose brother Henry C. Merritt lives at Route Three, Louisburg, N. C., is with the 149th Ordnance Motor Vehicle Assembly Company, an outfit now operating for Peninsular Base Section that reduced the time of assembling urgently needed combat trucks from 25 man hours to 25 minutes.

Trucks shipped from the United States in crates are delivered to the 149th right at the waterfront. Soldiers and Italian civilians start them through an open-air assembly line as fast as is ordered, sometimes hitting a pace that produces 380 new trucks in one eight hour day.

The outfit was the first of its kind to be activated in the United States. It went to Africa in November, 1942, and introduced a system that gained a man hour every minute.

DEAD

Wesley H. Hawkins, colored, 74 years of age, died at Lincoln hospital Durham, Wednesday night. "Wes" was one of Louisburg's oldest and most respected citizens and had many friends among both races.

Husbands who like to spend their evening away from home will learn with alarm that Radar is said to be able to locate any missing object and will be available for general use after the war.

Louisburg Man (twisting his radio dial and feeling a sudden sharp pain in his back)—Oh, I think I am getting lumbago.
 Wife—Why bother to listen? You won't be able to understand a word of it.

The battle for the World is on!

Now that the chips are down... now that our men are writing decisive history with their blood... There can be no halfway measures for us.

The greatest battle in the history of the world must be matched by the greatest war loan in the history of the world. That's what Uncle Sam says... the same Uncle Sam for whom your brothers and sweethearts and husbands are fighting and dying this very minute. They, in the front lines, are throwing in everything they have. We, behind the lines, must do the same. Remember, this is the battle for the WORLD. Our world. And we've got to win it. That's why Uncle Sam expects every dollar, like every soldier, to do its duty.
