Making Full Use of The Three Hour And Half Limit Sales --- Market Crowded All Week --- Many Growers And Visitors Present Each Day -- Louisburg Extends Invitation

The past week has been one of overflowing houses on the Louisburg tobacco market, with every minute of the three and a half hours sales time fully utilized.

Lugs and better grades of tobacco are selling well, although, the crowded conditions together with poor quality, including tips and non descripts, and damaged tobaccos had a tendency to depress the prices on a few grades early this week. These grades are gaining back, however, and the better grades are holding their own.

The full corps of buyers came in Wednesday and the market is taking on new life with strong demand and better prices.

According to Sales Supervisor James Speed, it is ex pected that the blocked conditions will soon clear and tobacco sales will be more regular.

The sales begin each day at 9:30 and continue through to 1:00 o'clock.

Large numbers of farmers and visitors have been on the sales each day and most all were high in the praise for the prices and general spirit prevailing on the Louis-

Louisburg is extending a sincere personal invitation to all to visit the "Friendly Market," Louisburg, with or without tobacco.
