

Weather

Mostly cloudy and cooler, scattered showers today. Warmer Wednesday, chance of showers.

The Franklin Times

Published Every Tuesday & Thursday

Serving All Of Franklin County

News Cast

Listen to WYRN Radio, 1480 on your dial, each evening at 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, for your Times Reporter with all the local news.

Tel. GY 6-3283

Five Cents A Copy

Louisburg, N. C., Tuesday, March 19, 1963

(Six Pages Today)

94th Year - Number 7

Here April 3rd

Rescuers Plan Biggest Show

The Louisburg Rescue Service presents its 5th Annual "Guess the Price" show at the Louisburg Armory Wednesday night, April 3, beginning at 5:30 p.m. with supper.

Tickets for the supper-show (choice of barbecue pork or chicken) went on sale this morning.

Rescue Chief V. A. Peoples said that this year's show promised to be by far the largest of the five in the way of merchandise to be given away and everything else.

Among the top prizes to be given away on the show are week-end trips to the beach, at least two living room suites, toys, sporting equipment and men's and women's clothes, not to mention groceries by the basket full.

Top door prize for the occasion this year will be a year-old Palomino Pony, purchased several weeks ago special for the show. Still another door prize will be a used car, donated by Louisburg Motors.

Supper choice tickets (chicken) will be on sale until 3 days before the show or through March 30th. Barbecue pork tickets will remain on sale until the date of the show and may be purchased at the door. Chief Peoples announced that on account of increased costs, a small charge will be made for feeding children not holding regular tickets this year, however, only regular ticket holders will be eligible for the panel games and door prize drawing.

All merchandise for the show is being donated by merchants of Louisburg and Franklin County. Show time is at 7:30 and all proceeds from the show will go into the Rescue squad building and equipment fund.

Show Door Prize

Ginger Murphy, 5 year-old daughter of Rescuer and Mrs. Glenn Murphy, of Louisburg, sits astride the year-old Palomino pony to be given as one of the door prizes at the Guess the Price show here April 3. Times Photo.

Wake Annual Meet Set Friday At Wake Forest

All roads lead to the Wake Forest Elementary School in Wake Forest, Friday night, where the members of Wake Electric Membership Corporation will gather with their neighbors and friends for their 23rd annual meeting, the theme of which is "Every Member a Co-operator". This year's meeting is extra special because its the time when members are disturbed about the propaganda being spread across the state and nation about his successful electric business. When members come together is also the time when they can take joint action to combat these untruths.

According to J. L. Shearon, General Manager of Wake Electric Membership Corporation, a large number of the over 4500 members are expected to attend this night meeting. Among the notables participating in the program will be William T. Crisp, General Counsel for Tarheel Electric Membership Association, who will present the feature address; Gwyn B. Price, Chairman of the North Carolina Rural Electrification Authority; and J. C. Brown, Jr., Executive Manager of Tarheel Electric Membership Association.

One of the highlights of the meeting will be a 4-H Cooperatives Demonstration by Linda and Judy Clark from Granville County, who were winners in the state contest which won them an expense paid trip to the Annual Meeting of the American Institute of Cooperation at Ohio State University last year.

There will be a business session, and a nine man board of directors will be elected by the members to represent them in policy-making decision affecting the member-owned corporation.

There will be Door Prizes valued at over $500 including

School Clinics

Pre-school clinics at Youngsville High School (white) will be conducted at 9:30 a.m. March 22 and at the Youngsville Elementary School (colored) at 1 p.m. the same date.

The Health Department requests parents to accompany their children to the clinics.

a room air conditioner and other valuable prizes, then a question and answer program with $15 silver dollars given for each question properly answered.

No one is to be left out for a nice door prize will be given

Files For Council

Edward F. Kimball, local druggist and tobaccoist, filed as a candidate for the Louisburg City Council early Tuesday afternoon to become the first candidate to toss his hat into the ring for the upcoming May 7 Municipal election.

Kimball, 43, is associated with O'Neal Drug Store here and works as a tobaccoist in season. He is married to the former Jacquelyn O'Neal of Louisburg. They have three children, two girls and a boy.

every person who attends the meeting.

Wake Electric invites and encourages all its members to join in this annual meeting and help to keep your electric business the most efficient business to be found anywhere.

The only other public announcement concerning the election thus far has come from Councilman A. F. Johnson, Jr., who announced that he did not plan to seek re-election.

Justice Meet

The Justice Community Development will meet Thursday night, March 21, at 7:30 p.m. at the educational building. Everyone interested in learning more about filling out income tax be sure and attend.

Local Industry Hunters

Local citizens representing Franklin County in the Go East industrial mission to New York are, 1. to r., J. M. Allen, Jr.,

W. P. Childers, W. J. Benton, G. D. Zealand and E. S. Ford. The group left Monday on the four-day industry hunting mission. - Times Photo.

Eure Hits Termites In Party

North Carolina Secretary of State Thad Eure lashed out at so called "termites" from without the Democratic Party before a capacity crowd at the annual Franklin County Democratic Banquet here Saturday night.

Speaking to an estimated 250 persons in attendance at the $5 a plate affair, Eure stated that "the Democratic party is suffering from termites from within and without," and urged the return of party loyalty.

The "termites from without" are the Republicans, said Eure, once described by a GOP official as "the meanest Democrat in the state."

He described the "termites from within" as person "who prefer to reap all the benefits of the name 'Democrat' and yet lend aid and comfort and votes" to the Republican party.

"What can you say about these people?" Eure asked. "They are nothing more or less than termites-eating out our foundations."

Eure recalled that in his last bid for re-election, "367,000 Republicans voted for a man who had been dead five months rather than vote for me." He added with a touch of sarcasm: "How I do love them."

Eure continued, "But we have to contend with them, we have to fight them, we meet them on every road we travel. We are traveling a tougher road, so we must wage a better battle."

Public announcements of candidacy by Democrats planning to run for governor in 1964 are long overdue, Eure also stated. With the filing deadline only 12 months away, the absence of definite candidates is unprecedented and a waste of valuable time, he said.

"There has been speculation, and some names have been called, but the individuals have not spoken. We have not seen that before in North Carolina."

Political talks has been "mainly a matter of saying, 'Jonas is a good man.'" Eure said in reference to Republican Congressman Charles R. Jonas of Lincolnton.

"The best way to build up the opposition is to join in this kind of talk," Eure said. "I won't do it. I'm looking for a man for my candidate, for my party's candidate."

"If they're all afraid when the deadline comes, if they're all afraid to take on that monster known as the Republican

Leaders Confer With Eure

Leaders of the Franklin County Democratic Party confer with North Carolina Secretary of State Thad Eure, right, at annual gathering here Saturday night. With Eure, principal speaker for the occasion, are Representative James D. Speed, Chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, and Mrs. A. E. Hall, Vice-Chairman. - Times Photo.

party, then, by golly, I'll take him on myself!"

Rep. James Speed, chairman of the Franklin County Democratic Executive Committee, presided at the dinner attended by sizeable delegations from all 11 precincts in the county.

Resolutions were passed in memory of three Franklin Democrats who died since the last gathering, Douglas Langston of Franklin, public schools Superintendent Wiley F. Mitchell and attorney Charles P. Green.

Selected as delegates to the Jefferson-Jackson-Day affair in Raleigh were Chairman Speed,

Vice Chairman Mrs. Thelma Hall, James Perdue, E. L. Best, Robert S. Hight, Vance County Democratic chairman; Dr. Cecil Robbins, president of

Louisburg College; Walter Fuller, State Personnel Department director; and Dr. Raymond A. Stone of Raleigh, executive director of the N. C. Citizens Committee for Better Schools and president of the Louisburg College Alumni Association.

Secretary of State Eure was introduced by Franklin Times editor A. F. Johnson, Jr. Entertainment was furnished by a barbershop quartet, "The Sons of Fun," from Raleigh.

Kennedy Representing First Federal At Conference

Graham C. Kennedy, Vice-President and Loan Officer of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Rocky Mount, is in Denver, Colorado, attending the 38th annual conference of the American Savings and Loan Institute, an educational and professional organization serving the savings and loan business.

Kennedy recently received signal recognition from the Institute when he was named Deputy Governor of the State of North Carolina. The selection was made on the basis of his outstanding leadership and contribution to the promotion and administration of programs for the specialized training of savings and loan personnel.

He is also president of the Northeastern North Carolina chapter of the Institute and a member of the Institute's National Professional Activities committee which will meet during the conference. Institute committees comprise a select group chosen from the more than 25,000 savings and loan employees who are members of the organization.

The Northeastern North Carolina chapter of the Institute is currently sponsoring two courses: Residential Appraising, and Savings and Loan Principles I. Sessions are held weekly at Rocky Mount Senior High School with an enrollment of 45 students from savings and loan associations in this area, 14 of whom are personnel of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Rocky Mount.

Frank A. Read, Jr., Assistant Vice President and Manager of the Louisville office, is taking the course on Residential Appraising. Through these specialized courses offered by the Institute, participating students have an opportunity to broaden their knowledge of the business and thus be of better service to their association and its customers.

Kennedy has been associated with First Federal Savings and Loan Association since 1958, heading the Mortgage Loan Department and Branch Office operations.

Museum Curator Says

A State Museum Official Friday branded as false reports that anyone at the museum had identified a wild dog killed near here last month as an "Australian Dingo" or anything except a "wild" dog.

In a letter to The Times dated March 15, accusing The Times of "sensationalism," Dr. David A. Adams, Curator of the Museum, stated that he and Mr. J. W. Johnson "both examined the animal in question" and that at no time did he or Mr. Johnson remember using the word "dingo" or express any belief that the animal was anything other than a "common domestic dog."

Dr. Adams went on to say that he and Mr. Johnson discussed the matter with two men, one of which he assumed to be Mr. Stone (Ransom Stone, of Route 1, Louisburg, who killed the dog) and that both he and Mr. Johnson were very firm in expressing their belief that the animal was no more than a domestic dog (Canis familiaris) which had escaped from man's influence, was existing entirely without assistance from humans, was supporting itself by its own kills of game and other small animals (and probably occasionally also livestock), and was therefore "wild" in every sense of the word.

In concluding his letter Dr. Adams stated, "We would appreciate it very much if you would print a retraction of your earlier article. If you wish to engage in sensationalism, that is your business; leave us out of it."

NEWS BRIEFS

Fluoride Vote

Sen. Wilbur Jolly of Franklin introduced a bill Thursday authorizing an "opinion election" in Louisburg on the issue of adding fluoride to the town's water supply.

Results of the election would not be binding on the Louisburg Town Council, the bill says.

22nd Deadline

Franklin County farmers who have not signed up to participate in the 1963 Feed Grain Program still have through Friday, March 22nd to sign up to take part in this part in this program, according to John R. Davis, ASCS Office Manager in Franklin County.

Davis encourages all farmers who do not fully understand the program for 1963 to stop by the ASCS Office in Louisburg to receive the facts about the program.

PTA Meet

Mr. E. H. Stallings, Principal of Louisburg School will discuss standards for re-accreditation, scholastic letters and school work in general at the P.T.A. meeting Thursday night, March 21, at 7:30 p.m. Devotional will be conducted by Rev. John Mason, Pastor Trinity Methodist Church. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Spy Planes

Washington--Soviet Russia is sending planes over the oceans tracking down and flying over U. S. ships.

Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of Defense, said, at a recent news conference that Russian planes had stayed within their "legal rights" and had not shown any hostile intent. Mr. McNamara stated that the United States must prepare to protect themselves against extensive Russian reconnaissance.

Mrs. Brown To Lead Cancer Drive

Mrs. N. A. Brown, a past president of the Youngsville Woman's Club, will for the second year lead the American Cancer Society's Cancer Crusade in Franklin County.

In announcing the selection of the chairman, Miss Lucy Burt of Louisburg who is President of the Franklin County Unit of the ACS, said "We can expect a very successful education and fund-raising Crusade under her leadership."

The Crusade will start April 1, which is so designated each year by the President of the United States. The Chairman said she had agreed to lead the Crusade "because there is urgent need for everyone to do his share in combating a disease that will strike some 46,000,000 Americans now alive if present rates continue."

The leader says the prospects for eventually solving the cancer problem have never been as great as they are today. We are now saving one out of three cancer patients. We could save one out of two under ideal conditions.

Improvement is attributed to two major factors: research has resulted in improved diagnosis and treatment; more people are getting to doctors in time for early treatment. The educational aspect of the Crusade will seek to persuade more adults to have annual health checkups. The fund-raising aspect will supply funds for research, education and service programs.

Again, this year the Society will emphasize "To Cure More, Give More" and "Fight Cancer with a Checkup and a Check."

Mrs. Brown has appealed for volunteers to join the Crusade so that the fight against cancer can be stepped up. "If we all work together," she says, "I am sure we can make the 1963 Crusade a record one in lives saved and in the funds that are urgently needed for research."