

Issues Of Wheat Vote Outlined

The issues on which wheat farmers will vote May 21 are really very clear-cut and the 1964 program is similar in most ways to programs which have been in effect for wheat crops in other years, John R. Davis, Office Manager of the Franklin County ASCS Office, said today. As in past votes on wheat quotas, the May 21 referendum will determine the program for only one year--1964.

"And, regardless of how the 1964 wheat vote turns out," Davis declared, "present law and the wheat supply situation virtually assure that another referendum will be held in the spring of 1964 for the 1965 crop."

For the 1964 wheat crops, Mr. Davis explained, the favorable outcome of the May 21 referendum (approval by at least two-thirds of the wheat farmers voting) would mean that the wheat program available to program participants for next year would include (1) allotments and quotas, with penalties on "excess" wheat produced; (2) price support at two levels--averaging $2 per bushel nationally for 80 percent of the normal production from the allotment acres--but not more than the normal yield of planted acres, and averaging about $1.30 per bushel nationally for the rest of the wheat produced; and (3) diversion payments for shifting acreage from wheat production to a conserving use--made on both the mandatory acreage reduction (resulting from planting within the farm acreage allotments) and on additional voluntary diverted acreage.

If the quotas are not approved by the necessary two-thirds vote, however, the program available for 1964-crop wheat would include (1) the same acreage allotments, and (2) price support at 50 percent of parity (about $1.25 per bushel, national average, at current parity price levels) to farmers who plant within their allotments.

Bunn ABC Vote Bill Is Delayed

The Senate Propositions and Grievances Committee heard arguments Tuesday for and against a measure to allow a vote in the town of Bunn on whether to establish an Alcoholic Beverage Control store there.

The committee took no action on the bill. Sen. Wilbur Jolly of Franklin County was the only one to speak for the measure, although 20 people showed up to support it. He said, "For many years Franklin County has had the reputation of being a dealer in non-taxed whiskey. Any community should have the right to vote on an ABC store."

Mrs. Ednis Murphy of Bunn, one of nine people who opposed the referendum, said "the people of this town should be more interested in setting the course of our children rather than collecting taxes from an ABC store."

Committee Chairman Sen. Perry Martin of Northampton said action would be deferred on the bill until Friday at the request of Sen. Jolly.

Youth Wrecks Borrowed Car

A joyride in a borrowed car resulted in slight injuries to a couple of Franklinton youths early Wednesday afternoon and a total loss to the 1960 Ford owned by Frank Hunsuke of Creedmore.

The car, driven by O. C. Hayes, 18, with Wayne Pendleton, 16, as passenger, went out of control on a rural paved road some 3 miles south of Franklinton, and skidded over 400 feet before being demolished against a large tree.

State Trooper James Byrd, who investigated, said that excessive speed was evidently to blame for this latest event in Franklinton County's seemingly perpetual demolition derby.

The Hayes youth had reportedly borrowed the car from Charlie Beal of Stem, who had previously borrowed it from Hugsucker. Hunsucker said at the scene that the first knowledge he had of Hayes using the vehicle was when he heard about the mishap.

Council Asks Bids

The Louisburg City Council meeting in special called session Wednesday night, voted to advertise for bids for a 2 ton rated cab and chassis, complete with a 1,250 gallon tank for use as a tanker truck by the fire department and a 1 ton truck for use by the rescue service.

Both the fire department's present tanker, a 1948 surplus model, and the Rescue Service's No. 1, heavy duty rescue truck, were disabled following heavy service at the near disastrous Franklinton forest fire, and repairs to the rescue truck have not been completed yet.

The Council also declared the 1946 Ford fire engine, soon to be replaced by a new Segrave Pumper unit, surplus and authorized the Town Administrator to advertise it for sale. The 1956 GMC Rescue Truck will be sold also as soon as the new truck can be outfitted and placed in service.

Lecturer in the history of the local lodge.
