Over 200 Attend Area Conservation Rally Here

Chairman David S. Weaver, of the State Soil and Water Conservation Committee, told a gathering of over 200 soil conservationists here Monday night that the "American free enterprise system is the best in the world."

Weaver, who made the feature address at an Area 4 Conservation Rally at the High School Cafeteria, pointed out that 8 per cent of the American population, the farmers, were feeding the other 92 per cent.

"This system," he said, "has freed 92 percent of the population to produce the products and goods which makes America the richest nation on earth and has enabled the prices of goods to remain within reach of the average citizen."

Weaver served for 11 years as director of the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service. He was introduced by John D. Mackie of Oxford, area secretary.

James T. Moss of Youngsville, chairman of the Area 4 district and the 1962's winner of the Outstanding Farmer of the Nation Award, presided at the gathering.

Bryce R. Young, administrative officer of the N. C. Soil and Water Conservation Committee presented the award for outstanding achievement in soil conservation programs to C. Y. Harris of Vance County.

Joe P. Kuykendall, State conservationist, spoke briefly, stressing the need for intelligent use of natural resources.

Franklinton To Get New Phone Office

Franklinton--Telephone subscribers here will have a new set of telephone numbers in the summer of 1964 when an expanded replacement office goes into service.

A 34 x 40-foot central office building of masonry construction is now underway.

H. T. Pitts, local manager for Carolina Telephone, said that the modernization program now in progress is expected to cost about $97,000.

Also included in the project will be installation of equipment to provide facilities to serve about 80 new main telephones for subscribers in this area. This equipment will make possible service to new subscribers and permit better grades of service to present subscribers.

"At the time the new facilities are placed in service, the entire exchange will be converted to the seven-digit, all numeral numbering plan. A new telephone directory will be prepared and delivered to Franklin County subscribers prior to the conversion. We sincerely hope that this change will not inconvenience our subscribers here," Pitts said.

Soil Conservation Vote On Friday

On Friday, December 6, 1963, the voters of Franklin County will elect a supervisor for the Franklin Soil and Water Conservation District.

Cotton Vote Is Slated For Tuesday

Tuesday, December 10, 1963, is the day for cotton producers to go to the polls to vote in the 1964 Cotton Referendum. Marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1964 cotton crop only if two-thirds of the growers voting cast a "Yes" vote in the referendum.

If quotas are approved, the 1964 crop will be supported at a rate of from 65 to 90 percent of parity.

If more than one-third of the growers voting vote "No" the upland cotton will be supported at only 50 percent of parity during 1964. Cotton growers in Franklin County let your desires be known by casting a vote in the December 10 Referendum.

Childers Named Chairman Of County Commissioners

Commissioner (Rev.) W. P. Childers was named Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners at the regular annual reorganizational meeting of the Board Monday.

Childers replaces Commissioner Norwood E. Faulkner as chairman under agreement that rotates the chairmanship annually.

Commissioner Norris W. Collins was named vice-chairman of the Board and was also named Fire Commissioner as well as Commissioner in charge of the Court House, Grounds and Finance Committee.

Commissioner George H. Harris was named to head up the Boarding Home Committee, while Commissioner Claude A. Arnold, who resigned from the Welfare Board just prior to the reorganizational shuffle, was named to head the Jail and Agricultural Building Committees.

Former Chairman Norwood E. Faulkner got Arnold's old seat on the Welfare Board. In compliance with General Statute 103-105, the Board declared New Years Day, Easter Monday, July 4th, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and December 23, 24, and 25 Christmas, as holidays in 1964 for all county employees.

The Board appointed the following as tax listers and appraisers for 1964: M. C. Pearce, Dunn; Robert Allen, Youngsville; L. M. Grissom, Hayesville; Mrs. W. B. Taylor, Louisburg; W. S. Boone, Cedar Rock; Thomas Perdue, Harris; H. G. Jones and Mrs. W. A. Hardy, Franklinton; Mrs. Rea A. Manning, Gold Mine; Mrs. A. C. Stallings, Cypress Creek and C. C. Perry, Sandy Creek.

The Board also accepted the resignation of Hayesville Township Constable Walter Faulkner, who has been employed as County Jailor replacing Halbert Spencer and discussed the new statute providing for intoxication breath tests with County Solicitor W. H. Taylor, but took no action on the latter. John H. Hodges, of the Hodges

Insurance Agency, was named agent for the Board in matters pertaining to fire insurance rates on County property, and T. L. Fuller filed a claim in

Toy Appeal Made

The Louisburg Jaycees are in the midst of their annual Christmas toy drive for the needy and have issued a plea for any kind of usable or repairable toys.

The Jaycees acknowledged a large contribution of toys by the Centerville Boy Scout Troop this week and added that there is an urgent need for more toys than they have collected so far.

The need is especially urgent this year, a Jaycee spokesman said, due to the fact that the County Welfare Department has discontinued accepting such donations for distribution to the needy.

Anyone having toys they wish to donate is urged to contact any member of the local Jaycees not later than December 16. The Jaycees will be happy to pick the toys up, repair them if needed, and make certain they get into the hands of some needy child on Christmas morning.

Masonic Notice

There will be a stated communication of Louisburg Lodge No. 413 AF & AM on Tuesday, December 10, at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Building on Jolly Street. Officers will be elected at this meeting for the coming year. All Master Masons are invited and urged to attend.

Toys For Needy

Holiday Fire Safety Hints Are Noted

This is the second article on Fire Safety with regard to the Christmas Tree. These are suggestions that so many of us fail to observe. Louisburg Fire Department asks that the public please observe these this year and see if we can be more SAFE than in the past.

Christmas trees, decorative lighting, wax candles and combustible wrappings and decorative materials -- all increase the fire hazards in our homes at Christmastime. Here are some suggestions to keep in mind during the holiday season.

1. Tree should be freshly cut. (It is if needles stay on when you bounce the butt hard on the ground; if you cannot pull needles out of the end of the branches easily; if stump is sticky with resin.) It should stand in water from the time it is brought into the house until it is taken out. Set the tree away from radiators or fireplace, and never where it might block escape in case of fire. If you buy a plastic tree be sure it is marked as made of slow-burning materials. If your tree is metal, don't use lighting strings on it. Metal trees will conduct electricity, so use only indirect lighting.

2. Decorative lighting should be used with care. Check lighting strings before using for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets. Never use wax candles on or near the tree, or with polystyrene foam decorations. Make sure tree and other decorative lighting is turned off before the family goes to bed or leaves the house.

3. If you use polystyrene foam, cotton batting, paper and other combustible materials for decorations, make sure they are "Flame-proofed." Use metal, glass, and other noncombustible decorating materials if there is a choice.

4. Dispose of gift wrappings promptly. (It's unsafe to burn them in a fireplace.)

Subscribers OK Phone Service Plan

Wake Forest - A majority of Wake Forest telephone subscribers recently voted in favor of discontinuing long distance charges between that town and Raleigh.

H. T. Pitts, local manager for Carolina Telephone, has announced that a canvass recently conducted revealed that 79% of the subscriber's who participated in the survey voted in favor of the plan.

Nine hundred and forty-four subscribers in the Wake Forest exchange voted yes, 254 voted no, and 436 failed to return their ballots. The plan for discontinuation of long distance exchanges has been approved by the North Carolina Utilities Commission, and Carolina Telephone is proceeding with plans to put the service into effect. "This will give Wake Forest subscribers access to approximately 65,000 additional telephones on a toll-free basis. The new service requires installation of additional equipment and it will be approximately 18 months before this plan will become effective," Pitts concluded.
