

Mrs. Warren Club Hostess

Mrs. Woodrow Warren entertained members of her bridge club on Thursday evening at her home on North Main Street. Those playing were Mesdames E. C. Bulluck, K. K. Allen, John H. Hodges, B. B. Pruitt, Harold Talton, J. B. Wheless, B. L. Patterson and Mary F. Lumpkin.

Following several progressions, high score prize was presented to Mrs. Hodges while the consolation prize went to Mrs. Lumpkin.

A delicious dessert course was served at the conclusion of play.

Boarding Home Residents Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the residents of The Franklin County Boarding Home, sponsored by the Louisburg Garden Club, was held Tuesday afternoon.

Mesdames J. B. Wheless, F. L. O'Neal, Max Brown and I. D. Moon were hostesses, with the program in charge of Mrs. Doyle Medders.

The members all gathered in the main lounge and were served ice cream and cookies. Following this several games were played including Name Bingo. Prizes were given out and the door prize was won by Mr. Harper. It was a happy occasion for everyone.

Pope's Club Hears Of Yearbooks

(Frk. B.W.) Pope's Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. L. R. Ethridge on Friday afternoon in Franklinton.

Mrs. L. A. Thompson, Sr., president, was in charge of the devotionals. A financial report was given by Mrs. Ethridge. Miss Nellie Whitfield was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Frances Fuller was in charge of the demonstration, "Know Your Year Book." Mrs. Bernice Harris, assistant county home demonstration agent, accompanied Mrs. Fuller to the meeting.

In the Bible contest, which Mrs. Thompson conducted, Mrs. Harris was the winner. During the social hour, the hostess served fruit punch and cookies.

Local Band To Attend Festival

J. R. Watson, Director of the Louisburg High School Band, announced this week that the band has received an invitation to participate in the Azalea Festival at Wilmington on Saturday, April 4.

Watson stated that he feels that his band has been honored by the invitation, since this is the largest parade held annually in North Carolina.

In commenting on the band, he stated that the thirty-four band members and three majorettes who compose this year's band are making much progress and will make an able showing for the school and the town of Louisburg.

Plans are underway by the Band Boosters to raise the necessary funds to enable the Band to make this trip.

In College Play Princess Wears Overalls

"That's the first time I ever saw a Greek princess wearing overalls." This visitor to the Louisburg Players' rehearsal stage was grinning. Sure enough, the Greek princess was in overalls.

Antigone, princess of Thebes, daughter of Oedipus, was whirling through her paces attired in a suit of bib overalls, fetchingly rolled up over the ankles. Come to think of it, I suppose a princess can wear what she wants to wear.

But audiences at the January 30 - February 1 performances of ANTIGONE won't get to see the overalls. The princess will be wearing a neo-Greek red sheath then.

"Actually, there's no reason why she couldn't play it in overalls," we were told. "One mark of a great play is that it can be done in any honest and consistent costume. You see Shakespeare being done in authentic or Elizabethan or modern formal or modern informal dress. We are aiming for a universal costume style with ANTIGONE because that fits in with our interpretation of the play. Even the overalls might be appropriate, because in the play Antigone is trying to bury her brother's body and she has to do her own digging."

The attractive acting costumes are being designed by Mrs. Sally Versteeg.

It turned out that the rehearsal overalls were more in the line of protection than decoration. The Greek princess gets some rough treatment in the course of the play: she's dragged around by the guards, she's sent sprawling down the steps, and her "uncle" twists her arm and throws her down in a display of family affection. In rehearsing these scenes, the overalls served as armor against the rough floor.

I guess princesses don't like splinters any better than us commoners.

Receive Honors

Bettie S. Champion, Franklinton, was among the sixty-nine men and women who made the grade of "all A's" at East Carolina College for the fall quarter.

On the "Honor Roll," representing undergraduates who made at least two quality points per credit hour on all work taken with no grade below "C," were Connie Ann Radford, R#1, Castalia; Luther Gary Leonard and Ennis Gene Pleasants, both of R#2, Louisburg; and Peggy Morris Cash, Youngsville.

In Service

Maj. Robert M. Boyles II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Boyles, 1015 Ogden Ave., Elmira, N. Y., enrolled as a student in the associate course at the U. S. Army Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., early in January.

The four-month course, which is scheduled to end May 8, is designed to prepare selected officers for duty as commanders and general staff officers.

The college, the Army's senior tactical school, was established in 1881 as The School of Application of Infantry and Cavalry.

Major Boyles and his wife, Vennie, live on Route 3, Louisburg, N. C. He is a 1948 graduate of Elmira (N. Y.) Free Academy High School and attended Elmira College.

named Poppy Chairman.

Mrs. Tom East, program chairman, introduced Mr. W. P. Childers, chairman of the Franklin County Board of Commissioners. He gave an interesting as well as informative talk about Local Government.

The speaker outlined the duties of the commissioners. He stressed the importance of voting and also the importance of women being active in politics.

Teenage Chat

By Faye Rudd

Friday night Louisburg played Edward Best at Edward Best. Edward Best girls won 44 to 37, and Louisburg boys won 47 to 44. Gold Sand played Epsom with the results being that Epsom girls won and Gold Sand boys won. Tuesday night Youngsville plays Bunn at Bunn, Wakelon plays Louisburg at Louisburg, Franklinton plays Gold Sand at Gold Sand, and Rolesville plays Bunn at Bunn. Thursday night Louisburg College plays Richmond Frosh. at Richmond.

Louisburg College began again this week after a midterm break. Registration was Monday and classes began Tuesday. I know there are certain ones very glad to see them back.

Many teens were seen in Youngsville at Lake Donna this week end. Some of these were Al B., Ricky E., "Sheriff" W., Tommy B., Jeff and Gwynda B., Frankie R., Betty S., Phyllis J., Paullette M., Tommy P., "Flash" G., Danny R., Henry J., Bill C., Bo A., Billy D., Billy B., Phillip K., Roger K., Mary-Charles W., and Tony S.

Heard everyone had a "swinging" time. The Tassells will be there this Saturday night so all of you be sure to plan to go.

Word has it that Bo A. has a particular interest in Louisburg College especially from Scotland Neck. How about it, Bo?

Frankie R. wants to know why G. G. was being followed around all Sunday by a "Mayflower."

How about it, G. G.?

Some of the Louisburg teens attending other schools and colleges were home this past week end. Billy Bartholomew, Jack Drevett, Ann Huggins, Mary Charles Wheless, Bobby Beasley, Eddie Watson, and Peter Allen were home. We were all glad to see all of you. Peter A., we hope you are over the mumps.

Bobby M. and "Lightning" went horse back riding over the week end. What was that, Bobby, about the horse jumping?

The Louisburg Baptist Church Y.W.A.'s are meeting this Wednesday night at Phyllis Jeffrey's home. All of you members be sure to come.

At AAUW Linguistic Trends Cited

Mrs. James B. Clayton was speaker Monday evening at the meeting of the Louisburg Branch of the American Association of University Women held in the Faculty Lounge of the A-C Building at Louisburg College.

"Developments in Linguistics" was explored by Mrs. Clayton as the fourth topic on "Bridging the Gap between Science and the Layman." She made the new trends in teaching grammar on parts of speech become alive. Positions of words in sentences, accents, inflections and determinants indicate the part of speech a word is--noun, verb, adjective, or adverb--rather than the traditional definitions, as a verb shows action or a noun names something.

Proponents of linguistics believe its use will make the study of grammar much easier, Mrs. Clayton stated.

Through the new trends in Science, Biology, Mathematics, and Linguistics, members of the branch have somewhat bridged that gap that lies between this ever-changing world and the layman.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson, president, presided over the business meeting, during which copies of the amended by-laws were distributed and changes were noted by Miss Adelaide Johnson. Dr. Ann Blumenfeld reported on the Fellowship Fund and Interpreter's Service Program. A brief discussion of the sponsorship of the Girl Scout Program was heard and Mrs. H. H. Hobgood gave a report on Scout troops in Louisburg at the present time.

3 Generations Celebrate

Mr. M. E. Watkins, Sr., of Route 3, Louisburg, and his son, M. E. Watkins, Jr., of Goldsboro, and his granddaughter, Joy Watkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watkins of Louisburg all celebrated their seventy-fourth, forty-first and first birthday on January 20 at the home of Mr. Watkins, Sr.

After a delightful meal together with their families they enjoyed a three tiered cake baked in their honor.

big new V8 power big new self-adjusting brakes

CHEVY II by Chevrolet

You don't need a big car to get big performance. Not any more. You'll quickly see why when you check the '64 Chevy II. There are two new higher performance optional-at-extra-cost engines for you to pick from. One is Chevrolet's strapping 195-hp Turbo-Fire V8. The other is a new chrome-trimmed 155-hp Turbo-Thrift Six.

If you've got a mountain to climb or a truck to pass, these are the engines that can leave either one safely behind you. In fact, this new Chevy II packs a wallop everywhere but in your wallet.

New brakes match this power, too. Bigger, to dissipate heat faster. Self-adjusting, to save you money. Other easy-care features include Delco-tron generator and a fully aluminum muffler.

Chevy II is smartly styled outside, comfortable inside. There are a lot of models to choose from. A lot of extra-cost accessories to customize it just about any way you'd like. And a whole lot of fun to look forward to. At a very low cost. Test drive Chevy II at your Chevrolet dealer's soon. You'll like it!
