Hamlet Speaks To Lions

Mr. William Hamlet, the curator of the museum of natural history in Raleigh, addressed the Lions Club last Tuesday night. Mr. Hamlet, a North Carolina native and a graduate of State College, is also a present contributor of Wildlife Magazine.

Mr. Hamlet informed the club that the state museum is not one of research preservation and education. People working on advanced degrees utilize various sources there. For special study the museum exchanges many specimens with various people, other museums, and even other countries. The people who visit the museum do not realize it, but they only see about one eighth of the total specimens there. The remainder is behind the scenes.

As Talltwater Alex Wood promised from the previous meeting, he had Lion J. H. Talton, who recently claimed an extra tax reduction, pin a diaper on a baby pig supplied by Mr. Norwood Faulkner, the Franklin County Commissioner. All who witnessed the spectacle agreed it was a slick job without any wrinkles. Lion Talton entertained the entire group by performing the operation single-handedly and, believe it or not, with just one pin, not the usual two. Won't Lionness Talton be happy to hear that.

The plans are now definite to visit the Rehabilitation Center for the Blind at Butner on March 3. It is hoped that all Lions and Lionesses will plan to attend.

Tax Refunds Can Be Taken In Bonds

Taxpayers were reminded today of the plan allowing them to take Federal tax refunds in U. S. Savings Bonds.

Taxpayers due Federal Income Tax refunds can take them in Series E. Savings Bonds, cash, or apply the refund to next year's tax.

Allowing a taxpayer to choose between Savings Bonds and a check began last year. The Treasury had conducted a survey of taxpayers to determine their interest in a Savings Bond refund. A significant number of those questioned said they would take their tax refunds in Series E. Bonds if given the option.

The individual income tax forms--1040 and 1040A--provide a space in which taxpayers may elect U. S. Savings Bonds for their refunds. Information on the option also appears in the instructions for both of these forms.

With The Scouts

Rev. Pulley Speaks To Episcopal Group

The Reverend Frank Pulley addressed the Episcopal Churchwomen Monday evening on the topic "What Lent Can Mean to Us."

He pictured the bigness and the complexity of life; the bigness of the Church; the struggle of the individual man for survival, for the necessity of finding some meaning in existence, for the realization of and search for quality rather than mere quantity.

Having established this setting, the speaker emphasized the power of individual witness in carrying out the mission of Christ--working with souls, helping those who have failed.

Religion, the speaker pointed out, boils down to a battle between God's ego and that of the individual.

He especially stressed the importance of God-fearing homes and recommended as being good for everyone four principles of the church youth group: (1) Worship (2) Study (3) Fellowship (4) Service.

In closing, Reverend Pulley suggested the reading of the hymns of the Church and the psalms, citing particularly helpful ones; and he reminded his listeners of the words of Jesus when he said, "I must be about my Father's business." He suggested that each individual during Lent determine how he or she could be of greater service to the Church and act upon that decision.

During the business session, reports were given by Mrs. R. W. Smithwick, Mrs. Douglas House, Mrs. Herbert Scoggin, Mrs. Harrell J. Lewis, and Mrs. C. Willie Strother, who also read the minutes of the January meeting and led the devotions.

The group heard "Thank-You" messages from the Thompson Orphanage and from a mission in the Western part of the States. It also voted as a special project to make a donation to the Episcopal Radio-TV Foundation.
