Brother And Sister Enlistees

Melba Fuller is administered the oath of enlistment into the Womens Army Corps by 1st Lieutenant Mary J. Bennett in Raleigh. Observing the ceremony is Melba's brother, James Fuller, who enlisted in the Army on May 18. Melba left for the Womens Army Corp Training Center, May 4, after enlisting for training in the Army Medical Corps. James, following his sister's footsteps into the Army, enlisted for training in auto mechanics. Both James and Melba Fuller graduated from Bunn High School and took advantage of the U. S. Army's "Choice Not Chance" program. Persons desiring more information about the Army's "Choice Not Chance" program are encouraged to see Sergeant Edward Jameson in the National Guard Armory in Louisburg every Wednesday.
