

Epsom Lions Hold Ladies Night Thurs.

Ladies Night was held Thursday evening at the meeting of the Epsom Lion's Club in the Assembly Hall of the Liberty Christian Church.

Rev. Willis Joiner, pastor of Liberty Church and president of the Epsom Lions, presided at the dinner meeting.

The Men's Choir of the First Methodist Church of Henderson, under the direction of Mr. Hartwell Hight, returned thanks in song. Just before dessert they rendered a group of sacred songs. A quartet, selected from the choir, sang several numbers, some of which were on the lighter side and Mr. Hight sang "How Great Thou Art." Miss Rebecca Oakley, soloist, accompanied the choir in several selections. Mrs. Nella Holden was pianist.

The choir was composed of Messrs. E. C. Edwards, W. H. Stainback, Don C. Tuttle, Henry J. Lane, Billy S. Perryman, N. P. Moseley, Sam Brummitt, C. R. White, Billy Thorne, Gilliam Burleson, John Mabe, E. W. Holton, Billy Thompson, and leader Hartwell Hight.

Following the meal served by ladies of the community and the Epsom Fire Department, President Joiner entertained the group with stories of his experience.

The ladies were recognized as guests; also Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Faulkner, Sr., guests of the president, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Weldon, guests of Mr. B. M. Newman, and Misses Adelaide and Elizabeth Johnson, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Weldon.

Announcements of an antique show being sponsored by the Zebulon Lions and visitations of some of the Epsom members to other clubs were made.

Congratulations to Betty Jo Moore, Louisburg High School Homecoming Queen! The Homecoming Court was presented at half-time of the Louisburg-Oxford game on Friday night, and the queen was crowned at a dance on Saturday night.

Thanks to the cheerleaders for their fine work in planning and carrying through the parade and dance for homecoming. It was a big success!

Visiting Paulette Mullen and Trudie Gupton were Steve Everhart and Jerry Lewis from Carolina Beach. Nice seeing you here, boys. Understand Steve is moving to Winston-Salem this week. How do you feel about this, Paulette?

Another welcome visitor was Cookie Foreman of Wilmington. Cookie was visiting Kate Huggins this weekend. Glad to have you, Cookie, Kate, what were you so excited about at the bus station?

Students returning home from various colleges were Lee Allen, Bob Hobgood, Johnny Williamson, Bobby Mitchell, Dickie Yarborough, and Ben Williamson from Carolina; Danny Roberson from East Carolina; Susan McLemore and her roommate from Converse. Fred Cook and Phil Albino, both former Louisburg College students, were seen around town this weekend also.

Visiting Kaye Hall this weekend was Mike Chesson. Good to have you here, Mike. Come again soon.

Patricia Dement, Ford Perry, Kay Pittman, and Lewis Pleasants celebrated Saturday night with a good supper in Raleigh and an evening at the State Fair. I hear they really enjoyed it. Also at the fair on Saturday night were Linda Lloyd and Bill Cheatham who are attending East Carolina this year.

Didn't seem right to have a football game without the presence of Lou Roberson. Hope your red throat is all well now, Lou.
