

Democracy's Brightest Hour: Presidential Elections

By Clint Fuller

Part V

Hubert H. Humphrey

Two weeks from today, Americans will go to the polls to vote in what may be termed one of the most unusual Presidential Elections ever held. Four years ago, almost no one would have predicted that the two candidates now running would be the standard bearers. The tragic death of John Kennedy, of course, altered the course of the Democrats. They chose the obvious candidate, Lyndon Johnson. If another was ever mentioned, it escaped all the news media and the public. The Republicans, four years ago, had Richard Nixon; even though defeated, he ran a good race and was likely to be given another chance. California got him, when he was defeated for governor by Democratic Pat Brown. The GOP also had Nelson Rockefeller and Henry Cabot Lodge. Barry Goldwater, defeated soundly four years ago in his bid, was an unlikely prospect.

The fact that Goldwater was selected by the Republicans is, to a degree, a sign of changing times. Whether there has been enough change since 1960 to afford the GOP a victory in November is something one must wait to see. Whether a voter's preference lies with the Democrats or with the Republicans, they should know something about the men who are running. Here are their biographies:

Lyndon B. Johnson

Born near Johnson City, Texas, August 27, 1908. B. S. degree, Southwest Texas State Teachers College, 1930. Taught at Houston High School. Appointed Texas State Administrator, National Youth Administration, 1935. Elected to House of Representatives 1937, the Senate in 1948. Senate Minority leader, 1953-1954, majority leader, 1955-1960. Elected to the Vice Presidency, 1960, became President, Nov. 22, 1963, on the death of John Kennedy. Married Nov. 17, 1934, to the former Claudia Alta Taylor. The Johnsons have two daughters, Linda Bird and Luci Baines.

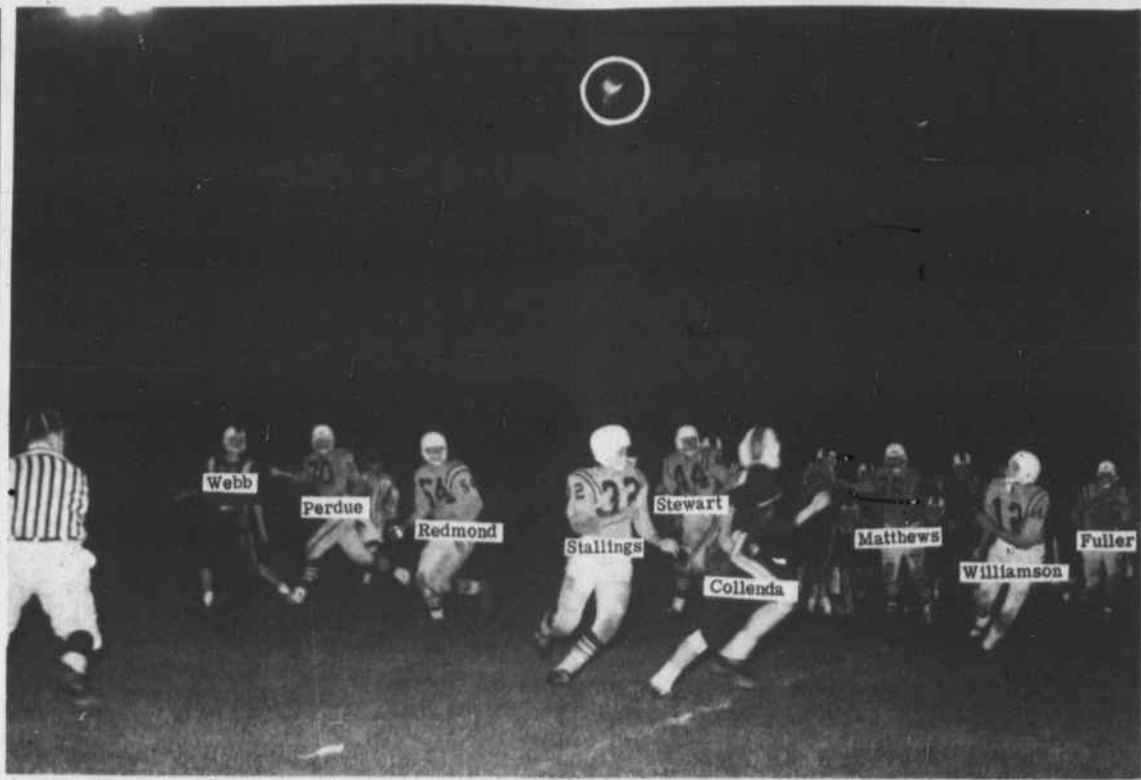

Born in Wallace, South Dakota, May 27, 1911. A. B. degree, University of Minnesota; M. A. degree, University of Louisiana. State of Minnesota Director, War Production Training, 1942; assistant director, War Manpower Commission, 1943. Professor, political science, Macalester College, 1943-44. Elected mayor of Minneapolis, 1945 and 1947. Elected to the Senate in 1948, 1954 and 1960. Senate Majority Whip, 1961 to present. American delegate to United Nations, 1956-57. Married Muriel Buck on Sept. 3, 1936. Four children: Nancy Faye, Hubert H., Robert Andrew and Douglas Sannes.

Barry M. Goldwater

Born in Phoenix, Arizona, January 1, 1909. Educated at Staunton Military Academy and one year at University of Arizona. Served as an executive of his family's department store. World War II service in Air Transport Command. Now Major General, Air Force Reserve. Elected to Phoenix City Council, 1949. Elected to the Senate in 1952, re-elected 1958. Married Margaret Johnson on September 22, 1934. Four children, Joanne Ross, Margaret Holt, Barry and Michael.

William E. Millier

Born in Lockport, N. Y., March 27, 1914. Educated at Notre Dame and the Union University Law School at Albany. Commissioned a first lieutenant in 1945, assigned to the Judge Advocate General's war-crimes section, was an assistant prosecutor at the Nuremberg trials. Elected District Attorney for Niagara County; in 1950 won election to the first of seven terms in U. S. House of Representatives. Became chairman of the Republican National Committee June 2, 1961. Married Stephanie Wagner on Feb. 26, 1943. Four children, Elizabeth Ann, Mary Karen, William, Jr., and Stephanie. Rams End Streak

The Franklinton Rams came to the end of their winning streak Friday night as they ran into a stubborn squad of Yellow Jackets at Warrenton. The Rams, heading for their first undefeated season, were tripped by John Coleman and the John Graham High School squad, 44-19.

Coleman scored three touchdowns and Charles Edmonds two to lead Warrenton to a 44-19 romp past previously unbeaten Franklinton here Friday night. Warrenton is now 5-1, Franklinton 6-1.

Edmonds scored both his TDs, the first from the seven and the second from the 16, in the opening period to help Warrenton, enroute to its fourth straight victory, take a 19-0 lead.

John Coleman's TDs came on runs of 85, 10 and eight yards. Johnny Mack Coleman, scoring from the three, and Elree Hilliard, counting from the seven, wrapped up the Warrenton TD procession.

Franklinton quarterback David Holmes passed for two touchdowns and fullback James Caudie plunged over from the one for the third.

Warrenton led 25-13 at half-time, and put the game well out of reach with a 19-point spurt in the final period.

The Visit

Filed in a small European town in Italy, this story concerns a pretty young girl (Ingrid Bergman) who might be described as being from the wrong side of the tracks.

Twenty-years later the rumor gets around that Miss Bergman has inherited millions from her husband's oil interests and is returning to the town of her childhood for the sole purpose of restoring the town to prosperity.

The great day dawns and the entire town turns out with "welcome banners" and prepared speeches, but secretly they are all scheming how they can get more than their share of her millions.

Before the fan-fare is over, it is evident she has other ideas and Anthony Quinn, a former admirer, is the object of her revenge. Whether you label it justice or injustice, Miss Bergman gets her revenge.

By nothing do man show their character more than by the things they laugh at.

Louisburg Loses Homecoming Game

Rain and Oxford Orphanage teamed together to dampen Louisburg's Homecoming festivities last Friday night as the Orphanage walloped the Bulldogs, 20-0.

Orphanage's Webb terminated a 46 yard drive when he plunged over from the two yard line for the first score in the first period. The extra point attempt failed. Gordon scored the second Oxford tally on an 11 yard ramp and Collenda passed to Dew for the extra point.

Stell scored the final touchdown on a 9 yard run and Collenda drop kicked the extra point.

The closest Louisburg was allowed to the Orphanage goal line was the 25 yard line as the Bulldogs were unable to get any sort of offense going. Oxford now has a 5-2 record and Louisburg has 1-3-1.

Hardest

It was a tavern where a newly-arriver commercial traveler was holding forth. "I'll bet anyone five dollars," he said, "that I have got the hardest name of anyone in this room."

An old farmer in the background shifted his feet to a warmer part of the fender. "Ye will, will ye?" he drawled, "well, I'll take ye on. I'll bet ye ten against your five that my name'll beat yours."

"Cone," cried the commercial traveler, "I've got the hardest name in the country. It is Stone."

The old man took a chew of his tobacco. "Mine," he said, "is Harder."

The truth is the last thing most people want to hear.
