

Poole, Lancaster Wed At Centerville

Miss Patricia Lancaster became the bride of Carl Stanton Poole of Raleigh at four o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Centerville Baptist Church. Rev. Eugene Owens of Wake Forest officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. James C. Lancaster, of Route 2, Louisburg and the late Mrs. Lancaster. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Poole, Sr., of Raleigh, N. C.

Mrs. Esley Manning, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. Mrs. Anne Owens, soloist, sang "Because" by D'Hordiat and "The Wedding Prayer" by Dunlop. The church sanctuary was decorated with floor baskets of white chrysanthemums, gladioli, and emerald fern interspersed with seven-branched candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight satin featuring a portrait neckline and long sleeves tapering to a point over the hands. Motifs of alencon lace, pearls, and sequins were embroidered over the bodice and bouffant skirt of which the widening back panel ended in a full chapel train. Her three-tiered veil of illusion was attached to satin leaves centered with pearls and sequins, complementing her dress. She carried a prayerbook topped with a white orchid and showered with stephanotis and satin ribbons.

Miss Pamela Lancaster was her sister's maid of honor. Mrs. Carolyn Gardner, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. They wore floor length dresses of lime green tu-tone pearl reembodyered peau, featuring the empire waistline, and cap sleeves of silk organza. The back bodice was caught with a chanel organza bow and a Peek-a-boo pleat was controlled in front of the sheath skirt by the side seams. Their headdress was a bow of matching chanel, organza covered embroidered peau and they carried cascades of green carnations and yellow daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Pat Poole, of Raleigh, cousin of the groom; Miss Susan Lancaster, of Louisburg, and Miss Esther Champion, of Norfolk, Va., both cousins of the bride; and Mrs. Carolyn Wright of Pantego, N. C. They wore identical attire as the honor attendants in daffodil yellow and carried cascades of yellow carnations and yellow daisies.

Honorary bridesmaids, Edie Courtney of Tampa, Florida, and Susan Poole of Raleigh, wore pastel party dresses and carried long stemmed white carnations.

Epsom HD Club Studies Vitamins

"Vitamins A & C, the Salad Way" was the topic of the Epsom Home Demonstration Club held in the home of Mrs. W. D. Foster.

Mrs. B. M. Newman, Food and Nutrition leader, gave the demonstration. She related the history of salads and told of the nutritional value of salads. She and Mrs. Foster made some ten different salads, meat, vegetable and fruit salads which were later used for refreshments along with ice tea.

Mrs. Willis Joiner gave an inspiring devotional using as her topic "Things God Has Left for Us."

The following leader reports were given: Home Beautification, Mrs. Joiner; Gardening, Mrs. B. L. Rowland; Community Service, Mrs. C. O. Eaves, Mrs. Mattie Grisom and Mrs. Wesley Pendergrass reported on Farm and Home Week.

Mrs. Joiner led the group in a contest on seasons.

Junior bridesmaids, wearing white organdy dresses and carrying nosegays of yellow daisies and yellow carnations, were Misses Gayle and Vann Poole, nieces of the groom.

Mr. Poole was his son's best man. Ushers were Jimmy Lancaster, brother of the bride; Charles Poole, brother of the groom; Donnie Griffin of Winston-Salem and Jerry Lancaster of Louisburg, cousins of the bride; David Livingston and Mike King of Raleigh.

Rodney Keith Lancaster, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer. Mrs. H. D. Griffin was mistress of ceremonies.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Florida. The bride chose for going away a suit of white faille with navy and white accessories. She wore the orchid lifted from her prayerbook.

The bride is a graduate of Gold Sand High School and attended Louisburg College and Hardbarger's Business School in Raleigh. She is presently employed by the Carolina Coach Co., Raleigh, as secretary. The groom is a graduate of Needham Broughton High School, Raleigh and is employed by the Athey Corporation of Wake Forest.

Cake Cutting and Rehearsal Parties

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Tyree Lancaster, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lancaster, aunts and uncles of the bride, entertained at a cake cutting and rehearsal party for members of the wedding party, out-of-town guests, and friends in the social hall of the church immediately following the rehearsal Saturday night.

A yellow and white color scheme was carried out in the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Leonard directed the guests to the dining room.

The bride's table was covered with a white organdy cloth with lace insertions over a green linen, which was draped at the ends and caught with green and yellow net tied with ribbons. An arrangement of white carnations and yellow daisies in a silver bowl was centered on the table. It was flanked by seven-branched silver candelabras bearing lighted tapers.

After the bride and groom had cut the first piece of their three-tiered wedding cake, Mrs. Margaret Poole, sister-in-law of the groom, served cake to the guests. Mrs. Bruce Poole poured punch from a crystal bowl. Assisting in serving mints, nuts, cheese straws, Butterfly Pastry shells filled with chicken salad were Mrs. Myrtle Bowman, Mrs. Annie M. Griffin, Mildred Ward, and Pat Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gardner presided over the bride's book. Mr. and Mrs. Tyree Lancaster said the goodbyes.

the sea. Scientists also know that some day we may have to 'farm' the sea for algae to feed the earth's growing population."

A child who wants to know about marine life can find many juvenile books on the subject.

There are many sea creatures he's likely to know, from snails to starfish. Others will stir his imagination, such as the coelacanth thought to be extinct for 60 million years but recently caught off the coast of Africa. He'll learn about seahorses, sea cucumbers and sperm whales.

Many marine books can be found at the counters of variety stores. The same stores often sell decorative fish of many kinds and equipment for raising them. The child who raises goldfish or guppies today could be the scientist of tomorrow who seeks new abundance in the seas around him.

Answered In Full

The busybody was pumping the local doctor about the recent demise of the town's richest man.

"You knew him well," she said and then coyly inquired: "How much of his wealth did he leave?"

With a tip of his hat, the old doctor replied: "All of it, madame, all of it."

It's good to have a slogan, but it is better to perform.

Teenage Chat

By Jean Zealand

A holiday at last, and many teens have plans to celebrate in style. The beaches will really be crowded this weekend with all the Fourth of July traffic and vacationers. Have a nice weekend, but be careful.

Kate Huggins is visiting Cookie Foreman at Wrightsville Beach this weekend. Know these girls are really having a blast.

Two of our local teens, Buddy O'Neal and Darrell Simmons, say they would really love to get some mail from all their friends at home. Buddy's address is 44 14th Street, N. E., Atlanta, Ga., 30309; and Darrell's is A. B. Darrell B. Simmons, AFB 14908724, FLT 688, Box 1508, Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, 78236. Buddy is attending night school and working part time. Darrell is spending some time in the Air Force. Why not write to them and tell them your summer activities?

Congratulations to Diane

Every child is fascinated by water at some stage of his life.

He may swim in the ocean, stroll along a beach, fish in the lake, skin dive in a tropical sea, take a boat trip on gulf or sound, and become curious about what he sees. The world is seventy-one hight and Kirby Holt who will be married this Saturday. We wish them all the luck and happiness in the world.

Seen in town on Wednesday were Jean Perry and Bill Barclay of Raleigh. Nice to see you around. Come again.

Beginning next week, this column will have a new author. I hope that you will help her report the news as you have helped me. I want to thank the teens who have reported their news to me, and also to my guest writers for helping me. I also wish to thank the people of The Franklin Times who have given me the opportunity to write this column. I appreciate the trust and the help they have given me. I have really enjoyed meeting the people of the county through this job. I wish everyone could have the opportunity.

To all of you, have a safe and wonderful summer.

per cent water and its mysteries fascinate young and old alike.

Scientists tell us that the future wealth of the world may be under water.

Ronald Rood, who wrote "The Sea and Its Wonderful Creatures" for Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin, points out some of the possibilities.

"Scientists know that if the salty sea water could be made fresh, people everywhere would have enough to drink, even in deserts. They know that there are many valuable metals and other substances dissolved in sea water, and scattered on the ocean bottom. Some day, someone will find the way to 'mine'

Entertains Bridge Club

Youngsville--Mrs. William H. Fleming entertained her Thursday night bridge club on June 24 at her home with two tables playing.

Lynn Fleming assisted her mother in passing tallies to the following members present: Mesdames A. N. Corpening, Turner E. Felton, Leelan A. Woodlief, R. E. Cheatham, J. T. Moss, Wiley Brown, J. H. Parrish, W. C. Timberlake and special guest, Mrs. Robert Ross, who visited during the evening.

Following the first progression of play, the hostess served a dessert course of lime treat and cookies. During play, guests enjoyed cheese puffs, coffee and Cokes.

After three progressions of bridge, high score prize for the evening went to Mrs. A. N. Corpening and Mrs. L. A. Woodlief received second high.

Running out of aprons? Sew yourself a colorful patchwork apron. Use remnants from piecegoods counters or old sewing projects. Cut blocks of fabric in assorted cotton prints, each about ten inches square, and seam together for an apron.

It's easy to make a cover-all apron for yourself from your husband's old cotton shirts. Remove the back of shirt by cutting outside the flat-fell seams. Outline with cotton bias tape and attach tape straps at the neck and ties at the waist.

When you clean out your closets for spring; put a small cotton scatter rug on the floor of each closet. It will be easier to shake dirt and lint from the rug than to clean the floor. The rug can be machine-washed when necessary.

If the children head for your new cotton upholstery with drippy ice cream cones, don't panic. Even if the upholstery doesn't have one of the stain-repellent finishes, the fabric is washable. To remove food stains from cotton upholstery fabric, first scrape off excess with a dull knife. Then gently rub area with a sponge dipped

Engagement Announced

SANDRA CAROL SHANNAHAN

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henry Shannahan of Route 2, Zebulon announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Carol, to John Lanneau Ramey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Franklin Ramey of Cary. The wedding will take place August 29.

In a mild-detergent solution. Wipe with a dry terry cloth towel.

"Towel" and "terry cloth" are synonymous because all-cotton terry cloth is the thickest of fabrics. Ideal for bath and kitchen drying chores. The high absorbency and durability of terry cloth are not affected by frequent launderings. And, like all cottons, terry cloth is easy to keep clean. White cotton terry towels can be washed in very hot water, as hot as 160 degrees. The black sleeveless sheath can be worn on various occasions. This little outfit can be dressed up or down with a host of accessories.
