

Prepare Ahead For Easy Summer Entertaining

Cool, Cool Chiffon Pie

The darling of dessert cookery is cool chiffon pie. It is a double winner for spring and summer menus because it delights family and guests alike and it is so simple for the hostess to make. Thanks to reliable, unflavored gelatine, chiffon pies require little cooking and always have a velvety, airy texture. Fruit Festival Pie involves a new technique of gelatine cookery. By combining icy-cold evaporated milk and hard-frozen concentrated lemon or limeade with gelatine, the pie takes less time to reach a firm consistency—it will set after about an hour in the refrigerator. Garnish the pie with sliced strawberries, peaches, or other fruits.

Fruit Festival Pie

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
- 1 1/2 cups cold water, divided
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 1 can (6 ounces) frozen lemonade or limeade concentrate, kept frozen
- 1 teaspoon almond extract
- 1 cup icy-cold evaporated milk*
- 1 9-inch crumb crust
- Sliced fruit

Sprinkle gelatine over 1 cup cold water in medium saucepan. Place over moderate heat; stir constantly until gelatine dissolves, 2 or 3 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in sugar and salt. Add undiluted frozen concentrate; stir until melted. Stir in remaining 1/2 cup water and almond extract. Whip chilled evaporated milk in small bowl of electric mixer on high speed until soft peaks form, about 2 minutes. Fold into gelatine mixture. Turn into crumb crust; chill until firm, about 1 hour. To serve, garnish with sliced fruit. Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

*To chill evaporated milk, pour into ice-cube tray and freeze until soft ice crystals form around edge, 12 to 15 minutes.

To delight a young cowpoke, make a broomstick hobby horse. For the horse's head, use a heavy cotton work sock; stuff with cotton batting. Tie securely around one end of cut-off broomstick. Add button eyes, corduroy scraps for mouth and ears. Make horse's mane with yellow cotton yarn, and use black shoestrings for halter, and reins.

Perfect Summer Fare

As the weather warms, take life easy when it comes to preparation of food. In the cool of the mornings, make the foods that have to be baked—cakes and cookies, for example. It's wonderful to have such desserts all ready for serving when the sun is high and hot. Use the cookies to accompany chilled fruits for dessert—so simple, so satisfying. The cookies pictured here are crisp, well-flavored and delicious, made with new peanut butter flavor chips.

Peanut Butter Chip'n Raisin Cookies

- *Or use 1/2 cup vegetable shortening.

Cream butter until soft. Add sugars, egg, and vanilla and beat until light and fluffy. Blend in flour, soda, and salt. Stir in chips and raisins. Drop from teaspoon, about 2 inches apart, onto ungreased baking sheets. Bake at 375 degree for 8 to 10 minutes, or until lightly browned. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

GIRLISH—The shift takes a dainty white cotton bib for summer's feminine mood. Delicately tucked and edged in lace, it adds pleasing contrast to the Pepperell blue denim style. By Villager.

Occasionally a child has to stay in the hospital. There are many ways to bring him cheer.

Today many hospitals recognize that a child adjusts more easily to hospital routine if a parent can spend some time with him and engage him in familiar activities.

The right pastime can reassure and refresh a child. A youngster, like an adult, often prefers a simple diversion to small talk. Of course, a doctor's word is law so that play won't be tiring.

Children's card games such as Authors can be pleasant, quiet pursuits for a visiting hour. Tick-tack-toe can be played on magic slates. Cutting out paper animals and standing them up is restful.

Punch-out and sticker-fun books please most children. It's a good idea to bring along a brown paper bag and a safety pin. The bag, pinned to the mattress, is a handy wastebasket for scraps of paper.

"A diary is often welcomed by a child in the hospital even if he never kept one before," points out John Rocknowski of Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin. "He can keep notes on meals, visitors, names of doctors and nurses, and feel more an active part of his surroundings. His family can add notes about home activities.

Some children who have to put in time in sick-bay enjoy books. There are biographies of great doctors written for youngsters and stories about nurses and how they train and work.

A surprise a day helps the hours fly. A batch of small materials can be wrapped and dated so that he opens one each morning. The present may be a card signed by his class, an I.O.U. for a trip to the ball game, a box of crayons and some sketch paper, a story book.

Small entertainments, scaled to his needs, can do much to smooth his day, strengthen his confidence, and make him feel fully at ease in new surroundings.

Character is what makes individuals do more than law requires.

INVITING—If you're a hostess with a flair for the unusual, let your table decor reflect your personality. Give napkins an unusual fold like the Continental (above) and use them in a bright shade of raspberry pink against a Nile green cloth. Choose vat-dyed cotton cloth and napkins so colors will stay bright and fresh through many washings.

In Fashion Now

A special favorite this season is the frock or suit of white lace. Those made of cotton and nylon are very pretty. Others may be fashioned of knitted wool or of some of the new yarns. The lace dress with jacket is smart.

South American influence is being shown in resort clothes. Gayly colored prints, checks and stripes are on display in shops. Bare shoulders or one shoulder bare are seen on evening frocks.
