

At Cypress Creek

Bartholomew, Shearon Speak Vows

A ceremony at four o'clock Sunday at the Cypress Baptist Church united in marriage Miss Alice Rose Shearon and Mr. Wayne Perry Bartholomew.

Rev. Coleman Thomas, the bride's pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shearon of Spring Hope, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bartholomew of Louisburg.

The church sanctuary was decorated with emerald palms and candelabra holding burning tapers. Baskets of white mums and yellow daisy chrysanthemums were included in the altar decorations.

Mrs. Billy Stallings, pianist, presented a program of wedding music. Soloist for the wedding was Mrs. Grace Hawks of Spring Hope. She sang "Through the Years" by Youmans, "Whither Thou Goest" by Singer, and "The Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white silk peau de sole and reembroidered Alencon lace, made by her mother. The empire bodice of lace featured a scoop neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the hand. Tiny self-covered buttons were used on the back of the dress and on the sleeves. The peau de sole skirt was "A" line in shape. Her applied train fell gracefully from a soft bow at the back waistline into full chapel length. Her headpiece was a cluster of cabbage roses securing a ballerina-length veil of silk illusion. The bride carried a bouquet of roses, stephanotis and an orchid showered with satin ribbons.

Miss Phyllis Stallings, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a formal-length gown of mint green peau de sole featuring an empire lace bodice, a scoop neckline and an "A" line skirt. The back of the dress was designed with a pleated panel which fell from a flat bow. She wore matching green shoes and her headpiece was a single cabbage rose. Her bouquet was a fan of yellow daisy chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Wanda Bartholomew, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Donald Shearon, cousin of the bride. Their attire was identical to that of the maid of honor.

Miss Cathy Murphy, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a white pinafore over a yellow organdy dress. Ring bearer was Gary Gaye, cousin of the bride.

Mr. James Bartholomew, cousin of the groom, was best man. Ushers included Mr. Nelson Shearon, brother of the bride, and Mr. Rex Murphy, friend of the groom.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a pink eyelet dress with matching shoes and hat. The groom's mother wore a navy blue silk dress also with matching accessories. They both wore white carnations.

Mrs. Wilson Gaye, maternal grandmother of the bride, wore a navy dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Earl Mallison of Spring Hope was Mistress of Ceremonies.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple, along with the wedding party, met guests in the vestibule of the church.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Edward Best High School and will attend Hardbarger Business College in the fall.

The groom is also a graduate of Edward Best High School and is now employed with A. Schraders in Wake-Forest.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home at 1939 Bernard Street, Raleigh, N. C.

Showers

On August 7 a miscellaneous shower was given in the Saints Delight Community for Miss Alice Rose Shearon, bride-elect.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Roy Overton, Hattie Swanson, Mildred Bartholomew and Herman Bartholomew. The bride-elect was given a cup and saucer in her chosen pattern. A color scheme of green and white adorned the table.

Mrs. Robert Shearon and Mrs. George Bartholomew served punch. Miss Wyvette Davis presided at the guest book.

On August 14, the couple was given a floating shower at the Cypress Parsonage by Mesdames Avery Stallings, Ruffin Wheeler, C. M. Moore and C. E.

Mrs. Whitfield Entertains

(Frk. B.W.) Mrs. J. E. Whitfield entertained her Canasta Club on Wednesday evening. Nasturtiums and roses decorated her home.

Mrs. Charlotte Pearce received high score prize. Mrs. B. J. Conyers received high score prize and also the traveling prize.

Mrs. S. O. Wilder was the recipient of guest high.

During the progressions, the hostess served a fruit drink. At the conclusion of play, ice cream and cookies were served. Miss Nellie Whitfield assisted with serving.

Special guests were Mrs. S. O. Wilder and Mrs. L. L. Wilder.

FHA Members Attend Camp

(Frk. B.W.) Future Homemakers of the Franklin Chapter attended Leadership Camp at White Lake last week. Those attending were Jean Merritt, Sandra Huff, Patricia Mitchell and Linda Williams. They were accompanied by their advisor, Mrs. Ialeen Mode.

During the week the girls participated in Leadership Groups designed to promote the New 1965-1970 Program of Work of the National Future Homemakers of America.

'Christmas In August'

It was "Christmas In August" for the Sunbeam Bands at the Youngsville Baptist Church on Sunday, August 22. The Primary Band, led by Mrs. Alice Roberts, and the Beginner Band, led by B. J. Mullen, met jointly at the church for the special Christmas program. Mrs. J. T. Moss and Mrs. Hazel Haley are the other two Sunbeam leaders who meet regularly with the Sunbeams on the second and fourth Sundays of each month.

Each Sunbeam placed a Christmas gift under a decorated Christmas tree. Christmas Carols were sung and offerings were dropped into a Christmas stocking. During the activity period handwork was related to the theme for the meeting. A mission story about Nigeria was told and discussed. The gifts brought by the Sunbeams will be sent by the leaders to a chosen mission field for distribution at Christmas. Refreshments of cookies and drinks were served at the Christmas party.

Children present were: Primaries—Larry Woodlief, Robin Holmes, Billy Moss, Raney Edwards, Tony Walden, Eric Walden, Tommie Dement, and Jan Roberts; Beginners—David Moss, Lynn Fleming, Kelly Corpening, Mary Lu DePorter, Charlotte Woodlief, Gregory Walden. Also in attendance was WMU Pres. Mrs. R. E. Cheatham.

Minister Robbed

San Francisco -- Reverend Merle Booth has appealed to the thief who robbed his car to return two Bibles, lifelong possessions, saying: "I'm sure they are of no financial value to the finder unless, of course, he reads them and gets converted."

H. B. Shearin, Edith Shearin Wed

MRS. H. B. SHEARIN

Miss Edith Shearin became the bride of Mr. H. B. Shearin, Jr., on Thursday evening, August 19, in the Louisburg Baptist Church. Reverend Aubrey Tomlinson performed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Reubin I. Shearin, Jr., of Macon, North Carolina. The bride attended East Carolina College at Greenville and is now employed by the law firm of Yarborough and Jolly of Louisburg.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Shearin, Sr., of Route 2, Louisburg, and is now employed by Home Oil Company of Louisburg.

The couple entered the church together, unattended. The bride wore a street length off-white linen dress. Her short veil of silk illusion was attached to a cluster rose and she wore a white orchid.

Only close friends and relatives attended.

Useful Tips About The Home

The utility room is definitely an important part of new houses. Women agree that there must be a place in the home where the washer and dryer can be operated with allied activities, such as ironing and sewing.

Most women ask for separate laundry units, a built-in ironing board and a pair of porcelain tubs that can be used to hand-wash certain articles, defrost large items such as twenty-five pound turkeys, arrange cut flowers and even bathe a baby.

The utility room, we are told, should be at least 10 by 12 feet, located next to the kitchen and have a door leading to the backyard. It should be decorated attractively so that a woman will want to work there.

It is a very good idea for the utility areas to have separate electrical circuits so that the washing machine and toaster can be operated simultaneously without fear of blowing a fuse.

The placement of electrical outlets brought heavy criticism from one group of women. The practice of placing outlets above baseboard level in rooms other than the kitchen and the bathroom was once frowned upon by many women. Convenience should be the rule in the utility room.

Outdoor living areas are extremely important to the modern family life. However, the tendency to ignore the importance of a utility yard, that is planned with the same thought and effort as the garden, is always a mistake in a family yard.

A recent survey showed the swimming pool was not favored by the majority of homemakers as a backyard fixture. The main reasons given were safety factors and loss of too much yard area.

Right now most of us are trying to keep cool. There are several things about what makes you warm or cool that you may not know.

The thermometer, itself, has very little to do with summer heat. High humidity and lack of air circulation are more important.

It is said that under average conditions—when the air is not too moist or too dry—a four or five mile-an-hour breeze will do as much for your comfort as a seven degree drop in temperature.

Humidity is probably the most important single factor in keeping cool. When the humidity is high, the air does not absorb moisture quickly.

When the humidity is low, the air can evaporate perspiration quickly and, as it does so,

Prayer Service

Rev. Norman Parrish from the Spanish-American Inland Mission will be the guest speaker at the regular Wednesday night Prayer Service at the Union Gospel Tabernacle Wednesday night.

We invite you to come out and worship with us and share some of the experiences of this man of God who has been on the mission field for over twenty-five years.

Jobe Overton, Pastor

It cools us.

When you want to cool yourself and your home on a hot day, start by making the air circulate. If necessary, manufacture a breeze with electric fans. The best type of fan, for late afternoon and evening use, is an installation in the attic. Large circulating fans which stand on the floor do an excellent job of cooling.

Complete air-conditioning enables you to control the temperature, humidity and the circulation of air. This combination provides complete comfort.
