

Before The Market Closes

Trucks loaded with tobacco wait in line here Monday with their owners hoping to get the leaf on the warehouse floor and sold before the markets close for a full-week holiday beginning Wednesday. Congestion at company redrying plants is the reason given for the closing.

Week-Long Tobacco Market Holiday Starts Wednesday

Local tobacco warehouses will join markets throughout the flue-cured tobacco area Wednesday and begin a week-long market holiday. The holiday was ordered by the ten-man Sales Committee of the Bright Belt Warehousemen's Association in a special meeting last Friday in Raleigh.

Markets will open again next Wednesday, September 29, and operate on a full 5 1/2 hour selling schedule, according to reports. Selling time had been curtailed to 4 1/2 hours per day in the hope that this measure would ease congestion at company redrying plants. It was when this action plus two one-day holidays failed to ease the congestion that the Committee ordered a full-week closing. The Louisburg Market recorded its highest average since opening day with sales of last Thursday and Monday of this week totaled together. Sales Supervisor William Boone reported an average of $61.77 for the two days.

The local market sold 697,232 pounds for the two days for $439,688.39 to register the higher average. Averages for the entire seven days of sales thus far this year are all above $60 with the seven-day average being $61.36.

The market has sold 2,349,406 pounds of leaf in the scattered seven sales days beginning on Wednesday and Thursday of the first week, four days last week and Monday of this week. The amount brought $1,437,862.16.

Throughout the Middle Belt Monday, prices rose $1-$2 per hundred on better quality and heavy volume. The percentage of nondescript was the smallest of the year, and the amount of smoking leaf was the largest.

Brewer Again Heads County ASC Committee

E. G. Brewer of the Cedar Rock Community was reelected as Chairman of the County ASC Committee in the convention held here last Friday. Elected to serve with Brewer were: C. C. Perry, Vice-Chairman, Sandy Creek Community, and B. T. Bunn, Harris Community.

The Committee was elected by delegates to the county convention, who themselves were recently elected in their communities in balloting sent in to the ASC Office here.

Brewer points out that the ASC county and farmer-committees are in charge of local administration of such national farm programs as the Agricultural Conservation Program, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, acreage allotments and marketing quotas, the National Wool program, the Sugar program, commodity price-support loans, and storage facility loans.

Other ASC Office announcements, made by John R. Davis, office manager, are as follows: ACP: Producers who have not participated in the 1965 Agricultural Conservation Program are encouraged to stop by the ASGS Office in Louisburg and find out more about these government programs. Government assistance is available to help producers establish the following practices: Winter Cover, Fescue in Crop Rotation, Permanent Pasture, and Lime on Eligible Farmland.

Marketing Quotas: It appears that some producers do not fully understand how their 1965 tobacco marketing quotas will be effected if they undersell or oversell their 1965 quota. Present regulations provide that if a producer fails to sell the farm quota, he will be permitted to add his under marketings to the 1965 quota.

The allotment will also fluctuate accordingly, for example: if a producer has a 1965 tobacco allotment of 3.0 acres and a marketing quota of 6000 lbs. and sells only 4000 lbs., the 1966 quota would be 8000 lbs. and 4.0 acres allotment. All pounds marketed over the 1965 quota will be deducted from the 1966 quota.

If a producer gives or sells tobacco to another producer and is sold on a card issued for a farm other than the farm from which it was produced, a violation will exist and allotments are subject to reduction.

Rescue & Fire Calls

Louisburg Rescuers and Firemen answered four calls during the past few days, none of which was very serious in nature. The Rescue Service answered its first of three calls around 11 a.m. last Saturday to the home of C. Willis Perry, Jr., on the Henderson Road.

An unidentified Negro youth, mowing in a nearby yard with a rotary mower, had severely mangled his foot when it became caught in the whirling blade. Rescue Chief V. A. Peoples reported that the youth was taken first to Franklin Memorial and later to Duke Hospital. Peoples said he understood that the boy's heel had been severely cut.

Rescuers traveled to Harris Crossroads around 7 p.m. Saturday to aid Tommy Black, n/m, who had been involved in a cutting incident. The victim was taken to the local hospital for treatment.

Around 4 p.m. Sunday, the Service answered a call to the Bunn Prison Camp to aid a 49-year-old woman, identified as Viola Powell of Delco, N. C. The woman had suffered a fainting spell while visiting the prison, according to reports.

The Louisburg Fire Department answered a call to a car fire on Justice Street Monday around 5:30 p.m. The blaze was quickly extinguished and minor damage was reported.
