$20,000 In Christmas Club Checks Go Out

Almost $20,000.00 has entered the local economy this week in the form of Christmas Savings Club checks which were mailed last Monday by the local banks. The three county branches of First Citizens Bank & Trust Co. report a total of $19,185.50 has been sent to Christmas savers. The Louisburg office reports the largest amount, $14,000.00, while Franklinton mailed checks totaling $4,285.50. Bunn, in its third year, sent out $900.00. Franklinton started its Christmas Savings Club in 1958 with 20 accounts, totaling $1,388.00. This year there were 57 accounts dividing the $4,285.50. According to a study made by the Christmas Club, a corporation in New York, it is estimated the mofey will be spent in the following manner: Thirty-eight percent will be used for Christmas purchases; 31 percent will go to savings and investments; 13 percent will pay local and federal taxes; six percent will be used to clean up year-end bills, and 12 percent will be used for miscellaneous expenditures. According to this, local merchants in the three-town area will expect to benefit from Christmas purchases amounting to $7,290.49 from this source. In Louisburg, 38% will amount to $5,320. Franklinton's share of its total will be $1,628.49, and Bunn merchants may expect $342.00. Actually, it is believed that most local savers spend a much larger percentage of the club checks than the thirty-eight recorded nationally. There were no reports from the fourth banking facility in the county, the Youngsville Branch of Durham Bank and Trust Co.

Thompson continued, "Education is first. It is the key to community development. And second is plain, pure, simple hard work. I know of no substitute for plain simple elbow grease." He pointed out that it was the "pioneer spirit" which developed this country and made it great.

He closed by saying, "Strength, not weakness, is the hallmark of Freedom." J. M. Ammons of Raleigh was re-elected as Association President, and John B. Rep. James Speed Says:

"Legislature Voted Against Wishes Of The People"

Franklin County Representative James D. Speed stated this morning that the "Legislature acted against the wishes of the people" in passing the amendment to the Speaker Ban Law this week. Speed voted against Speed stated, "Although the legislature voted to amend (practically kill) the Speaker Ban Law in the special session this week, I joined the forces which opposed any change in the law." Speed voted for the law when it was passed by the 1963 General Assembly and made it a point in his campaign for reelection. He has continued to defend it as a "good law" and he stated, "I stuck by my promise until the final fight was over." Speed said many legislators who made campaign promises in favor of the law, later joined forces with those seeking its amendment or repeal. "Many Franklin County people contacted me about the Speaker Ban Law," Speed said, "and a high majority expressed a strong desire to keep the law as it was. There were a few who were in favor of a repeal but the ratio ran about 9 to 1 against any change. Indications point that statewide public sentiment ran better than 3 to 1 in favor of the law being left as it passed by the 1963 session."

Fuller Answers Times' Editorial

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a letter from Mr. Walter E. Fuller, Director of Water Resources of North Carolina, in answer to an Editorial appearing in the Tuesday, November 16 issue of the Franklin Times. The Editorial dealt with the recent request by Governor Dan Moore for Fuller's resignation from the state post.

Dear Editor: You are requested to and I hope you will find justification for publishing this letter in your next column to the editor. Your news report of Nov. 16 edition quote, "Fuller, who has held the reins of political power in Franklin County for many years," was flattering though I fear a little far-fetched, in light of the fact that Hon. Terry Sanford, my candidate for Governor in 1960, was soundly defeated in Franklin County in both the first and second Democratic primaries and again in 1964 in the first primary the candidate of my choice and the present Governor both combined received considerably fewer votes than the favored candidate of the "people of Franklin County."
