

Sixtieth Anniversary Open House Planned

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. (Sank) Wilder will be honored on their 60th Wedding Anniversary on Saturday, November 27, by their children at an Open House at their home at "Cedar Rock," Route 1, Castalia. Relatives and friends are invited to call between the hours of two and eight p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilder are both life-long residents of this area. They have seven living children. Three sons, David Lee, Raymond and Hubert, reside in the Cedar Rock Community, while a fourth, William Greenwood, lives at New London. There are three daughters: Mrs. Ruth Barbee of Raleigh, Mrs. Bobby Strum of Burlington, and Mrs. J. Kendall Betts of Glassboro, New Jersey. The Wilders have nine grandchildren.

A buffet is planned for the Open House on Saturday, and a Hymn Sing will follow in the evening.

Teenage Chat

By Mary Ann Fleming

The Louisburg seniors, who spent most of their lunch periods last week finishing the remainder of the barbecue from their last money-making project, are now selling Rex. This is a very useful product that will clean rugs, windows, cars, and almost everything else.

At Friday's assembly at activity period, Gwendy Bulluck was formally inducted into the Louisburg Beta Club. The other members who participated in this program were Jo Ann Hale, Jane McKinne, Mary Ann Fleming, Emma Ruth Bartholomew, Phyllis Jeffreys, Sara Collier, Fran McFarland and Connie Leonard.

The Dramatic Club's production of "Flashback" was also presented Friday night. Members of the cast were Billy De-ment, Roger Kornegay, Phyllis Jeffreys, Jo Ann Wolozin, Sheila Latta, and Mike Fuller. Judy Capel and Nancy Mitchiner handled the props. Casting for their next play, "Mary, Mary," will be December 1.

The ball games throughout Franklin County Tuesday night are Dabney at Epsom; Middlesex at Bunn and Youngsville at Middleburg. The Louisburg and Franklinton basketball teams have finally begun their practice.

The Louisburg Future Homemakers had their Mother-Daughter Banquet Tuesday night at The Murphy House. "Treasures of a Good Homemaker" was their theme.

Canasta Club Entertained

(Frk. B.W.) Mrs. L. R. Ethridge entertained her Canasta Club Wednesday evening. Her home was decorated in the Thanksgiving motif. A lovely arrangement of bronze roses adorned her dining room table.

Mrs. Charlotte Pearce received high score prize and also the floating prize. Mrs. B. J. Conyers was the recipient of second high. Guest high went to Miss Inez Fuller.

During the progression, the hostess served a fruit punch. At the conclusion of play, a dessert course and coffee were served.

Special guests were Miss Fuller and Miss Kathleen Rowe.

Mrs. Stewart Gives Circle Program

Note: This article was held over from Thursday because of lack of space.

The Onnie T. Perry Circle of the Louisburg Baptist Church met with Mrs. W. L. Lumpkin Tuesday morning, November 16. Delicious refreshments were served the eleven members on arrival. We welcomed one new member, Mrs. W. D. Florence.

Mrs. Frank Read, Jr., presided over the business meeting. New Yearbooks were distributed to those present. The members voted to remember at Thanksgiving those from Franklin County at Dorothea Dix Hospital and O'Berry Center at Goldsboro. Plans were made to send fruit baskets to the shut-ins.

The Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions was announced for November 28-December 4, and the Mission Study Class will be on Monday night, December 6.

Mrs. Paul Stewart gave a most interesting program entitled "My Church—Hearing and Obeying." The meeting was closed by the joining of hands and praying together the Lord's Prayer.

If you take the name-calling out of some writing there is not much left.
