Views "Fashion In Bloom" Show

The Home Economics II Class presented "Fashion In Bloom" as the program for the Youngsville P.T.A. Meeting Thursday night. The girls chose styles ranging from the very casual to the highly tailored. Their colors truly carried out the theme "Fashion In Bloom." They used the whole gamut of materials from the sheer dacrone to the heavily textured llnens.

Mrs. John Matthews, Mrs. Laleen Mode and Mrs. Sarah Whitfield were judges.

They chose Debbie Brown as 1st place winner. She modeled a three-piece outfit which consisted of a boxy, scooped neck coat and A-line skirt in aqua textured hop-sacking. Her blouse and coat lining were of matching floral dacron. Her accessories were in white.

Donna Privette won 2nd place. She wore a light blue hop-sacking dress and jacket. Donna's accessories were also in white.

Linda Winston was 3rd place winner. She modeled a burnt orange suit and matching floral blouse. Her shoes and bag were black patent, while her straw rolled-brimmed hat matched her suit.

Jo Ann Frazier, Pam Gilliam, and Linda Stroud presented a skit before the fashion show. Linda Cash, Janet Lloyd, Patsy Alford, and Debbie Roberts were ushers.

Mrs. Pearce was presented a carnation corsage by the Home Economics II Class. They also presented the judges with corsages.

Her father asked his prospective son-in-law if he could support a family, and we have to admire the young man's answer--"No, sir, I was only planning to support your daughter. The rest of you will have to take care of yourselves."

Herringbone tweed makes a smart coat--others come in bright colored plaid wool. The slim dress with the coat is a feature of the spring season.

Blazer jackets are favorites with teenagers. They are particularly good with stovepipe pants or slacks. They come in solid colors with binding or in stripes. Double-knit material is favored and some jackets have silver buttons.

There's truth in the saying, "You can't teach an old dog new tricks." Trainers find that dogs more than two years old rapidly lose their ability to learn.

CURING TOBACCO . . . "Flue-Cured"

Much flue-cured tobacco shows curing faults. These include brown scald, green scald, sponge, scorch, dead tissue, swell stems, barn rot, etc. You can reduce or eliminate most of these curing faults with proper ventilation and temperature adjustments during the curing process. Barns must have suitable bottom and top controlled or adjustable ventilators. Heat and moisture are controlled by proper and timely adjustment of ventilator openings and temperature controls . . . The best curing equipment you can use is the
