Dean Farms To Start Construction Of New Building

Announcement was made Wednesday by J. Jackson Dean, president of Dean Farms, a Franklin County industry, that construction is to begin within the next thirty days on a massive new building to house the company's operation.

W. J. Benton, county Industrial Development Director, reported that the land for the new building was purchased from the Franklin Building Corporation. J. H. Talton, president of the corporation signed the contract with Dean Wednesday.

James Alford, Road Maintenance Supervisor with the N. C. Highway Commission, said work is expected to get underway soon on an access road to the plant site. Alford stated that approval of funds is expected to come in the June meeting of the Commission.

Dean said he was not sure just when the building would be completed but indicated that work was to start as soon as possible within the next thirty days.

Dean Farms is now located in a former school building in Cedar Rock Township where it has grown from a two-man operation to its present size, employing around forty people. More employees are expected to be added when the new plant opens.

Dean moved an estimated 74,880,000 eggs last year and did just under $3 million gross business. Dean Farms operates eight trucks, which log as much as 11,000 miles in one week.

Dean and plant manager and vice president Harris Spencer are both Franklin County natives. Dean began the operation in a spare room on his father's farm while a student in college. Spencer joined him shortly after the business started. Together, they have increased the output from 300 cases a week to the present 4,000 cases per week. These are distributed in a number of states along the east coast. The Winn-Dixie food store is the company's largest outlet. The new 23,000 sq. ft. building will contain enlarged refrigeration space and provisions for future expansion into liquid egg production.

Holiday Reminder

An increased flow of vehicles heading toward the mountains and seashore over the long Memorial Day Weekend will create additional traffic hazards that may claim the lives of at least 20 persons in accidents on North Carolina's streets and highways, the N. C. State Motor Club warns.

The official holiday highway fatality count will extend a period of 78 hours from 6 p.m. Friday, May 27, through midnight Monday, May 30. The 1965 traffic toll was 16 killed and 529 injured in 760 accidents during a similar period. Leading driver violations reported were: speeding, 182; driving left of center, 129; failure to yield right of way, 105; reckless driving, 83; and following too closely, 69.

The motor club bases its estimate on past experience of motorists during holidays coupled with current driving and fatality patterns, said Thomas B. Watkins, president of the club and the National Automobile Association.

"Since Memorial Day traditionally marks the opening of the summer vacation season, increased congestion on the highways will greatly increase danger of accidents and pose problems of safety, convenience and patience," Watkins said. "So heed the good driving rules. Be alert and considerate--and be safe."

Mrs. E. J. Pearce Is Woman Of Year

Youngsville--A highlight of the Youngsville Woman's Club banquet was the presentation of the silver bowl to the Club-woman of the Year. This distinguished honor went to Mrs. E. J. Pearce.

Mrs. Pearce is a charter member who has served in many ways over the years. Particularly in the past year she has spent much time with the young people; partly as assistant leader of the Cadette Girl Scout Troop which has held weekly meetings throughout the year. She was previously active in Brownie scouting from 1952-62. In addition to current scouting she is the Troop Consultant for all local troops sponsored by the Woman's Club. She has also worked with the young people as a member of the Teenage Club chaperone committees for the past year.

From 1960 to the present she has served as Woman's Club Treasurer. In this responsible capacity she not only handles all club finances but works closely with all committees in planning projects and special club activities.

Mrs. Pearce has an excellent attendance record and participated in all phases of clubwork such as routine committee assignments, special events, and fund raising drives.

From 1955-56 she was Corresponding Secretary of the club; in 1956-57 was Yearbook Chairman and 1960-61 was Community house chairman.

Mrs. Pearce is an active member of the Baptist church where she serves as Financial Secretary. She is a member of the PTA, sharing her responsibilities there as well as in other civic affairs. She is local registrar.

Mrs. Pearce and her husband, who is also an active citizen, are parents of twin teenage daughters. In addition to being a parent and homemaker Mrs. Pearce is employed at the Wake Weekly office in Wake Forest.

J. W. Boone
Chairman Board of Elections Franklin County

Franklin County voters will go to the polls Saturday, in what is expected to be record numbers, to elect a county Sheriff, a Solicitor, two county Commissioners and two county School Board members. Local voters will also cast their ballots to name two N. C. House members from the newly formed 16th District of Franklin, Vance and Warren Counties.

Seeking the office of Sheriff are incumbent Joseph W. Champion and Louisburg Police Chief William T. Dement. Both have conducted vigorous campaigns.

In the race for Solicitor, incumbent W. H. (Jack) Taylor is opposed by Louisburg attorney Charles Davis.

A four-way race for county Commissioner exists in District 5, Louisburg-Cypress

Creek Townships. Incumbent Norwood E. Faulkner is opposed by J. H. Talton, Louisburg banker, A. H. Spencer, Louisburg farmer, and Negro candidate, Booker T. Driver. The missioner Brooks Young, and will meet Republican Willis Dupree in the November elections.

Incumbent Justice Fire Chief William Taylor Boone and Negro candidate Joseph L. Strickland.

In District 1, Harris-Dunn Townships, three men are seeking the seat held by the late Claude Arnold until his death earlier this year and now held by his widow, Mrs. Jeanette P. Arnold. Seeking the post are: Bunn Fire Chief H. Derrell Mitchell, former Commissioner Brooks Young and G. Frank Hinson, retired businessman of Bunn.

A three-way race looms in the Cedar Rock-Gold Mine Townships for a seat on the County Board of Education. Incumbent Mrs. T. H. Dickens is opposed by Justice Fire Chief William Taylor Boone and Negro candidate Joseph L. Strickland.

In the race for the Board of Education seat from Louisburg-Cypress Creek Townships are incumbent Clint Fuller and Walter Ball, Louisburg farmer. Township Constable races have drawn some interest in four townships where contests exist. In Franklinton, Gus Stroud, Jr. and Claude Satterwhite are seeking the position. Harris Township has a three-man race with incumbent Joe Joyner being opposed by Elmo Cash and Karl Strickland.

Harold House is opposing incumbent Perry Tharrington in Sandy Creek Township for the post and Walter Bartholomew and Jack Joyner are seeking to become Constable of Louisburg Township.

In the race for the House of

Louisburg Girl Wins Award

Miss Emma Ruth Bartholomew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey T. Bartholomew of Louisburg, won the American News Papers Association's Most Valuable Staffer Award in ceremonies held in Raleigh Tuesday night.

The Louisburg High School senior copped the coveted plaque as Editor of her school paper, School Daze. It was presented her "for outstanding contributions during the school year."

Mrs. Rena C. Bland, French-English teacher at Louisburg is the school paper sponsor. Mrs. Bland, also formed the journalistic organization, Quill and Scroll Society, this year at the school.

Miss Bartholomew is a top student, scholastically, and is active in girls' basketball and other school projects. She was approved as a nominee by the entire staff of the school.

Award-winning staff members of high school newspapers were told here Tuesday night that they "are now in the best schools of journalism that exist--working in responsibility on your own papers."

"You have to learn or get caught in jokes passed around permanently on paper," Jonathan Daniels, editor of The News and Observer, told 25 students who received "Most Valuable Staffer" awards at a dinner held at the Sir Walter Raleigh Hotel.

Daniels gave this advice to the young journalists: "Look for the exciting aspects of our world which are all around us wherever we are in Raleigh as well as in Washington, New York, or Viet Nam.

"But remember," he said, "that the written and spoken word . . . has to come from a man's own fingers and a man's own brain."

"Open your lungs to breathe in all the wonders of the world, but keep the seat of your pants in the chair before your typewriter."

Frank Daniels Jr., business manager of The News and Observer, presented plaques to the "Most Valuable Staffers."

Faculty advisers from each of the winning newspapers also attended the dinner, sponsored by The News and Observer. The award winners from staffs of Eastern North Carolina high school newspapers were selected by the faculty advisers and special committees.

College To Hold 179th Graduation

The 179th academic year at Louisburg College comes to a close Sunday as 120 graduates complete their studies at the College. Degrees and certificates will be awarded for the College by President Cecil W. Robbins and Dean John B. York.

The Baccalaureate Sermon will be delivered by the Reverend Henry G. Ruark, District Superintendent of Elizabeth City District of The Methodist Church. This service will be held at The Methodist Church at 11:00 a.m.

The Commencement address will be delivered by the Honorable L. H. Fountain, United States Congressman from the Second District. Commencement exercises in the College Auditorium will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Saturday evening the Alumni Banquet will honor Professor L. D. Moon, who is retiring from the faculty after thirty years' service. The banquet begins at 7:00 in the Duke Union Cafeteria. Reservations may be made by calling the office of The Director of College Relations.

People are drinking and using the same water that existed when the world began, the National Geographic says. Water is ageless, almost indestructible, and one of the few things in nature that can be used over and over again.
