Grilled Bistecca—New Steak Treat

For centuries the Florentine people have been creating interesting ways to serve Bistecca (Italian for steak). Now we have taken a cue from the Italians and created a masterpiece with Chef Boy-Ar-Dee Spaghetti Sauce with Mushrooms. It's a new, deliciously exciting idea and if you're one of the many accomplished outdoor chefs, you'll be delighted with the sauce. It gives real zest to a grilled steak. Start with a flank steak and marinate it for at least 4 hours or overnight. Then grill it, using half the marinade for basting. Heat the rest of the marinade and serve it with slices of the grilled steak. You'll find this sauce will also add new flavor interest to grilled hamburgers, spareribs, and frankfurters.

Grilled Bistecca

- |   |                                |
|---|--------------------------------|
| 1 (15 1/2 oz.) can Chef Boy-Ar-Dee Spaghetti Sauce with Mushrooms | 1 teaspoon salt                |
| 2 tablespoons light brown sugar                                   | 1 tablespoon prepared mustard  |
| 3 tablespoons lemon juice   | Few drops Worcestershire sauce |
| 3 tablespoons minced onion  | 1 flank steak                  |

Mix all the above ingredients together. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Reduce heat and cook gently, uncovered, for about 5 minutes. Cool. Put flank steak in shallow baking dish. Pour over cooled mixture; refrigerate for at least 4 hours. Prepare coals on outdoor grill. Drain steak, put on grill and cook for 4 to 5 minutes. Brush generously with marinade. Turn and grill on second side. Meanwhile heat rest of marinade and serve with sliced steak. Makes 4-6 servings.
