Youngsville Baptist

Youngsville - A special program of Christmas Music was presented at the Youngsville Baptist Church Sunday night under the direction of Mrs. A. N. Corpening, with accompaniment by Mrs. Al DePorter.

The Children's Choir which included Steve Phillips, Susan Weatherford, Karen Sanders, Nancy and Mary Lu DePorter, Kelly and Charlie Corpening, sang "The Friendly Beast", "Do you Hear What I Hear", and "Away In a Manger". Several solo parts were featured. A trio by Kelly, Mary Lou and Susan was "The Drummer Boy."

Several selections were rendered by the Girls Chorus which included Libbie Brown, Mary Lou Brown, Brenda Sanders, Carol Mitchell, Katie Ann Lindsey, Connie Woodlief, Rhonda Strickland and Harriet Pearce. The Chorus also provided background music of Silent Night for a Choral reading by Rev. L. Jervis Phillips of the Christmas Story from Luke Two.

Following the program the congregation participated in a fellowship hour in the educational building where Yuletide decorations added to the Christmas Spirit. Refreshments were served from two areas. The adult table was covered with a Christmas cloth and featured lighted tapers in gold toned candelabra which corresponded with the punch bowl. Holly was complimentary decorations.

The children's table was covered with a similar cloth and decorated with lighted candles in miniature mugs which were identical to the Santa Claus punch bowl used. Holly and pixies were additional decorations.

Mrs. E. M. Mitchell, chairman, and Mrs. W. M. Woodlief, Mrs. G. B. Barnes and Mrs. B. H. Patterson were the committee in charge of the party.

PROBLEM-SOLVER—The L-shaped window that turns a corner can be difficult to decorate effectively. Here the problem is solved by the use of handsome window shades. Appliqued cut-outs from cotton paisley fabric, used elsewhere in the room, create an interesting shade border. Fabric loops cradle a black rod that serves as a shade pull, and the shade cloth valance is trimmed with rows of black patent leather buttons.

FASHION POW WOW—In the Apache spirit: a pinwale cotton corduroy ensemble of earthy brown. Close-fitting jeans, belted at the waist and belled at the cuff, are paired with a matching double-pocketed body shirt. By Evelyn Sini for Stiletto.

People who never make mistakes are poor companions.
