Enterprisers Youngsville Ball Team

Youngsville - Mr. and Mrs. Epp Catlette entertained the boys basketball team Friday night, December twentieth, with a party at their home after the ball game in Louisburg. In attendance with the team were several of the boy's guests, the cheerleaders, the team manager, Coach Larry Lindsey and the adult drivers for the team.

Holiday decorations in the home provided a festive setting for the party. The boys chose this time to present their Christmas gift to Coach Lindsey. The gift was a tape recorder.

The host and hostess served refreshments of punch, assorted sandwiches, potato chips and the other party foods.

Definitely Definite

The employer was leaving the office. He was instructing his new secretary as to what to say if any one called in his absence.

"I may be back this afternoon," he told her. "And then again I may not."

The secretary nodded. "Yes, sir," she said, "Is that definite?"

Recipes To Make Holiday Entertaining A Party - Not A Panic - For Hostess

All too often, holiday entertaining is fun for everybody but the hostess. There is so much to get ready all at once - the house, the children, herself, and the food - that party preparation tends to be tinged with panic. To help shorten the time that the homemaker has to spend in the kitchen, a Christmas package of quick party recipes for dips and hors d'oeuvres has been prepared by the kitchens of Heublein, makers of A.I. Sauce.

CREAM CHEESE DIP

1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
1/2 cup A.I. Sauce

Soften cream cheese. Gradually add A.I. to cheese, mixing until thoroughly blended. Makes 1-1/2 cups.

HAM AND CHEESE DUNK

1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese with chives
2 cans (4-1/2 ounces each) deviled ham
1/4 cup A.I.

Soften cream cheese. Blend in remaining ingredients until thoroughly mixed. Makes about 2 cups.

CHEESE AND NUT HORS D'OEUVRES

1 package (3 ounces) Roquefort cheese
1/4 pound butter or margarine
1/2 pound cheddar cheese, grated
1/4 cup A.I.
3/4 cup finely chopped walnuts

Mash Roquefort cheese with fork. Blend butter or margarine, cheddar cheese and A.I. into Roquefort cheese. Shape into balls, about 3/4-inch in diameter. Roll in walnuts. Chill. Makes about 3 dozen.

BLUE CHEESE SHRIMP HORS D'OEUVRES

1 1/2 pounds medium sized shrimp, cooked
shelled and deveined
1 jar (5 ounces) blue cheese spread
3 tablespoons A.I.
Chopped parsley

Cut shrimp along vein without cutting all the way through. Mix cheese with A.I. until thoroughly blended. Fill shrimp with cheese mixture. Roll cheese side in parsley. Chill thoroughly. Makes about 24 hors d'oeuvres.

Many women fail to find satisfaction in life because they do not devote their energies to being good homemakers and mothers.

The scope of man's mind is accurately indicated by the type of honor that he cherishes.

Unless You're Careful

"Define the difference between 'results' and 'consequences,'" read a question in a school examination paper. The best answer came from a bright youngster, who wrote: "Results are what you expect, consequences are what you get."

Roman Catholic

Holy Mass every Sunday at 11:30 A.M. in the little chapel of Louisburg College. Wednesday, January 1, 1969, Feast of the Circumcision of our Divine Lord, is a holy day of obligation. All Catholics should attend Mass just as on Sunday. Mass in Louisburg will be at 11:30 A.M. in the little chapel of Louisburg College. Pope Paul VI has designated that day as a special day of prayer for World Peace.

FHA Has Decoration Workshop

The Louisburg chapter of the Future Homemakers of America held their monthly meeting December 18 in the Home Economics room at Louisburg High School.

President Cade Besley presided. Plans were made for the future meetings.

A Christmas decoration workshop was held after the business meeting. One of the main features was a showing of eggshell ornaments by Robin Kerley. Mrs. Marjorie Leonard, chapter advisor, demonstrated how to tie Christmas bows and how to use different types of greenery in various Christmas arrangements. The members participated in making decorations for the home economics department.

Refreshments consisting of drinks, peanuts, potato chips, and dip were served to approximately sixteen members and one guest at the beginning of the meeting.

Sickley

A teacher was holding a geography class, asking questions about lakes, rivers, etc. Teacher: Jimmy, can you tell me what a creek is? Jimmy: A creek - uh - uh - a creek is a river suffering from low flood pressure.
