Scouts Go Camping

Explorer Post 555 of Louisburg spent a cold weekend in the mountains of Virginia. Leaving on Friday the 24th, the boys traveled to Meadows of Dan, Va., with District Executive James Lacy and Mr. Sidney Stafford furnishing the transportation.

The campers were up early Saturday to begin the twenty-mile hike over the Pinnacles, up Indian's Ladder, and back to their base camp. Using various means to ascend and descend the three points, including rope and sliding, the boys made the trip in a near record time of six and one-half hours. Members participating were Ray Patterson, Scott McBride, Daryl Evans, Mike Leonard, Will Wilder, Jac Versteeg, and Bobby Fuller. James Lacy led the hikers, and Mr. Stafford and his son Sid remained in camp.

Arising early to strike camp Sunday morning, the Post returned home, weary but happy, around three o'clock in the afternoon. All agreed with Mr. Lacy that the trip would not be soon forgotten.

Your Mental Health

By Dr. Norbert Kelly

Part 1

Uncontrolled Drinking

Alcoholism, the uncontrolled use of beverage alcohol, is one of our most widespread symptoms of unhappiness and emotional upset.

Of the estimated 70 to 75 million users of alcohol in our country, about five million are alcoholics. Of this number, one in every five is a woman. The United States has the highest rate of alcoholism in the Western World.

Alcoholism is found on all social levels and in all occupations. It may develop in the minister, the priest, the judge, or the highest business executive, as well as in the storekeeper, the housewife, the salesman, or the custodian.

Uncontrolled drinking of alcoholic beverages is said to be a symptom of deep, underlying tension or distress. Perhaps one of the reasons it develops is because American society has no established norms for drinking. Hence, many feel free to get high. They know there will be little if any social condemnation. Therefore, there are no social barriers to the emotionally sick to work through their personal problems by getting inebriated.

Once anyone does become dependent upon alcohol, however, social attitudes shift and the alcoholic is condemned. Perhaps this is because alcoholism is so socially injurious.

Americans, in general, do not realize that the alcoholic uses alcohol as a medicine. We, unfortunately, see him, or her, as a person lacking in the will-power or the intelligence to stay away from drinking. We don't realize that alcohol is a tranquilizer and the alcoholic is using it to numb his emotional pain and deep unhappiness.

There are many sources of help to the alcoholic and his family--A.A., Al-Anon, the State treatment agencies, the family physician, the local mental health center, and the community alcoholism council. Most of these are listed in your telephone directory.

In Fashion

A stunning garment, shown by one designer this season, has long sleeves, a very full, short skirt with daisies printed over all the black background.

Flower prints seem to be quite popular on dresses, not so short and on some which are long and flowing.

A trend toward fabrics which are easily cleaned seems to be in the new showings.

There is a very new fabric which has a sheen but is very easy to drape. This is being used for evening dresses.

The man who never loafs is not always the man who does the most work.

A fire department is not always appreciated by those who have had no fires.

People, Spots In The News

SUPERJET 747 is shown getting compass calibration on giant turntable at Boeing's Everett, Wash. plant.

BOB BEAMON, who long-jumped 29-21 1/2 in Olympics, leaping 26-11 to win San Francisco indoor meet.

SANDY KOUFAX takes as bride Anne Heath Widmark, daughter of actor Richard Widmark, in Los Angeles.

SHELL GAME? Looks like that's what Ed Cox is playing in plant of Scovill Manufacturing Company's Lightcraft division. Actually he's inspecting sections of a pull-down light fixture.

It's Possible

A little fellow was listening to a story about the great adventures of another little boy. When the story was finished, he asked, "What about the mother?" "The story didn't mention the mother," said the story teller. "Maybe she was dead," said the lad. Then he added, "I guess she was killed in a nervous wreck."

No mother-in-law admits that the mother-in-law jokes were aimed at her kind of mother-in-law.
