Clubwomen Display Handicraft

(FRK. B.W.) The Franklinton Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Harris Thursday evening with Mrs. Woodrow Haskins presiding.

Membership chairman, Mrs. R. C. Whitfield, inducted a new member - Mrs. James Span. Then the chairman recognized the six new members, who joined at recent meetings.

Devotionals were presented by Mrs. Julia Carr, club chaplain.

Following the reading of the collect, Mrs. Bill James read the minutes of the January meeting. Mrs. T. J. McGhee gave a financial report. She also reported that contributions had been made to the Scholarship Fund in memory of Mrs. W. A. Eaton.

Mrs. Haskins announced that Mr. Bill Sigmon had invited the local clubwomen to a dinner and a tour of the Franklinton Fabrics in March at a date convenient to the clubwomen.

Mrs. R. C. Whitfield gave the Public Affairs Department report in the absence of the chairman. She reported that the department, along with volunteers, will address the envelopes for the Easter Seal Society on February 19. The clubwomen were reminded that this spring a mayor, five town commissioners and three school board members would be up for election. Plans to sponsor a Veteran project were announced.

Miss Frances Wortham gave the corresponding secretary's report.

Mrs. C. Ray Pruette reported on the town library, which the club sponsors.

Mrs. Raymond Harris, chairman of the Fine Arts Department, called attention to the various pieces of handicraft which the clubwomen had brought for display. She announced the Fine Arts Festival for March 1 at Murdock Center at Butler.

The various contests in Fine Arts were explained by Mrs. Harris.

Mrs. Barbara Langston demonstrated how to prepare eggs for decorating purposes. Mrs. J. D. Mode distributed instructions for Jute Webbing Tote Bags and Decoupage to the clubwomen.

During the social hour, members of the Fine Arts Department, served coffee, nuts and goodies. The club women browsed around and admired the handwork on display during the social hour.

Thanks

We wish to express our many thanks to everyone who were so thoughtful, for the many cards, flowers, food and other deed of kindness shown us during the sudden death of our loved one.

Also our many thanks to the Centerville Rescue for their service.
