Peanut Pie Now Peanut Butter Pie

In the peanut country of North Carolina, Virginia and Georgia, peanut pie has long been a favorite dessert. Then someone thought of making Peanut Butter Pie, now a rival dessert.

PEANUT BUTTER PIE

- 1 cup light or dark corn syrup
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 cup Skippy creamy or chunk style peanut butter
- 1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell

Mix together corn syrup, sugar, eggs, vanilla and peanut butter. Pour into unbaked pastry shell. Bake in 400 degrees F. (hot) oven, 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees F. (moderate) and bake pie 30 to 35 minutes longer. (Filling should appear slightly less set in center than around edge.)

Health And Beauty

Too many people in apparent good health suffer from chronic fatigue. The only way to fight fatigue is to learn its causes and its types. You must learn to avoid that weary feeling before it strikes.

The best medication for fatigue is food and sleep. Too often habits made concrete over the years prevent adults from getting this needed rest and food. It may be that you drink too much coffee or take too many pep pills to allow yourself to relax enough to sleep, or to even have the proper desire for food.

It may be as simple a habit as staying up too late. Say you are in the habit of reading or watching TV until after 12:00 p.m. You still have to get up at 6:00 or 7:00 a.m. to be on time at the office. You need more rest than this, day in and day out. Emotional fatigue is a great drain on many people. It takes a great deal of energy to get angry and to carry on an argument. It even takes a lot of energy to brood in silence.

DAINTY LITTLE DAHLIAS

Growing small-flowered dahlias from seeds is a fascinating adventure, for the colors and the forms of the blooms all will be different. Treat yourself to a little fun!

One of the most rewarding efforts any gardener can make in late winter or early spring is to sow a packet of seeds of dwarf dahlias. This is because the results are so entrancing.

Two different hybrid groups of little dahlias are available. The Coltness hybrids have single flowers; the Unwin hybrids have mostly semi-double but occasionally a plant with fully-double blossoms.

Several selections have been made from the Unwin group—an extra-early blooming mixture called Early Bird, which produces plants 3 inches shorter than the 15-inch-tall Unwin's in a full range of colors.

And another mixture from which many of the whites and yellows have been eliminated, thus giving a darker-colored overall appearance to a bed of these dahlias.

It takes only four months or a bit less from the time seeds are sown until the little plants start to bloom. It's such fun to watch as the first blossom on each opens—to see the form, color and flower size!

These little fellows are easy dahlias to grow. Set out the plants in a sunny place where the soil is good, spacing them 18 inches apart. No need to pinch them back as is done with large dahlias.

Most of the time there is only a single flower on a cutting-length stem. Sometimes a few side buds appear. If you want flowers a bit larger than 3-inch diameter, take them off.

In some areas these dahlias are set out in large beds and produce a multi-colored effect by late June (if seeds were sown by early March). The plants also can be used as a border or in a row in the cutting garden.

You owe it to yourself to develop control over your emotions. It is important to know your limitations. Don't wear yourself out trying to accomplish more than your talents make possible.

Many women take the business of running a home too seriously. The unexpected always happens in homemaking.

Happiness Is A Warm Blanket

Youngsville - Created by children at the home of Mrs. Lula S. Bell, this snow-woman is clothed in colorful wraps with kerchief tied on her mop-head. Hardly visible are the hand-wrought wire spectacles on her nose.

Snowmen all about town reflected pleasure. Did you ever make snow angels? You just lie back in the snow and flap your arms. When you get up there is the angel. That was the special fun around at the Baptist Parsonage.

Fortunately there were no major accidents in town. Some slipping and sliding of people and cars, but nothing really serious.

Blinking lights in town Saturday night caused temporary concern, but they never went out permanently.

Neither rain nor sleet nor snow and etc.—stops mail delivery. However the local rural mail carrier had some doubts Saturday morning when his car turned completely around on an icy road and headed him back towards town.

In Fashion

Plaids are popular for suits and are smart when piped with solid color material.

Many of the skimmer dresses also feature piping or banding around necklines or down the front of the dress. These of white with red piping are most attractive.

Prints are also quite popular in knits, nylons or cottons. Huge figures are splashed over some of the new frocks. Others have flowers or crisscross lines.

High necklines are smart although boat shapes with narrow collars or scarfs are good.

Two things are out for the coming season—tight pants and tight skirts—pants are much looser, especially around the bottoms and skirts are either pleated, A shaped, gored or full.

Thanks

Words cannot express my thanks toward Dr. Lloyd and the nurses and aides on 3rd floor for their many kindnesses shown to me during my stay at Franklin Memorial Hospital and also to the many friends who sent cards, flowers and visited me. Thanks so very much.
