Cane Golfers Lose To Chowan

Thursday Chowan's golf team stormed around the Louisburg course like they owned it. When the day was over, Chowan had beaten Louisburg 288 to 314.

There was not but one bright spot in the Louisburg line-up that being Pat Radford who played great in recording a 75 (36-39), but he couldn't hold off the whole Chowan team by himself. Stamer shot a 78; Green an 82; Klingel an 82; Hege an 85; and Leadbetter, the number 1 man, soared to a 79. Nothing could go for the 'Cane golfers, but for Chowan, they were led by Pickus and Sullivan who shot 71's; Pitkin and Hillard with 73's; and Phillips with a 76.

This match puts Louisburg and Chowan in a tie for first place in the conference with the conference tournament not far off. Louisburg now stands 6-2 in its overall record.

Franklinton To Form League

(Frk. B.W.) Plans are now getting underway to form a slow-pitch softball league.

There will be a meeting the 29th of April at the Burlington Mill Clubhouse in Franklinton. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Teams, which participated in this league last year, or any new teams interested in entering this league, should have someone at this meeting to represent them.

If unable to attend this meeting, you may contact Vance Mendenhall in Franklinton at 494-7961.

Penland Helps Boston

Boston - Boston University posted its first winning season in four years as the Terrier quintet chalked up 14 victories against 10 defeats. The squad was paced by a host of talented juniors and sophomores, which makes the outlook for next season very promising.

Joe Penland, a 6-0, 170-pound junior from Durham, N. C., was a prime acquisition for the Terriers. Joe transferred from Louisburg College in North Carolina and gave the Boston U. back court some needed depth which it had lost through graduation.

The former Durham High and Louisburg standout was used as a spot starter and as the team's quarterback on offense. His fine ball handling and passing, plus his knowledge of the game, made him a valuable asset. Joe can also put the ball through the hoop.

In the classroom Joe also excels. He was on the dean's list last semester with a solid "B" average.

"Joe is an excellent example of the student-athlete that colleges try to recruit," says coach Charlie Luce, "when a boy excels both in the classroom and on the court, you know you can count on him when the chips are down."

Aiming towards a teacher-coach position after graduation, Joe has all the credentials to make. Joe is the son of Glenn Penland of 1209 North Duke St., in Durham.

County CTA Gets Award

The Franklin County Unit of East Central District Classroom Teachers Association, of the North Carolina Education Association, has been cited for outstanding accomplishments in "first" during 1968-69.

At the final District Council meeting of this school year, held in Raleigh Saturday, Winston W. Kerley, president of the Franklin County CTA, received the certificate of merit.

Heading the list of achievements was significant increase in membership during the year. Other accomplishments have been the instigation to move one of the five required "work-days" for teachers to use between the semesters, with two at the beginning and two at the end of the session; and the publication of a monthly newsletter to inform County teachers of professional events in the vicinity.

Others cited at the District event included the Johnston County and the Chapel Hill CTA Units.

Mrs. Rena C. Bland, Louisburg High School teacher and treasurer of the Franklin County CTA, was installed as secretary of East Central District Classroom Teachers Association for the coming year.

Department. He explained the Commission presently employs only 14,000 persons altogether. He said they'd have to get a new chairman before these people were hired.

Mrs. Betsy Pernell, Chairman of the Franklin Democratic Executive Committee, presided at the fund-raising dinner. Mrs. Margaret Harper and her husband, Mr. James Harper of South Port, N. C. were special guests. Mrs. Harper is Vice Chairman of the State Democratic Party. She ran unsuccessfully for Lt. Gov. in the primary last year. She was warmly received by the group and expressed her pleasure at being invited. Mr. James Alford, County Road Maintenance Supervisor, introduced a number of highway officials present and Rep. John Church and Supervisor Court Judge Hamilton Hobgood brought greetings from Franklin Representative James D. Speed, recuperating from an illness at his home.

Dr. Cecil W. Robbins, President of Louisburg College, welcomed the Democrats to the campus and Rev. Wade Goldston gave the Invocation. Entertainment was furnished by Sandi Versteeg, Charles Latta and Larry Lloyd, members of the Louisburg Players. Seven tickets were drawn for the $50 a plate Democratic Dinner at Raleigh Saturday night as the program closed.

Historical Group To Meet

The April meeting of the Franklin County Historical Society will be held Thursday night in the Community Room of the First Citizens Bank Building on Bickett Blvd.

George Dennis will present a program on the Founding of Louisburg which should be of great interest to anyone interested in local history.

The public is cordially invited to attend the meeting which is set for 8 p.m.

Good Reason

Teacher-What inspired the oldtime pioneers to set forth in their covered wagons?

Student-Well, maybe they didn't want to wait about thirty years for a train.

Calendar Marriage

"So your married life is very unhappy. What's the trouble, December married to May?"

"Heavens, no. It's Labor Day married to the Day of Rest."

Senior Girl Scouts Attend Conference

The girls attended the Conference to explain "wider opportunities in Girl Scouting" at the Country Squire Steak House. This is the first Senior Girl Scout Group ever established here, according to reports. The group is a part of Troup 351.

Misunderstood

The kangaroo got its unusual name because of a misunderstanding. When a British sea captain put in at an Australian harbor, he asked a native for the name of the strange animal he saw bounding about.

The native answered, "Kangaroo."

The captain put out to sea, and the word kangaroo found its place in the dictionary.

Actually, all the native had said was, "I don't understand."

Doubtful

Mary had a little cash She kept it in her hose, And everywhere that Mary went Her friends all said, "It shows."

So Mary took it to the bank And there she wisely hid it Which brought her far more interest— Or did it?

Who can remember when modest women shrank from wide skirts because men might see their legs?
