Decorated with candle trees and greenery, Oak Grove Baptist Church of Route 1, Youngsville, was the setting Sunday, June 1, for the afternoon wedding of Miss Dolores Annell Alford and Mr. Carl Glenn Scarboro. The bride was given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. Edward Earl Williams. Her gown was designed and made by her mother. She wore a full length, formal, traditional wedding gown with lace over satin featuring a fitted bodice with a scalloped neckline and a bouffant skirt with a ruffled lace opening down the front with seed pearls. The back featured covered satin buttons on which was attached the full length chapel train that was appliqued with lace and seed pearls around the entire edge. The long lace sleeves ended in calla points over the wrists and outlined with seed pearls. Her elbow length illusion veil with scalloped edges was attached to her headpiece of petal shaped satin and lace outlined with pearls and iridescent beads and a teardrop falling over her forehead.

The bride's bouquet was a purple throated orchid atop a white Bible with a cascade of satin streamers and miniature carnations.

Matrons of honor were Mrs. Bobby Harrison, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Wesley Alford, sister-in-law of the bride. They wore floor length empire gowns of orchid chiffon over matching taffeta with an orchid chiffon train, accented by a deep orchid satin ribbon around the bodice which was covered with lace. Their headpieces had matching orchid veil attached to a cluster of pastel leaves.

They carried an arch-shaped bouquet of pastel colored asters and carnations.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Donnie Edwards of Charleston, S. C., Miss Deborah Young of Youngsville, Miss Jena Gurganus of Washington, N. C., and Miss Pam Williams of Rolesville.
