

Mrs. Ford Receives Pin

The Louisburg Garden Club honored and surprised their fellow member, Mrs. G. W. Ford, with a Life Membership in the Garden Club of North Carolina.

Mrs. John Mills, president of the club, pinned the Life Membership Pin on Mrs. Ford.

Mrs. Ford served six years as President of the Louisburg Garden Club, two years as Director of District Eight, five years as Scholarship Chairman and Trustee of the North Carolina Garden Club, the first counselor of Junior Garden Clubs for Louisburg Garden Club and one of the organizers of the Town and Country Garden Club.

Louisburg Garden Club Holds Annual Picnic

The Louisburg Garden Club held its annual picnic last Thursday in the ballroom of the Green Hill Country Club.

The tables were artistically decorated with arrangements of daisies in red and white plaid paper cups surrounded by ivy. The centerpiece at the president's table was a massive arrangement of daisies in a summer white straw hat.

Mrs. John Mills, president of the Louisburg Garden Club, presided over the meeting and introduced the following guests: Mrs. Marian Odom of Ahoskie, first vice-president of the Garden Clubs, Inc., of North Carolina; Mrs. Joe Steinbeck of Cary, past director of District X; Mrs. Charlie Cates, president of the Franklinton Garden Club; Mrs. Katharine Egerton of the Raleigh Garden Clubs; Mrs. H. T. Sanford, State Garden Clubs Headquarters from Raleigh; Mrs. Margie Paul from Laurinburg, past corresponding secretary of the State Garden Clubs.

Mrs. Barron Mills of Laurinburg, past president of the State Garden Club, installed Mrs. Marian Plessants as the newly-elected secretary of the Louisburg Garden Club. Mrs. John Mills, president, was installed at a previous meeting. The highlight of the day was when Mrs. Catherine Ford of Louisburg, former president of the Louisburg Garden Club and past president of the Garden Clubs of District X, was presented a life membership pin for outstanding service to the Garden Clubs of North Carolina. Mrs. Breathe O'Neal, former president of the Louisburg Garden Club, made the presentation.

Mrs. Joe Steinbeck of Ahoskie presented the Elsie B. Deaton Silver Award to Mrs. John Mills for the Louisburg Garden Club for being the garden club in the state to contribute the most to a scholarship fund at State University to aid any worthy students who are studying landscaping or horticulture.

The Louisburg Garden Club was also awarded the Kay Zlatiewicz Life membership for the best projects designed and executed for raising money.

A Sears winner again this year, the Louisburg Garden Club was so chosen for landscaping the new wing of the Franklin Memorial Hospital and the installation of a sprinkler system. This contest is sponsored by the Sears Civic Improvement Committee with headquarters in Atlanta.

The Louisburg Garden Club yearbook won a blue ribbon in District X and honorable mention in the state.

Special guests at the picnic were members of the Perennial Junior Garden Club. Sponsored by the Louisburg Garden Club, Miss Anita Tiltonson told of the honors and awards won by the Perennial Club since its beginning in 1963. The Louisburg Garden Club was presented a book of "Garden Prayers" in appreciation for sponsoring the Perennial Gardeners. Mrs. Marvin Plessants was presented an engraved pin for serving as counselor to the gardeners.

It's good to have a slogan, but it is better to perform.

Christian living means obeying your good impulses every day, and not waiting for Sunday services to come around.

Hunter, Tyson Pledge Vows

Miss Mescal Elizabeth Tyson and Mr. David Ragsdale Hunter pledged their marriage vows Saturday at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon to Rev. J. Bernard Hurley. The double-ring ceremony was performed in the College Place Methodist Church in Greensboro.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Tyson, Jr. of Charlotte, N. C. and the granddaughter of Mrs. Lee Baker of Louisburg. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Hunter of Greensboro, N. C.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory organza trimmed with Chantilly lace, featuring a fitted bodice with belt and accented with a bow in the back, a cuffed neckline and long Chantilly lace sleeves. The hemline was bordered with Chantilly lace and the full chapel train was edged with lace. She wore a mantilla of matching lace. Her cascade was of cymbidiums, carnations, and stephanotis.

Mrs. Leigh Barrett Lane was matron of honor. Miss Becky Simpson, Miss Mercer Tyson and Miss Mariene Tyson, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. Miss Melinda Falson was flower girl. They wore blue floor length sleeveless gowns with rolled collar, detachable back panel and bodice front featuring white and dyed to match daisies. The gowns were empire waisted. They carried nosegays of daisies.

The bride's mother chose an aqua applique silk one piece dress with short sleeves and rolled collar and a matching hat. The groom's mother wore a light green two piece lace ensemble with matching hat.

Mr. Hunter was his son's best man. Ushers were Kenneth Scott, William Ragsdale III, and Warren Ragsdale.

The bride is a graduate of Grimsley Senior High School and of UNC at Greensboro. She was vice-president of Phi Alpha Theta. The groom is a graduate of Grimsley Senior High School, attended N. C. School of the Arts and has attended Guilford College. He is president of the Student Activities Committee of the Downtown Campus and is employed at Stage Decoration and Supply of Greensboro.

Following a trip to the North Carolina Mountains, the couple will live at 307 College Road in Greensboro.

A reception was given by the bride's parents in the Fellowship Hall following the wedding.

It is remarkable what some people will do for publicity, even when most of it is worthless.
