PORTS OF CALL

... FOR TRAVEL AND ADVENTURE

By Edward H. Sims

Copenhagen - The Moscow route of Pan-American stops in Copenhagen and is attracting an increasing number of vacationers.

Since the flight departs from New York at 8:15 p.m., one is in Copenhagen for breakfast and in Moscow in the middle of the day. That's one-stop service to Moscow.

I flew a special Pan-Am plane to Moscow ten years ago—and we made it non-stop from New York in nine hours and fifty-five minutes. That was when Vice President Richard Nixon opened the American exhibition.

Nikita Khrushchev and Nixon held their famous kitchen debate at the exhibition on Nixon's second day in Moscow. Though the Russians had said they would televise Mr. Nixon's speech to the Russian people, they translated only parts of it.

To my way of thinking, Moscow then and now is not worth getting overly excited about. The ballet is remarkable and the subway is impressive. But the drab city and repressed population is depressing and the food is less than good.

Once in a lifetime, to satisfy curiosity or a lack of on-the-scene knowledge, a trip to Moscow is worth the time and money. Fare is actually cheaper than most people assume—just over $600 for a round-trip economy ticket, New York-Moscow and return. This is less than many pay for first class travel to the countries of western Europe. On our non-stop trip in 1959, Pan-Am undoubtedly carried fewer passengers than today's aircraft to enable the pilot to make it non-stop. This was a subtle hint to the Russians of the 707's capability. But the Russians didn't announce the new speed record, probably because Khrushchev's eleven-hour flight to the U.N. had been heralded as a record breaker a short time before.

The organization that handles travel arrangements for Americans visiting Russia is Intourist, state-controlled of course. One can get his money's worth, however, from it. A week's stay in Moscow and Leningrad, with all transportation, hotels and meals, costs something over two hundred dollars. Thus one can spend a week in Russia for $750—from New York.

One of the major attractions of Russian travel is the chance to stop over in Scandinavia. Denmark and Copengen have long been favorites of Americans and Norway rates slightly less of an attraction.

While the food in Sweden is good and hotel accommodations are adequate, there is a chillier reception for Americans in richer Sweden. The Danes and Norwegians too resent their Swedish neighbors, their self-sufficiency and aloof manner.

The best time to visit Moscow is from about the middle of June to the end of August.

Copenhagen and Stockholm, however, are not cheap—either for good hotel accommodations or meals. Both cities are crowded in that wonderful, short Scandinavian summer. The sun has been rising in recent days at 2:30 in Copenhagen, for example, and going down at about ten—so the days are long enough in this part of the world, though summers are so short.

Most people think they are pretty smart so why not agree with them?

FLUID FASHION—The look of summer is captured in this fluid design of white textured cotton. The dress is styled with diagonal closing and slash neckline. An obi belt in a contrasting print adds dramatic emphasis. By Joanna Nelson of California.
