

District Playoffs To Be Held At Bunn

Bill Beckham, League President, reported this morning that the District Playoffs will be played next Thursday night at 8 P.M. at the Bunn Junior League Park. Louisburg Rotary League All-Stars will meet Garner All-Stars in the game Thursday.

Beckham says the event will be a double elimination and if the local squad wins, it will play later at Durham. Hoke-Roberson, Fayetteville, Durham, Garner and Louisburg are in the District. The League prexy explains that a team must win four games to get into the State Playoffs in Wilmington.

The Junior League is composed of boys 13-14 years old. MUTT AND JEFF — THE MAN HIGHER UP!

Finch To Attend Boys Home Practice

Greenville -- Five of the state's top football officials have been named to officiate the seventh annual Boy's Home All Star Football Game, scheduled here Saturday, Aug. 2.

Announcement of the officials, selected by the N. C. High School Athletic Association, completes the roster of participants in the North Carolina Jaycee - sponsored game. Coaches and players, including Louisburg's Thomas Finch, arrive in Greenville next weekend to begin a week of training before the game.

Proceeds from the game, scheduled at 8 p.m. in East Carolina University's Ficklen Stadium, go to Boy's Home at Lake Waccamaw. Tickets are now available from any Jaycee.

The officials are: Douglas F. Holleman, 49, of Cary, Holleman, a veteran of 17 years of football officiating, has been named head linesman.

Joseph C. Harrison, athletic director at Seymour Johnson AFB, Goldsboro. Harrison, an Air Force veteran, has 13 years of high school officiating experience.

Earl R. Butler, North Carolina Official of the Year in 1967, of Fayetteville. Butler, a graduate of the University of North Carolina, played football there. He was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1960, the same year he played in the College All Star Game.

Edwin A. "Ted" Jackson, Jr., 27, of Raleigh. Jackson, who will work the field judge position, has officiated high school football for eight years.

W. D. McRoy, Jr., vocational education coordinator for Goldsboro City Schools. McRoy, a graduate of Duke University, has officiated football for 14 years. He is also a veteran of 19 years of basketball officiating, including four years in the Southern Conference.

Harris Pharmacy Junior Champs

The Harris Pharmacy Redwings clinched first place in the Louisburg Rotary Tar Heel League Junior division Monday night with an 11-3 record. It was the Redwings all the way as they demolished the Bunn hopefuls 15-3 behind the talented arm and cool head of Warren Wrenn who posted his sixth victory against no defeats.

Wrenn allowed only three hits, and was two for two at the plate including a homerun. His battery mate, looking better every game, Gary Clay, was three for four at the plate including two doubles. Wilbert Walker and George Thomas, infield stars, contributed two hits each in support of the Redwings.

But once again, it was the daring base running of the Redwings that blew the game wide open, plus errorless defensive play. Robert Winstead, magnificent a week ago, gave up the mound for Bunn early in the game and was charged with the defeat. Three pitchers followed him in succession, none doing as well. The one bright spot in the game for Bunn was a tremendous double by Keith Wright.

disease (Rickettsia) is very similar to a virus and is transmitted by the bite of the dog tick. The disease is most common on the eastern seaboard, especially in North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland and Tennessee. The largest percentage of cases occur in the months from July to September when the ticks are most prevalent and when people spend more time out of doors. Almost three-fourths of the cases are in pre-school and school age children. In calling attention to the seriousness of this disease, Dr. Wheelless gave the following practical preventive suggestions: (1) Parents should examine their children at least once a day for ticks. If the ticks are present, they should be removed gently with tweezers or forceps so that the head of the tick does not remain imbedded. (2) Dog owners should remove all ticks from their dogs each day. (3) The possibility of "Spotted Fever" should be kept in mind whenever a person complains of a rash and fever during the warm summer months. Antibiotic treatment is effective if instituted early.

Rotary Hosts Baseball Awards Night

The Louisburg Rotary Club, in recognition of its primary community service program—Rotary Tar Heel League baseball for boys 8-14—will host a Weiner roast and awards night at the Louisburg College Student Union next Tuesday, July 22, at 7:00 P.M.

All participants of the League and their immediate families are invited as guests.

The two all-star teams will be announced and individual trophies will be presented. Individual trophies will also be awarded to the members of the two Conference Champions. And finally, the most valuable player awards will be presented.

Bunn Is Little League Champs

The Bunn Little Leaguers, in another stellar performance, soundly defeated Cooper Insurance 10-4 Monday night and claimed the Conference crown in the process with a 13-1 record. No other statistics are available at this time.

Notice

Earl Martin, ESEA Director, announced today that the deadline for enrollment in the school pre-readiness program is Friday, July 18. Martin said any child who has not enrolled by that time cannot be enrolled. He explained that this is necessary due to the instructional program.

The Best

Coed—What do you think of men?
Roommate—The best opposite sex we've got.

Doesn't Know

Earnest: "Mother, when the fire goes out, where does it go to?"
Mother: "My dear Ernest, I don't know. You might just as well ask me where your father goes to when he goes out."

Voice Of Experience

Eight-year-old: "I ain't never gonna get married."
Seven-year-old: "Why?"
Eight-year-old: "I've already lived too long with married people."

No Change

Johnson returned to his native town after some years abroad.
"Has he changed much?" asked one who had not yet seen him.
"No, but he thinks he has."
"In what way?"
"He persists in talking about what a fool he used to be."

Comment On Sports

By Pete Fritchle

Washington, D. C. -- The game of managing Major League baseball teams is a tricky one; the fate of Johnny Rigney and Leo Durocher are good examples of the unpredictables of the business.

Johnny Rigney took the expansion California Angels and had them in third place in a few years in a league which hadn't been split into divisions. He always had good pitching and the Angels were contenders until this year.

Several years ago the Detroit Tigers offered him a fine contract; he probably could have used the personnel on the Bengal squad to win a pennant. But he got a three year contract at a fine figure and stayed with the Angels.

Last year there was a hint of trouble, as his team seemed to falter, and this year his health failed, to some extent. The team wasn't the same and when that ten-game losing streak occurred, veterans knew the front office would have to do something. They fired Rigney, one of the games' better managers up to this year.

With Leo Durocher, the story begins from the other end. He was a good manager. After his last stint with the Harris Pharmacy has but one game remaining against a team they have not defeated Thursday night—Nash Farms.
