

Football Drills Start Friday

Louisburg Coach Tommy Twitty has issued a call for all Bulldog gridders to report for the start of football practice Friday night at 7:30 P.M.

Coach Twitty reminded squad members that a physical examination is required and said that players could obtain examinations from Dr. B. L. Patterson, Dr. Carey Perry or Dr. Doyle Medders. He added there is no charges for such examinations.

The Bulldogs have a nine game slate thus far for this year with five games to be played at home. Coach Twitty says he is hopeful he will be able to fill the normal ten-game slate. The open date is the final game of the season, traditionally played against Helena. This school is being consolidated with Roxboro this year.

Officers Get 529 Stills

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1969, special investigators of alcohol, tobacco and firearms in North Carolina seized (529) five hundred twenty-nine illegal distilleries. The moonshine whiskey the distilleries could produce represents a revenue loss of approximately ($266,101.00) two hundred sixty-six thousand, one hundred and one dollars every day.

The use of old car radiators and unsanitary equipment continues to make moonshine whiskey poison enough to cause blindness, paralysis and even death as long as a year after the moonshine has been drunk.

(663) Six hundred sixty-three persons were arrested during the period for violation of federal laws, and (179) one hundred seventy-nine vehicles were seized.

Speedway To Reopen

Oxford - Under NASCAR rules and under new management Jet Motor Speedway will reopen Saturday night, August 9, 1969. There has been a lot of improvements made both to the pit area and to the grandstands. Jet Motor is one of few tracks in the south that will allow spectators into the pit area. There has been an area fenced inside of pit with extra guard rail for maximum protection for those who wish to enter.

Drivers who are expected for the first race are Haskill Willingham, Earl Moss, Benjie Davis, John Mathews, Don Macon, Glenn Simpkins, Hank Thomas, Carl Horton, Bill Taylor, Bill Hallar, Billy Pearce and a host of others.

There will be gifts given to a number of lucky tickets holders. Gates will open at 6 P.M. and the race get under way at 8:30. Time trials will start at 8 P.M.

Limits Set By Wildlife Commission

Raleigh, N. C. - The Wildlife Resources Commission has announced the seasons and bag limits on doves, marsh hens, woodcock, and Wilson's snipe. The dates and bag limits were selected from a framework authorized by the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Washington, D. C.

First to open will be shooting for doves and marsh hens on Labor Day, September 1. Dove hunting will begin at 12:00 noon and end at sunset daily throughout the season. Shooting hours for marsh hens will be from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Biggest surprise to game bird hunters is the bag limit on doves: 18 birds daily, 36 in possession after opening day. The Commission was not given an alternative to the 18-36 bird bag limit. Biological studies have shown that 80 percent of the summer population of doves each year are lost by natural mortality by the beginning of the next breeding season, regardless of whether or not they are hunted. The 50 percent increase in the bag limit this year is an experiment to determine whether heavier gunning of doves would have a noticeable effect on next year's crop of birds. The increased limit applies only to states east of the Mississippi River.

The Commission, despite anticipated complaints from hunters about the usual hot weather around September 1, selected that date because research has shown that the birds begin leaving the State late in August for their southward migration. The peak of the dove population will have been passed by September 1, but this was the earliest date allowed by the Bureau.

The first segment of the dove season will end October 11. The second segment will run from December 18 through January 15, 1970.

Bag limits on marsh hens will be 15 daily, 30 in possession after opening day. This limit may include any single species or a combination of several species of marsh hens.

The Commission chose the latest allowable dates for woodcock and Wilson's snipe to take advantage of flights of birds coming in from New England states. The woodcock season will open on November 28 and run through January 31, with a daily bag of 5, 10 in possession after the first day, while the season on Wilson's snipe will begin December 13 and end January 31. Bag limits for snipe are 8 daily and 16 in possession after the first day.

Seasons on ducks, geese, and other waterfowl are still under consideration by federal and state authorities and will be announced early next fall. An excellent crop of birds this year is not expected to be reflected in any important relaxation of seasons and bag limits due to an accumulated shortage of birds during the past decade.

Finch Injured, Misses North-South Tilt

Big Thomas had one more football game to play. Unless, by some miracle, he managed to overcome some very large obstacles and land on a college team, Thomas Finch looked forward to the North-South All Star game as one final fling at the thing he does best—play football.

But the unkind genie that struck Finch a little less than a year ago in the game at Norlina, also had one more fling. A bad fall which tore a knee ligament sidelined the All-East end and linebacker for most of the remaining season.

Last week, practicing for Saturday night's contest, Finch injured the same knee on the opposite side. Sources say that another operation will be needed to correct the injury. Needless to say, the latest stroke of bad luck prevented the Louisburg ace from participating in the important game played at East Carolina University Saturday night.

The North squad won, 26-14 and this, perhaps brought some joy to an otherwise disappointed Louisburg graduate.

And on this sour note, an outstanding prep grid career may have ended.

Wheless, Warren Lose In CGA

Two Louisburg golfers failed to make the final rounds in the Carolina Golf Association Tournament at Pinehurst last week. Kevin Warren, who qualified for the tourney with a 78 was defeated in the first round last Thursday by Buzzy Basinger of Charlotte, 7 and 5. Louis Wheless, Jr., qualifying with a 77 last Wednesday, in the second round by Bob Thompson of Greenville, 6 and 5 after having defeated Pat Brady of Reidsville in the opening round, 4 to 3.

Bob Bryant of Charlotte, who played in Warren's bracket, won the title Sunday defeating Steve Walker of Burlington, 10 and 8.

One That He Missed

"Has your husband any hobbies?" asked the neighbor.

"No," said Mrs. Tuggle, "he has rheumatiz a good deal, and hives now and then, but he ain't never had no hobbies."

If we are going to have federal aid to education, it is the responsibility of those at the national level and particularly the President of the United States, to see that federal control does not follow. We want federal aid and local control."
