

Petitions OK'd Bulldogs Lose Enfield, Gain (?) Ayden

Petitions for improvements to State Rural Roads 1120 and 1208 were approved by the Board of County Commissioners last week. It was erroneously reported in last Thursday's issue that these two road petitions were denied.

Louisburg Coach Tommy Twitty, apparently satisfied with what he saw in Friday's opening practice, is still having his problems in scheduling a full ten-game slate for his charges this season. All summer long, Twitty has attempted to fill an open date on November 7 which was left vacant when Helena consolidated with Roxboro High School.

Over the weekend came the news that Enfield might not field a football team this fall. Monday this was confirmed by letter from Enfield officials. Temporarily, at least, the Bulldogs were left with eight games and Twitty was left with the shakes.

Late Monday an agreement was reached with Ayden, perennial Class A powerhouse, calling for a two-year series. The Tornados will appear here on October 24 and in 1970 the Bulldogs will play at Ayden.

Ayden, always a contender has been State Class A Champions with regularity over the years and has boasted some very impressive win streaks. A number of Tornados have gone on to play college ball and the community itself is widely known for its overwhelming support of the school's athletic programs.

Enfield lost only eight players to graduation last year and was expected to field a strong eleven this season. The Halifax school system is facing an injunction hearing in federal court on August 25 and the uncertainty of school opening at Enfield is apparently one of the reasons for dropping football. One report indicates that only seven boys showed up for initial football drills this year.

Helena, traditionally the final game of the season for Louisburg, was also caught up in school desegregation and Person County consolidated rural Helena with the Roxboro High School. This would have been the third year on a three-year contract with Enfield. Helena was a member of the former Tar River Conference.

This year, Louisburg is a member of the Franklin Area Conference with Franklinton, Wakelon and Oxford Orphanage.

The Bulldog schedule as now slated is as follows: Sept. 5, at Elm City; Sept. 12, Norlina here; Sept. 19, at Franklinton; Sept. 26, Warrenton, here; Oct. 3, at Oxford Orphanage; Oct. 10, Wakelon, here; Oct. 17, Scotland Neck, here; Oct. 24, Ayden, here; Oct. 31, at Littleton and Nov. 7, Open.

Davis Is Jet Winner

Stem - The Davis brothers - Benny and Walter of Haw River - put on an exciting finish here Saturday night as Benny captured the Jet 100 NASCAR-sanctioned late model sportsman race at Jet Motor Speedway.

Benny piloted his Plymouth to a three-car length victory over Walter in the 100-lap event. Ernie McBroome of Hillsborough finished third, Earl Moss of Creedmoor was fourth and Haskell Willingham of Columbia, S. C., wound up fifth.

The two pre-race favorites, Moss and Willingham, tangled on the 45th lap, exited the race for hasty repairs and re-entered the event to finish fourth and fifth, respectively. Eleven cars were running at the finish.

In the 25-lap late model hobby feature, J. L. Blackwell of Creedmoor beat out Ronnie Hartsfield of Raleigh for the checkered flag. Carl Daniels of Raleigh was third. In qualifying, Willingham set a track record with a speed of 78,602 miles per hour.

Another race program is on top for Saturday night, August 16, 1969 with over 115 laps in late model sportsman and rookie division. There's expected more NASCAR drivers along with Benny and Walter Davis, Earl Moss, Haskell Willingham, Ernie McBroome, and Mac Mangum. Ernie and Mac were unable to run due to having repairs made to their cars.

FARMERS TRACTOR & TRUCK CO.
On the By-Pass
LOUISBURG, NORTH CAROLINA

August 12, 1969

Dear Customers:

As the result of a contractual agreement with the International Harvester Company, we have been able throughout the season, to offer with the purchase of a Cub Cadet Tractor, a mower absolutely FREE. As an alternate selection we also offered the choice of a free cart for those preferring this to the FREE mower.

This offer resulted in some of our customers realizing savings up to $218.00 and many took advantage of this opportunity.

The agreement with International Harvester expired on July 31 and prior to that time, we were sorry to see it end and we said so.

Apparently other IH Dealers across the country expressed these same sentiments because we have today received from International Harvester Company notification that the 1969 Mower Free-For-All Program and the Cadet 60 Cart-A-Way are being extended through August 31.

We hope that you will take advantage of this extension on what has proven to be one of the most popular savings offer in our history. Come in today. Let us tell you all about it.

Sincerely,
J. O. Seppert
