A survey of our Community to determine the final size of the Garden Chapel Mausoleum will be conducted. Upon completion of this survey, construction will begin. The Garden Chapel Mausoleum will be wrapped in time eternal Granite, nature's hardest building material. The Chapel window of Heavy Leaded Cathedral Glass, featuring - "Christ The Good Shepherd"

Provides for You . . .

The most secure protection for your loved ones in above-ground crypts. Architecture of a classic design will lend a sense of beauty that cannot be outdated. The finest and strongest building materials of steel, granite and reinforced concrete will be used with the most up-to-date construction methods to guarantee a building—not only of beauty—but of enduring dignity. The quality of materials and construction would compare with the pyramids built many thousands of years ago for Egyptian Kings which are still standing today in perfect form.

The Better Way . . .

Certainly the sorrow and emotional strain are lessened in the knowledge that the departed sleeps in such a beautiful, protected structure. Family and friends may come and leave with the assurances of peace and protection afforded by such a memorial.

Memorialization Is Scriptural Historically . . .

Jesus Christ was laid in a rock hewn crypt, and early Christians followed this memorialized entombment. Men of all ages have revered their dead and all religions have expressed their ideas of life after death by building memorials, tombs and sepulchers. Almost every structure remaining today from very ancient times was built as a burial monument. The pyramids of Egypt were built with unbelievable massiveness and permanence, reflecting their belief in the after-life.

Peace Of Mind . . .

Visualize the beauty of your own individual family memorial made from time defying imported Roman Travertine marble. This is part of each selection made in the Mausoleum.
