

thing, it is feared, can now restrain the people in that region from taking signal vengeance upon the enemy.

The news spread like wildfire in Bangor—consternation is depicted on every countenance. This affair was so entirely unexpected that one is horror-stricken.

Friday 31, 6 1-2 P. M.

Just arrived in Boston. Shall be in N. York on the morrow. Would give you some further particulars—but my horse is at the door, and I must hurry on to Washington.

Yours, JOSEPH FAIRBANKS.

THE REPUBLICAN.

LINCOLN, N. C.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1841.

Our acknowledgements are due to our immediate Representative, Hon. G. W. Caldwell, for an early copy of the President's Message.

TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE.

This body has got into a considerable snarl about the election of United States Senators. A joint resolution had passed both Houses proposing to go into the election on the 2nd inst., but when that day arrived no quorum could be got, as the Democrats refused to go into convention, contending that the election should be made by each House in its separate and organized capacity.

CONGRESS.

So far, the proceedings of this body have been entirely destitute of interest, no important measure having yet been brought forward in either branch. In the House of Representatives, on the 12th inst., Mr. Adams presented several abolition petitions, which were refused under the 21st rule. Mr. Adams also presented a petition praying for the repeal of the 21st rule, and moved to refer it to a select Committee.

ing for the repeal of the 21st rule, and moved to refer it to a select Committee.— This gave rise to some debate; after, which the question was taken, and resulted in a tie—ayes 96, nays 96. The chair having voted in the affirmative, the motion was carried. A point of order was then raised—that any petition which gives rise to debate must lie over for one day—which was entertained by the chair; and under it, he decided, that this petition must lie over.

We have not noticed any thing else in the proceedings of either House worth recording.

EXTRAVAGANCE.

One of the most grievous sins charged on the Administration of Mr. Van Buren, was its alleged extravagance; and this charge, perhaps, operated more to his defeat than any other trumped up during the campaign by the thousand malignant and lying spirits of Federalism. The charge was seen in glaring capitals in every Federal sheet and dwelt upon by every Federal stump orator in the land; and John M. Morehead went so far as to make "extravagance at Washington" the cause of all our woes.

MARRIED.

In this Town, on Wednesday the 15th inst., by Rev. Adam Miller, Mr. ALFRED L. HOKE to Miss NANCY C., daughter Mr. John Clinc.

here yesterday, one reddish old barrow carried his tail any thing but gracefully between his legs; "that's Prewett," says we, but the offended dignitary "unfolded a tail" with an enormous grunt, which has been translated by our devil into "I be shot if it is."

Proscription.—Mr. Trist, late our able, honest, and fearless consul at Havana, has been removed to make room for one of the shouters for "Tip and Ty" in the last Presidential election? Of the new consul's private character and qualifications for the station, we know nothing; but in our opinion Mr. Trist's untarnished honor and the sacrifices he has made, and the wrongs he has endured in the manly performance of his duty, rendered him the last man who ought to have been displaced to make room for any one.

DETENTION OF AMERICAN SHIPS BY BRITISH CRUISERS

The strong and decisive closing letter of Mr. Stevenson to Lord Aberdeen, which sums up the arguments maintaining his protest against the seizure and subjection of American ships at the will of the commanders of British cruisers in the African seas, will be found in our columns. We have not room in our columns for the whole correspondence, and it is not necessary to a full understanding of the subject discussed to wade through it, as Mr. Stevenson in the last letter succinctly, clearly, and with the utmost fairness, recapitulates the ground insisted on by Lord Palmerston in the correspondence with him, while directing the course of the British Administration in relation to the subject, and that subsequently held with his successor. It will be seen that both assert the right for Great Britain of searching our vessels in the African seas, and subjecting them to detention and examination by British sea captains—and as a necessary consequence—to suffer all the humiliation, all the harassment, all the wrong which a petty tyrant commanding a British cruiser may choose to inflict.

THE LIFE MEDICINES

THE LIFE MEDICINES are a purely VEGETABLE preparation. They are mild and pleasant in their operation, and at the same time thorough-acting rapidly upon the secretions of the system—currying off all acrimonious humors, and assimilating with and purifying the blood. For this reason, in aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, the Life Medicines will give relief in a shorter space of time than any other prescription.

PROSPECTUS OF THE MADISONIAN.

THE undersigned having purchased a controlling interest in the MADISONIAN, proposes to issue a DAILY PAPER from this office on or about the 15th of December.

We propose to labor for the entire restoration of the pure doctrine and faithful practices of the founders of our Republic—not to battle for the mere exhibition of partisan dictators. To advocate those principles of our patriotic fathers, which were altogether designed to ensure the prosperity and happiness of the Confederacy, in their original purity—not to tear down the modern fabric of demagogues to erect pedestals for other ambitious and dishonest aspirants.

PROSPECTUS FOR THE CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX.

THESE works have now been published by us for ten consecutive sessions of Congress, commencing with the session of 1832-3. They have had such wide circulation, and have been so universally approved and sought after by the public, that we deem it necessary only in this prospectus to say that they will be continued at the next session of Congress, and to state, succinctly, their contents, the form in which they will be printed, and the prices for them.

THE STATUE OF WASHINGTON

The Statue of Washington was placed upon its pedestal in the rotundo of the Capitol on Wednesday last. The pedestal is about eight feet high. The statue, as stated by Governor Everett, a short time since, represents Washington sitting, the upper part of his person in a state of nudity, the right hand raised, though scarcely "pointing to Heaven," but rather in the attitude in which a strong man would place it to strike a heavy blow.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

We are glad to see manifestations of the true spirit in regard to the Convention of the 10th of January. We trust the same feeling will operate throughout all our borders, and that every County will send Delegates to this important meeting. We respectfully recommend to our Democratic Republican brethren, to appoint no proxy if it can possibly be avoided, but let us see the Representatives of the undimmed Democracy of the Old North State, in their own proper persons.
