

ing to a powerful speech from Senator Wright, of New York—fined and discharged. Another said, a member (Mr. Harvard of New York) was making an argument to the House, but it being about dinner time, and the argument of his stomach proving the strongest, he went to dinner,—fined also. Mr. Stanley wanted to know why Judge Saunders was absent at home. Mr. G. W. Caldwell said he was called to attend Wake Court to defend two culprits for horse-stealing. Mr. S. seeming not satisfied with this explanation, Mr. C. replied, he could probably silence the gentleman's objections by stating that both the culprits were Whigs of the first water, and would certainly be hung if Judge S. had not gone home to defend them, and the party would have thus lost two votes!—This brought Mr. Stanley to his seat, and convulsed the House with laughter.—Id.

"You tickle me, and I'll tickle you."—On the adjournment of the recent Federal Convention at Raleigh, Gov. Morehead gave the Delegates a splendid party. According to what data, it was none of your "common doings,"—none of your nibbling gingerbread and tipping hard cider, but a real "p-a-r-t-y" on the highest order of gentility. A huge pound-cake, sent by the Federal anti-war Governor of Massachusetts, "honest John Davis," was consumed on the occasion—typifying, we suppose, the manner in which Governor Morehead is to erode Massachusetts Federalism down the throats of the people of North Carolina. Bah! the mere idea of the dose will create a retching!

What a proper set of fellows these Federalists are! They lavish the people's money on a bankrupt rail-road; and when they wish to get up a political Convention, this rail-road offers a passage at half price to all Delegates who will attend; the Delegates assemble, renominates Gov. Morehead and besmatters him with praise, and he, in return, gives them a grand "gentle" feast and jollification! Hurrah! hays. But, hark!—won't the people have to "pay for the roast?"
Mecklenburg Jeffersonian.

Mr. Webster.—This gentleman, who now holds under President Tyler the most important office in his power to bestow, is, according to the showing of his own party, the most corrupt and unprincipled man that ever lived. A Washington Whig paper says, his word would not be taken in a business transaction there any sooner than that of a common street loafer. And this is the American Secretary of State!—whom the whigs used to call "the Godlike Daniel," the "great defender of the Constitution!"—Id.

The Clay Whigs abuse John Tyler for running counter to the policy they say Gen. Harrison would have pursued, if alive, and for turning out the members of the Cabinet appointed by the deceased hero of North Bend;—while they with equal bitterness, abuse him for keeping in office Daniel Webster, the only remaining member of the Harrison Cabinet. They applauded Tyler till he was elected, and lauded Webster till he was appointed to office; and now abuse both like pick-pockets! Surely honesty among our opponents is a rarity!—Id.

TEXAS.
Late accounts from Texas and Mexico induce us to believe that Santa Ana's blustering and threatening attitude is about to subside; but he has raised a storm amongst the Texans, that will be likely to give him some trouble. Troops are pouring in from the United States and joining the main army, which is preparing for an invasion of Mexico.

The New Orleans Bee of the 11th inst. says, "The schooner Ringold arrived yesterday, in our port, brought Matamoros papers to the 3d inst. Gen. Arista and his troops were at Monterey, 400 miles from the Texian frontier. The Monterey papers, received by the Ringold, reach to the 21st ult. We find in them a letter from Gen. Rafael Vasquez, commander of the invading forces, dated on the banks of the Rio Grande. The Mexican General gives a detailed account of his retreat, which, he says, he had effected without the Texians dressing of opposition. Upon his arrival on the banks of the Rio Grande, the horses of his soldiers were so exhausted by fatigue, that in case of an attack they would have been of no service.

"A letter from Pedro de Ampudia states that he possessed himself of Goliad with only 120 men.

"The Mexican journals state that these incursions into the territory of Texas are but the prelude to ulterior operations of grave import."—Greenville Mountaineer.

Casualties.—On Thursday last, a whig gone by the name of GODFREY BELLOCK, of Lincoln County, was killed by lightning about 10 miles west of Wadesboro. He was overtaken by a storm, and drove his horses near an old store to protect them from the rain, and was standing by their side, when a tree was struck in about 25 yards and a portion of the subtle fluid struck him producing death in about 15 minutes. On the next day, STEPHEN PORTER was crushed to death by accidentally falling on the cog-wheel of the mill just completed by W. B. McCorkle. Mr. Porter was a steady and respectable man, a mason by profession, and was engaged in working on the mill.

NEW TERMS OF THE

LINCOLN REPUBLICAN

THE Proprietors of the Lincoln Republican Press, finding it impossible to continue long the present system of credit have determined to issue proposals under which that paper will be conducted after the close of the present Volume. And with the view of rendering its circulation as wide as possible, they offer it to the public on the following terms, viz:

At Two Dollars a year, payable in advance. The names of the present subscribers, will, consequently, at the expiration of the present Volume be stricken from the list, unless the advance payment for the ensuing year be made before the first number is issued.

The Proprietors deem it unnecessary to offer any arguments to show the necessity of keeping the Republican in operation. It is the most Western paper in the State devoted to the cause of Republican principles, while there are two other Presses of opposite politics still in the West of Lincoln. And it must be apparent to every one, that the Democratic population of Lincoln and the surrounding Counties, require an organ through which their doctrine and sentiments may be advocated.

The Proprietors have no pecuniary interest in view—they seek no gain for themselves, but have been induced to make these proposals solely by the desire to render the Press more efficient in the cause in which it is engaged.

Those persons to whom a Prospectus is sent are requested to return it to the office by the first day of June next. And immediately after the receipt of the first number they will transmit the amount of money arising from the subscriptions they have received.

Should the number of names thus returned, be sufficient to warrant the Proprietors in commencing another Volume, the subscribers may expect the first No. within a few weeks after the termination of the present Volume.

THE SUPERIOR FOAL GETTER AND THOROUGH BREEDING LION.

RIOTT.

A NOBLE SON OF THE ILLUSTRIOUS OLD SIR ARCHIE.—that old Sir Archie, whose sire was the imported sorrel Diomed, and whose unrivaled progeny has stood at the head of the American Turf during the last thirty years, and whose pure blood, like our excellent Constitution, must be preserved, or the American people made to suffer. Gentlemen of the Turf freely own, that the blood of old Medley and many other fine horses, might have been preserved much longer, to the great benefit of the American stock of horses, and now will they let the precious blood of old Sir Archie float down the stream of forgetfulness? or will they resort to his noble son RIOTT, for that portion of it which he is so ready and willing to impart? RIOTT is in fine plight, very vigorous and healthy, ready at all times to despatch his customers, and let them return to the plough or their accustomed occupation.

In tendering his professional services to a generous community, he trusts that his just claims may be duly appreciated, and his wants freely ministered unto, during the Season which is now open and will close on the 1st day of July next.

His services during the whole season, will be rendered at Fifteen dollars a mare; or he will ensure conception for Twenty-five Dollars, when the foal is ascertained of the property transferred, and in every case Fifty cents a mare, cash up or cash down. To his trusty groom—Mares led with RIOTT shall be well attended to, and fed to order upon very moderate terms, but, in no case, will I incur responsibility for escape, casualties or damages; but under the excellent management of his skillful groom, none need be apprehended, especially when it is considered with what great care and loving kindness, this old veteran addresses himself to those that will willingly receive his affectionate embraces.—He will occupy "log cabin" Stables alternately during the Season at the following named places, viz: On Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, at Rutherfordton, and on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays at Mr. Jas. H. Halls, 2 1/2 miles North of Rutherfordton on the RIOTT was sired by that paragon of horses, the renowned Old Sir Archie, by the imported sorrel Diomed from whose loins sprung an innumerable host of race horses that like his fame are well known on both sides of the Atlantic, and the pride and boast of every country—the dam of RIOTT formerly the property of Col. W. E. Johnson and Mr. Drayton of Va., was sired by Sir Francis Barden, which was one of the best sons of the unaged four mile race horse Potomac, by the above imported Diomed, and of course half brother to old Sir Archie. Lordet's dam was by the imported Citizen the grand sire of the great Monsieur Tomson, and his three distinguished brothers, his grand dam was by the imported Mousquet out of a Selim, she out of a Jolly Roger, she out of the celebrated imported mare, Mary Gray—the grand dam of RIOTT, was sired by the imported Bedford, and the size of the great Stuylock, and many other capital racers, his great granddam was half sister to Jolly Roger, and sired by the distinguished horse Federalist, his g. g. grand dam was by the imported horse Old Jakes who was also the sire of the distinguished horse Meads' Old Celer, his g. g. grand dam was by the imported Jolly Roger from whose pure veins sprang the first noted long distance race horse ever known in the United States.

Reference to the above rich Pedigree will show that in point of blood RIOTT stands unrivaled, and is closely allied to the illustrious Monsieur Tomson and the invincible Boston who vanquished all their competitors at long distances for a world of money. He was bred by the Hon. A. R. Govan, late of Northampton county, N. C. and sold to Gov. H. G. Burton, dec'd., for $2000 at three years old. Nothing need be said in favor of RIOTT, when his splendid colts and their performance are known, to such as have had the pleasure to let it be said that I have many certificates in my possession which go to show beyond doubt, all that may be said in his favor as a stallion of the finest order.— Breeders would do well to see him before making any engagements.

Morganion road; his time at each however shall conform to the interest and convenience of his friends and customers—reserving to himself the customary privilege of going to public places to contract new acquaintances and court their favors.

DESCRIPTION.

A Zoographer, capable of presenting to the public all that might be said of RIOTT, is not to be found in these papers.—Upon an impartial view of all his superior and matchless points, one might almost conclude that when he was made, the extensive shop of Nature was ransacked, and the very best materials selected and placed in the hand of the most skillful and experienced artificer, to enable them to make a display of their profession, and present to the World such a wonderful animal as RIOTT.—The following imperfect sketch of his high form, great symmetry &c., may be somewhat acceptable to such as may not have the pleasure of seeing him and judging for themselves. Like many of his superior colts, RIOTT stands sixteen hands high upon a fine set of hard, long, fluty legs and horn-like hoofs of the highest polish and finest finish, as black as Johnny Q's, course on the perplexing subject of abolition—his stylish easy action and elastic movements on a court yard, reminds one of a candidate for the Constable place—his fine flowing black mane and tail, and glossy coat of silken hair of rich blood red color, give evidence of his purity of blood—his loud Lawer like bellowing when working and prancing before an object of his highest delight under the gaze of his sparkling eye ready to receive his kind embraces, is conclusive proof of the great strength of his lungs—his pleasant docile countenance teaches us to infer, that his colts will be mild and gentle in their disposition—his muzzle is exactly of the right size and shape; he has a set of teeth equal to those of his sire and grand sire, which enabled them to masticate their food and live to the great age of Twenty-eight years; and no horse can live that long without good teeth—to enable him to breathe free and easy, nature has given to him a fine pair of nostrils, equal in size to old Eclipse's, and Capt. Harrison advertised his to be nearly as large as a Doctor's shop—on the top of his lean bony head, as high as Whig calculation on getting a National Bank at the late extra Session of Congress, may be seen a nice well shaped pair of erect Ears, that seldom flop, like some have under the force of Captain Tyler's Veto—His long, beautiful, well arched neck, that loses itself between a snapper pair of broad, deep oblique shoulders together with a bricket that challenges comparison with that of any other horse, are all upon real race horse order; between his high thin weathers, and full prominent hips, that run well up, is to be seen a buck of the highest form; under which is a chest of that order which will suit either the race, harness or saddle horse;—the eye is next fenced with a view of a pair of heavy, jump up thighs, and a cluster of heavy muscles, that he about and decorate his all powerful houghs and arms. It should be asked, why RIOTT never distinguished himself on the Turf, let it be answered, that he never run, but one race; that was four mile heats at Halifax N. C. against a field of horses and he was second in it, altho' evidently out of order from the effects of a founder a few days previous to the race. He was then transferred to the hands of a Gentleman whose clerical notions for badels further exercise.

PEDIGREE.

RIOTT was sired by that paragon of horses, the renowned Old Sir Archie, by the imported sorrel Diomed from whose loins sprung an innumerable host of race horses that like his fame are well known on both sides of the Atlantic, and the pride and boast of every country—the dam of RIOTT formerly the property of Col.
