TUESDAY, OCTOBER 8,

AN ENGINEER WITH FAITH!

Well, said the engineer, I wish I could tell you.

Would it be possible for you to hurry
a little? said the auxious, tearful moth-

No, madam, I have the time-table, and the rules say we must run by it.

She turned sorrowfully away, leaving the bronzed face of the engineer wet with tears. Presently she returned and said, are you a christian?

I trust I am, was the reply.

Will you pray with me that the Lord may in some way delay the train at the investige?

Why, yes, I will pray with you, but I have not much faith. Just then the conductor cried, all

The poor woman hurried back to the deformed and sick child; away went the train climbing the grade.

Somehow, said the engineer, every thing worked like a charm. As I prayed, I couldn't help letting my engine out jast a little We hardly stopped at the first station, people got on and off with wonderful macrity the conductor's antern was in the air in a half minute and then away again. Once over the summit it was dreadful easy to give her a little more, and then a little more, as I prayed, till she seemed to shoot through the air like an arrow. Somehow I couldn't hold her, knowing I that the road, and on we dashed up to the junction, six minutes shead of time.

There stood the other train, and the conductor with the lantern on his arm.

well, said he, will you tell me what I am waiting here for? Somehow I felt I must await your coming to-night but I don't know why.

I guess, said the brother conductor, it is for this poor woman, with her sick and deformed child, dreadful anxious to get home this Saturday night.

NEGROES WHIPPING NEGROES.

ALL SOLID MEN

[Baltimore Gazette.]

It was on the rail. A crowded smoking car to the Centennial. Two young men had made a bet on the political opinions of their fellow travelers. The first person they approached was an elderly gentleman, high black stock, evidently a fine gentleman of the, old school. He looked as if he was pretty well up in politics. Respectfully they approached him.

approached him.

"How do you intend voting at the forthcoming election, sir?"

"How do I intend voting? Do you take me for a d—d accoundrel, sir? There is only one way for an honest man to vote. I vote for Tilden, sir."

After a thorough canvassing, the young men discovered that there was not a d—d scoundrel in the car. The vote was solid for Tilden.

for Tilden.

A CLOSE CONTEST IN OHIO.

Columbus Correspondence N. Y. Herald.] It is safe to predict that the contest will be very close. The calculation of the Republicans that they have placated the Germans, show description was the cause of their defeat in 1874, is upset by the vigerous use the Democrats have made of Barnes' connection with the crusaders. Franz Sigel has also given partial check to Carl Schurz in the effort to retain this vote, the alliance of which with the Republicans gave Governor Hayes his victory last year. With the Germans all against them last year the Democrats were barely beaten. They count to get a large portion of their vote this year. Democrats exaggrerate and this year. Democrats exaggerate and Republicans depreciate the r-sult of the State election as an effect upon the Presidential campaign

PROBABLE DEMOCRATIC SUCCESS IN

[From Smalley's letter to the N. Y. Tribune.] And will the democrats win? I be-lieve they will not, but my opinion is that of a man engaged in the fight, and not of an impartial observer. I must admit, locking at the relative strength of parties as shown in former contests, and at the conditions of the present struggle—the groenback movement and the apparent solidity and energy of the democratic masses—the chances seem to be in their favor. THE FINAL RESULT IN MAINE.

The full vote at the recent election Maine has finally been made public. On the congressional vote the republicans have an aggregate majority of 11,188 against 12,137 in 1874, and 18,182 in

Not long ago an engineer brought his train to a stand at a little Massachnaetts village, where the passengers have five minutes for lunch. A lady came along the platform and said:

The conductor tells me the train at junction P. leaves fifteen minutes before our arrival. It is Saturday night, that is the last train. I have a very sick child in the car, and no money for a hotel, and none for a private conveyance, a long, long way into the country. What shall I do?

Well, said the engineer, I wish Level.

That our readers may see with what favor our paper is received by our editorial brethren, we give below a few extracts embracing "what they say" of us:

NOTICES OF THE PRESS. [Newbern Times, Rep.]

The leading democratic paper in the state [Toisnot Transcript.]

The Faleigh Sentinel under its new mans-gers and proprietors is greatly improved, and is now one of our most valued exchanges.

The Raleigh Sentinel publishes a six page weekly, the largest and hands mest paper we have seen printed in North Carolina. It shows enterprise and thrift, the result of good management and live thunder.

Goldsboro Messenger.] The Raleigh Sentinel, under its present able management shows a decided improvement. Edited with marked ability, its general make up and typographical appearance is excellent. * We wish the new mangement every success.

[Hickory Press.] We are glad to herald the appearance again of that useful democratic journal, the faleigh Sentinel. It has passed into entirely new hands, and there is evidently some one about who knows how to prepare something readable, for every issue teems with news and democratic soundness.

[From the Salem Press] The Raleigh Sentinel, under the new management has been much improved in manner and matter. We have been in regular receipt of the Daily Sentinel for a week or more, and hope its daily visits will continue. Specimen numbers can be seen at this office Price of the Daily $8 per annum.

[From the Fayetteville Wide-Awake.] The Sentinel, the name of which has been a terror to radicalism since Holden pledged "the last dollar and the last man" to the support of the Confederate States government, has passed into new hands, and is assuming an attitude from which it will hard many a destructive caulater into radical Greensboro Masonie Journal.

The Raleigh Sentinel came to us last Wed, nesday as a merning daily and decidedly improved. The new managers and editor promise to do be ter in the future, and present a better paper than the initial number. They may perhaps do it, but we can't see much chance for improvement. Gentiemen, we

[Robesonian.]

The Raleigh Sentinel, under the present management, is very generally improved. It contains as much reading matter as hereto-fore, and isone of the very best daily papers in this state. In common with a great many people of this s ate we revere the name of the Sentinel, and will always learn of its prosperity with pride and pleasure. They have reduced the rates for the campaign, as will be seen in another column.

[Vicksburg (Miss.) Herald.

The Raleigh Sentinel needs no eulogy from us. Every one that reads it knows how it stands on all important topics of the day, and although some may differ with it, yet all can say that it is slucere in its course, and is working for the best interest of the peopl of North Carolina.

[Murphy Herald.]

[Murphy Herald.]

The Sentinel is a living exponent of democracy, seeking, by the force of polished argument, to prove the necessity of restoring both state and national government to the guidance of the democratic party. Under its present able management it takes an enviable position among the best journals in the land, increasing the former prominence of its name, by maintaining the highest degree of efficiency. Every democrat in the mountains should take it, and every republican who does not desire an addition wrinkle to his brow, should shun it, for its persuavive arguments entail thought. With better mail facilities, Murphy would contribute to the support of the Daily Sentinel, and this assertion is based on the extensive circulation enjoyed by the Herald's copy.
