That our readers may see with what favor our paper is received by our editorial brethren, we give below a few extracts embracing "what they say" of us:

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

[Newbern Times, Rep.]
The leading democratic paper in the state.

[Tolson Transcript.]
The Raleigh Sentinel under its new management and proprietors is greatly improved, and is now one of our most valued exchanges.

[Richmond, Va. Whig.]
The Raleigh Sentinel publishes a six page weekly, the largest and handsomest paper we have seen printed in North Carolina. It shows enterprise and thrift, the result of good management and live thunder.

[Goldsboro Messenger.]
The Raleigh Sentinel, under its present able management shows a decided improvement. Edited with marked ability its general make up and typographical appearance is excellent. We wish the new management every success.

[Hickory Press.]
We are glad to herald the appearance again of that useful democratic journal, the Raleigh Sentinel. It has passed into entirely new hands and there is evidently some one about who knows how to prepare something readable, for every issue teems with news and democratic soundness.

[From the Salem Press.]
The Raleigh Sentinel, under the new management has been much improved in manner and matter. We have been in regular receipt of the Daily Sentinel a week or more, and hope its daily visits will continue. Specimen numbers can be seen at this office. Price of the Daily $5 per annum.

[From the Fayetteville Wide-Awake.]
The Sentinel, the name of which has been a terror to radicalism since Holien pledged "the last dollar and the last man" to the support of the Confederate States government, has passed into new hands, and is assuming an attitude from which it will have a destructive canister into radical ranks.

[Greensboro Masonic Journal.]
The Raleigh Sentinel came to us last Wednesday as a morning daily and decidedly improved. The new managers and editor promise to do better in the future, and present a better paper than ever before. They may perhaps do it, but we can't see much chance for improvement. Gentlemen, we wish you success.

[Robesonian.]
The Raleigh Sentinel, under the present management, is ever generally improved. It is a much needed paper as heretofore, and is one of the very best daily papers in this state. In common with a great many people of this state we revere the name of the Sentinel, and will always learn of its prosperity with pride and pleasure. They have reduced the rates for the campaign, as will be seen in another column.

[Vicksburg (Miss.) Herald.]
The Raleigh Sentinel needs no eulogy from us. Every one that reads it knows how it stands on all important topics of the day, and although some may differ with it, yet all can say that it is sincere in its course, and is working for the best interest of the people of North Carolina.

[Murphy Herald.]
The Sentinel is a living exponent of democracy, seeking by the force of polished argument, to prove the necessity of restoring both state and national government to the guidance of the democratic party. Under its present able management it takes an enviable position among the best journals in the land, increasing the former prominence of its name by maintaining the highest degree of purity. Every democrat in the mountains should take it, and every republican who does not desire an addition wrinkle to his brow, should shun it, for its persuasive arguments attend thought. With better mail facilities, Murphy would contribute to the support of the Daily Sentinel, and his assertion is based on the extensive circulation enjoyed by the Herald's copy.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, AFFAIRS IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Raid of Negro MILLS on Mount Pleasant--Fearful Threatening of White Men and Women--An Appeal to General Ruger for Protection--Effect of the Cainho Massacre.

[Special dispatch to the New York Herald.]
CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 22, 1876.—The reign of terror in the low country continues, and the few whites who live there are in momentary terror of their lives. The massacre at Cainho has emboldened the negroes, and yesterday evening a band of 400 of the militia, armed with state guns, and supposed to be the same men who were engaged in the Cainho butchery, marched into the village of Mount Pleasant and uttered loud threats of murdering the inhabitants and burning the town. They rushed through the streets firing their muskets and shouting "Remember Cainho."

There are about forty white citizens in the town and about fifty colored democrats.

PREPARATIONS FOR DEFENSE.

Those collected together, armed themselves as best they could, moved all the women and children into one house and made preparations to defend them. A steamer, lying at the wharf, was got ready to bring the women and children to the city, which is about two miles distant from Mount Pleasant. The white and colored democrats--against the latter of whom loud threats were made by the negroes--remained on guard all night, and the republicans, finding that they were determined to make a stand, did not carry out their intention.

A RETURN TO THE SWAMPS.

They left for the swamps about daylight, threatening to return soon and burn the village, kill the men and outrage the women. This statement is a literal relation of what was witnessed by a Herald reporter, and is not in the least exaggerated. Many of the negroes were those implicated in the Cainho massacre.

CAUSE OF THE ATTACK.

The attack upon the town was caused by the report that a colored democratic meeting was to be held there. Not one of the negroes implicated in the butchery of the whites at Cainho has yet been arrested, although the sheriff, who is their leader, knows them all.

AN APPEAL FOR TROOPS.

A meeting of the citizens of Mount Pleasant was held to-day, and a committee was appointed to go to Columbia, wait on General Ruger and ask for a company of federal troops to be stationed there. The negroes in this section outnumber the whites over ten to one, and since the Cainho carnage have become perfectly outrageous. Unless the government sends troops many white men and women and colored democrats will be murdered.

A DAY OF PRAYER.

It was announced in all the white churches to-day that Thursday, the 26th, would be observed as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer for the success of the movement for good government.

A DIABOLICAL OUTRAGE.

At Somerville, twenty miles from this city, on Saturday, an attempt was made by negroes to outrage the little daughter of the band master of the First United States artillery, stationed at that point. No arrests have been made as yet.

The troops in camp at Cainho report everything quiet. The negroes have not yet come to the village.

RIOTOUS NEGRO DEMONSTRATIONS IN CHARLESTON COUNTY--ANOTHER ACCOUNT OF THE MOUNT PLEASANT AFFAIR.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 22, 1876.—Riotous demonstrations of negroes, generally supposed to be the result of the Cainho affair, are reported from various points of Charleston county. A serious demonstration of negroes at Mount Pleasant village, opposite Charleston, is causing great alarm to the white residents, who will petition General Ruger for troops.

WADE HAMPTON'S ADVICE TO SOUTH CAROLINIANS.

AUGUSTA, Ga., October 22, 1876.—General Hampton, in a speech at Aiken, told the people to offer no resistance to arrest, but to submit quietly to everything. If United States soldiers are ordered to fire upon the people the latter must not resist, but bare their breasts and be willing to die for the good of their country. The people are determined upon a peaceful victory and must give no pretext to their enemies to find the slightest grounds for the charges made.

Vance for Civil Liberty--The Habeas Corpus Order.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT OF N. C.
Adjutant General's Office,
Raleigh, 26th May, 1863.
General Order, No. 9.

Militia officers are ordered not to arrest any man as a conscript or deserter who may have been discharged under a writ of habeas corpus tried before any Judge of the Supreme or Superior Courts of this State.

They are further ordered to resist any such arrest upon the part of any person not authorized by the legal order or process of a Court or Judge having jurisdiction of such cases.

By order of Governor Vance,
DANIEL G. FOWLE,
Adjutant General.

You are foolish. Negroes are registering every day.

VANDERBILT.

(Woodstock Patriot.)
The anxiety to prove Vanderbilt dead must be very uncomfortable to that gentleman. It is not because the world has any particular spite against him that the demise of this railroad magnate is so desirable, it is simply the rage for speculation, and the anxiety of certain operators in New York to make a "big thing" by the fall of stocks which would inevitably ensue. Then, also, the metropolitan newspapers wish a sensation, and if we may believe the correspondents who write letters from that city, the Commodore's house has been besieged for months by a small army of reporters, all eager to get the first intelligence that the richest man in America has paid the debt of nature. The avenues to the telegraph offices are so guarded that it is almost impossible to get a bogus dispatch over the wires; but in this case the attempt succeeded, and the forgers bore a no less respectable name than that of Rev. Dr. Deems, a gentleman as old as the sick man himself, and his lifelong friend. A similar dispatch was sent from Troy, N. Y., a few years ago, announcing that Vanderbilt had been stricken down with apoplexy at Saratoga, and bearing the forged signature of one of the editors of the Times. This message was handed to a messenger boy while bearing night dispatches to a morning paper, and was never traced to its rightful source. Of course, railroad stocks took a tumble and somebody was made rich. Sometimes old men die, who through poverty or long illness, have been burdensome to themselves and friends; but here is a man who through his riches has become a burden to the world. He shows a wonderful hold upon life, this physical giant among men, but die he must at no distant day, and then his immense wealth will take new directions, and much of it will be scattered for the benefit of thousands against whom it has been for years locked up. Astor, Stewart, Vanderbilt, Lack, all dying within a year, must inevitably let loose a vast amount of capital that rightly belongs to the world.

PERSON COUNTY SUPERIOR COURT.

[Hillsboro Recorder.]
We were present last week at this court, arriving on Tuesday morning, too late to hear Judge Kerr's charge to the grand jury, except a supplementary one on the subject of court house building. The judge was very earnest in recommending a larger and better building, one suitable to the character of the county, and better able to accommodate the people, witnesses, jurors and others, as well as the county officers. It cannot be denied that the present building, a low, small one story brick building, is altogether unsuited to its purposes and we hope the suggestions of the judge will be heeded.

There was little business of importance before the court. The criminal docket was light, at least in the character of offences. One young man, white, was sentenced to the penitentiary for 5 years for larceny. If the criminal docket was light the civil docket was lighter, and the bar was able to devote the whole of Wednesday to the trial of the title to a cow and calf.

On Tuesday afternoon court was adjourned to give Mr. Turner another opportunity to look horns with Major Graham. It seems a little surprising that the former gentleman should have gone into the county of Person to beat Major Graham, the regular nominee, by a rebuff of old Sentinel editorials, but so it was, and they heard what they had read for the thousandth time, the old story, Hawkins, and the Chatham Railroad, swapping off bonds, and thieving corporations, the attempt to corrupt his immaculate honesty by the offer to buy the Sentinel, lawyers set on him to break him down, editors set up to dog him and so on ad infinitum and ad nauseam. He had as well have poured water into a rat hole as to expect that any of his ideas or arguments could find a lodgment in the brain of a Person county man or that their fidelity to party obligations could be seduced by the former attachment of the people to him. The democrats of Person will vote as a unit for Major Graham.

This gentleman replied to Mr. Turner in masterly style and utterly annihilated him in the opinion of the hearers, though Turner with his usual pertinacity came back to a reply. But while Major Graham's speech was a fine argument, covering not only all the ground necessary to confute Turner, but going most searching and eloquently into national affairs, Turner in his reply fell back into the old rut in which he is doomed to travel in his political grave.

Col. E. B. Withers, of Caswell, followed in a most able and animated speech on political affairs generally, and proved himself there, as he has always done, one of the most clear headed, as well as one of the purest politicians we have ever met with.

Conversations with him as well as with McGehee gave the pleasant assurance of the sound condition of political affairs in Caswell and Person--the almost certainty of success in the former; the full assurance of it in the latter.

The press was represented, though not so fully as usual. Father Evans of the Chronicle was there in good health, and in good spirits considering that newspapers did not seem to be in demand. Daniel Deichert of the Danville Border Express, J. W. Thackston of the Ridsville Times and ourselves all represented the "great want of the people" but as a general thing, we were all unheeded prophets. But we all pray for the deliverance of the land from intellectual darkness.

EVERY VOTER IN THE STATE SHOULD SEE THAT HIS NAME IS PROPERLY ON THE REGISTRATION BOOKS.
