NOTICES OF THE PRESS. [Newbern Times, Rep.]

The leading democratic paper in the s [Tolsnot Transcript.]

The Raleigh Sentinel under its new mana-ters and proprietors is greatly improved, and s now one of our most valued exchanges.

[Richmond, (Va.) Whig.]

The Raleigh Sentinel publishes a six-page weekly, the largest and handsomest paper we have seen printed in North Carolina. It shows enterprise and thrift, the result of good management and live thunder. [Goldsboro Measenger.]

The Raleigh Sentinel, under its present able management shows a decided improvement. Edited with marked ability, its general make up and typographical appearance is excellent.

[From the Salem Press]

The Raleigh Sentinel, under the new management has been much improved in manner and matter. We have been in regular receipt of the Daily Sentinel for a week or more, and hope its daily visits will continue. Specimen numbers can be seen at this office Price of the Daily $8 per annum.

[From the Fayetteville Wide-Awake.]
The Sentinel, the name of which has been a terror to radicalism since Holden pledged "the last dellar and the last man" to the support of the 'onfederate States government, has passed into new hands, and is manuning an attitude from which it will hard many a destructive canister into radical ranks.

[Greenaboro Masonic Journal.]
The Raieigh Sentinel came to us last Wed, nesday as a morning daily and decidedly improved. The new managers and editor promise to do better in the future, and present a better paper than the initial number. They may perhaps do it, but we can't see much chance for improvement. Gentlemen, we wish you success.

[Robesonian.]

The Baleigh Sentinel, under the present management, is ver generally improved. It contains as much reading matter as heretofore, and is one of the very best daily papers in this state. In common with a great many people of this state we revere the name of the Sentinel, and will always learn of its prosperity with pride and pleasure. They have reduced the rates for the campaign, as will be seen in another column.

(Vickaburg (Miss.) Herald.

The Raleigh Sentinel needs no eulogy from us. Every one that reads it knows how it stands on all important topics of the day, and although some may differ with it, yet all can say that it is sincere in its course, and is working for the best interest of the people of North Carolina.

[Murphy Herald.]

The Sentinel is a living exponent of democracy, seeking, by the force of polished argument, to prove the necessity of restoring both state and national government to the guidance of the democratic party. Under its present able management it takes an envisible position among the best journals in the land, increasing the former prominence of its name, by maintaining the highest degree of efficiency. Every democrat in the mountains should take it, and every republican who does not desire an addition wrinkle to his brow, should shun it, for its persuasive arguments entail thought. With better mail facilities, Murphy would contribute to the support of the Daily Sentinel, and this assertion is based on the extensive circulation enjoyed by the Herald's copy.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Northern Speculators.—The Maryland Republican Tax Levy.—Boss Shep herd's Contribution to His Party.— Avery's Pardon in Prospect, Special dispatch to the Baltimore Sun. THOSE SOUTHERN CLAIMS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Intelligence received here from several of the southern states indicates complete satisfaction with the letter of Gov. Tilden on the southern claims. The idea that the letter would be hurtful to Gov. Tilden in the south is simply preposterous, for, as he says, the great bulk of all the southern claims have passed out of the hands of the original owners. Most of them are held by well-known lobbysists here, who are staunch supporters of here, who are staunch supporters of Hayes and Wheeler. These, with the claim agents generally, anticipate a much more fruitful harvest with Hayes as president than with Tilden.

POLITICAL TAXATION. A Maryland department clerk, who

A Maryland department clerk, who has paid up the assessments levied by Secretary Chandler for the use of the national republican campaign committee, was somewhat disgusted at receiving the fellowing a few days since:

Headquarters Maryland Republican State Central Committee, 128 West Baltimore street, Baltimore, Oct. 16, 1876—Sir—I am directed by the finance committee of the Maryland republican state central committee to request of you a contribution of twenty-four dollars to aid in defraying the necessary expenses of the campaign. Please let me hear from you on or before October 20, 1876. Please send city draft, postal order or registered letter, and oblige, yours respectfully. spectfully.

GEO. M. McComas, Treasurer. No response to our last. Answer this BOSS SHEPHERD'S CONTRIBUTION. Before Secretary Chandler went to New York Gov. Shepherd handed him his check for $10,000 as a contribution to the republican campaign fund, with the provise that $5,000 of it should be sent to South Carolina.

CHIEF CLERE AVERY'S CASE.

The president in conversation said that he had just ordered the evidence in the case of Wm. O. Avery, late chief clerk of the treasury, to be looked into. If Avery had been convicted on Con. Maguire's testimony he said that he would pardon him at once, and feel guilty for not having pardoned him sooner, as he would not convict a dog on Maguire's evidence.

REPUBLICANS FOR TILDEN

[New York Sun.]

It is plainly apparent to even super-ficial observers that since the western elections the countenance of the average republican politician is much elongated in every part of the country. Here, in the state of New York, there are special reasons for this drooping of the republi-reasons for this drooping of the republican visage.

The fact is that a large proportion of the solid and well-tried republicans will vote for Gev. Tilden. They are not gathered up in busches; they do not reside in much force in any particular locality; they belong to no faction. They are scattered all through the state, are not noisy partisans, seldom talk on politics, do not come under the denemination of liberals or independents, but are of that substantial class of citizens who have voted the republican ticket in who have voted the republican ticket in an unostentations manner, and given that party all the victories it has won in New York during the past twenty years. Thousands of this sort of republicans will vote for Samuel J. Tilden, and give him New York by a vast majority. In 1872 Grant had 52,000 here, and in 1876 our Uncle Samuel will probably have more rather than less than that.

EDUCATION IN GEORGIA.

According to the Atlanta Commonwealth in 1873, the first year of democratic rule in Georgia since the war, the colored pupils educated at the expense of the state under the state free school system were 19,755, or 13,091 more than the year before under republican rule. In 1874 the colored pupils numbered 42,874, or an increase of 22,619 over 1873. In 1875 the number of colored scholars educated by the state was 50,359. It will thus be seen that in Georgia 112,448 colored children were educated under democratic rule in three years, against 6,664 under republican rule, or a difference in favor of democratic liberality to the blacks of 105,824. This is a very significant shewing. According to the Atlanta Common-

GOV. HENDRICKS ON SOUTHERN WAR CLAIMS.

Gov. Hendricks, of Indiana, reached his home at Indianapolis on Thursday night from a protracted series of political engagements in Illinois and Indiana. He was interviewed upon the southern claims question and Gov. Tilden's letter, and said that he was glad that Mr. Tilden had been afforded the opportunity to place himself upon the record in such an admirable manner. He said that he thought the letter would do much except OPIUM and Morphina fished speciality and thought the letter would do much good for the gause, as it would prevent the public mind from being mialed through malicious misrepresentation. He said that his own position in the premises was heartily in accord with Mr. Tilden's, referring to a speech recently made wherein he showed up the claims question is its true light, THE SLAYER OF JIM FISK.

[St. Louis Times.]

The history of Edward S. Stokes, the man who killed Jim Fisk, will bear study, if it does not "point a moral or adorn a tale." On last Saturday morning at 8 o'clock he completed his three years' term of impraenment, and walk d forth from Auburn, N. Y., state prison a free man ence more. And notwithstanding the fact that the expenses of his three trials for murder, lawyers' fees and other items, including his final verdict, have amounted in five years to over $300,000, Stokes will come out of prison a comparatively wealthy man, his oil refining works at Hunter's Point, which have been taken care of by his mother, being very valuable property. It is also said that he has speculated since he has been in prison, and is the owner of a very valuable patent for paving streets, which he purchased frem a convict while in Sing Sing.

But Stokes has learned that severe old lesson: "The way of the trausgressor in head?"

But Stokes has learned that severe old lesson: "The way of the transgressor is hard." He is no longer the soi disant Broadway elegant, who five years ago paid $2,000 a year to his tailer to keep him attired in the latest fashions of the day. His incarceration seems to have been no gala day with him. He said to a New York Herald correspondent a few days ago, in response to a question as to how he felt: "Well, Mr. —, I don't feel well at all. I was pretty nickeyears."

days ago, in response to a question as to how he felt: "Well, Mr. —, I don't feel well at all. I was pretty nighgone. For four weeks I thought I would die, and I have suffered terribly since I came here. I tell you I thought I would never leave this hespital. You do not know what persecution I have suffered since I left Sing Sing. Think of the cruelty of sending me nearly three hundred miles from Sing Sing to this place, with my hands and feet in irons. Then I have been kept on bread and water, and have not even been allowed prison fare, as bad as that is. I do not wish to find fault with Warden Durston; it was the state prison inspectors Clark and Crowley, that ordered it. I am a little better; but sometimes I have intermittent fever and I am all flushed now from it, and the asthma hurts me. You do not know and I am all flushed now from it, and the asthma hurts me. You do not know how I have suffered. I assure you I will bear up until the day comes for my release as well as I can, if they don't kill me before the 28th of October. My letters have been interdicted and intercepted. I have not been allowed to see anyone since I came here."

cepted. I have not been allowed to see anyone since I came here."

Misfortunes in multitudes have visited Stokes since the fatal day when Fisk fell at the foot of the Grand Central stair case. His brother Clinton died of consumption, and his father died a year ago, worried to death by grief for his son's disgrace. His wife has procured a divorce, and he has an accomplished daughter eighteen years old, who has forsaken him. He seems to have no friends left him at the end of his term, save his mother, who has stood by her save his mother, who has stood by her unfortunate son with unfailing devotion throu bout his terrible ordeal. She alone hevers like a guardian angel around the prisoner, though he is blighted and fallen.

'Around the dear ruin each wish of heart Will entwine itself verdantly still."

At the early age of thirty-eight he is broken and shattered in health, emaciated irritable, with stooped figure and

Stokes expresses his intention to go to Europe for a short time upon his re-lease from prison. But this cup of bitterness will scarcely depart entirely from him. Wherever he may roam he will behold a thousand multiplied images of his crime and its consequences, re-flected from the mirror of his own mem-

WHY THE SOUTH CAROLINA DEMO-CRATS ASK FOR TROOPS.

[New York Herald.]

A delegation of Charleston democrats have asked for the protection of United States treops. Why? A letter we received some days ago from a lady of Charleston tells the reason. The ruffianly part of the blacks of Charleston, this lady complained, daily gather in the streets, insult ladies and frighten children with vague threats of violence and murder. This has gone on for some time. There is no remedy for this grievous abuse and danger. The local govtime. There is no remedy for this grievous abuse and dauger. The local government does not give protection; the governor neglects his duty as conservator of the peace and order of the state, and the white men are forbidden by Chamberlain's proclamation to carry arms or to organize to protect those dear to them. What can they do? If they undertake to punish these black ruifians they outlaw themselves, and net only that, but they help Chamberlain to raise a lue and cry of insurrection, Every one must rejoice that they have restrained the natural impulse to crush ruffianism themselves. They have asked for federal troops—what else had Chamberlain left for them to do, except to suffer the continued insults to ladies to suffer the continued insults to ladies and children of the lawless blacks?
