NATIONAL HOTEL.

CAPITOL SQUARE, RALEIGH, N. C.

C. S. BROWN, PROPRIETOR.

The National is one of the best arranged, and the most perfectly ventilated Hotel in the State, and being delightfully situated by Capitol square, it is one of the best summer residences in interior North Carolina.

The main portion of the building is constructed with the view to afford SUITS OF ROOMS and PRIVATE PARLORS to such guests as desire them.

For Political Headquarters the National is the best adapted Hotel in the city, having large Parlors on the ground floor connected with private apartments.

Union or Capital Square, with its shaded walks, grand forest oaks and beautiful shrubbery is one of the prettiest and most delightful resorts in the country, thus affording the guests of the National all the advantages of one of the handsomest little Parks in the United States.

A magnificent double portico, fronting and overlooking Capitol Square, extends along the entire front of this really handsome building, rendering it the most desirable house in the city for ladies, children and sojourners of every class.

The cool, shady and breezy location of the National, itself occupying one whole square, keeps it free from flies and mosquitoes through the entire Summer.

A row of single-story offices, suitable for business and professional gentlemen, is attached to the Hotel, and always at the service of such as desire them.

Experienced and polite Porters attend all trains with good Coaches and Baggage wagons, and guests of the National may rely on good attention, good fare and excellent drinking water.

Bath Rooms and Water Closets ARE ON EVERY FLOOR.

In the basement is the best SALOON and BILLIARD ROOM in the city.

HILLSBORO RECORDER.

ESTABLISHED 1830. THE OLDEST PAPER IN NORTH CAROLINA.

The RECORDER, apart from its political merits, offers superior inducements to the merchant of Raleigh as a medium of advertising. It has a large and increasing circulation in the counties of Orange, Alamance, Person and Caswell and especially in those sections of Orange and Alamance, most closely connected by the interests of trade with the city of Raleigh. The merchants of Raleigh will find it vastly to their advantage through this medium to build up a metropolitan wholesale trade, and center upon Raleigh the business that goes to other states.

Manufacturers will also profit by the growing spirit of agricultural improvement, and the tendency to the adoption of labor-saving machinery, to reach the ears and eyes of a large and intelligent class of readers through the medium of the Recorder.

THE SENTINEL.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 5th, 1865.

OLDEST PAPER AT THE CAPITOL.

The public so far as we can read their wishes, desire a vehicle of thought at the metropolis for the masses—not simply for those who follow in the same wake or utter the "shibboleth" of a class, but a medium of inter-communication, with sufficient vigor and space for the liberal, conservative, loyal sentiment of all shades to find vent.

The SENTINEL will be loyal and ingenuous to both Federal and State governments. It will sustain the military authorities in the preservation of quiet and order, and in enforcing the orders of the government. Not a disloyal or unkind word against the government of the Union of these States shall pass our lips, but it will be true without sycophancy, honest without flattery, nor will it lie to shield its own throat.

It shall advocate sound principles and support good men. Its motto is not "principles, not men," but principles and men. A bad man can find no quarters with the SENTINEL. A good man—a man of truth, of high toned integrity—a gentleman in the true sense, honest and capable, if we are not deceived, can alone claim our support.

After eleven long years of trial, adversity and changes of fortune to our people, stands to-day upon the same platform on which its venerable founder erected it.

For more than eleven years the SENTINEL has stood guard for the rights and liberties of the people, and to-day, when the State has emerged from the darkness of radical rule, and the future is as full of hope and promise as the past was dark and gloomy, it pledges itself to the high service of the good people of the great State of North Carolina.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 2.

THE ELECTION.

[J. H. Mills in Orphan's Friend.]

The long agony is ended. Hundreds of dollars have been lost and won, and hundreds of hopes are withered and blasted.

"Unnumbered supplicants crowd proferment's gate. Athirst for wealth and burning to be great; Desires of fortune hears the incessant call; They mount, they shine, evaporate and fall."

The "Ins" are packing up the "pickings" of a long career in office. The "Outs" are smacking their lips with the thoughts of a thousand sweets in store for them. But without regard to office seekers, the people currently desire an honest and efficient government; a government which will detect and punish criminals, and allow honest citizens to live in peace, and enjoy the fruits of their labors.

Gov. Vance, most dreadfully belittled, during a long campaign, with infamous accusations, has been called, by a vote which 8 times over the claims and charges, of his opponent, to hold the helm of the ship of state. The people remember him as kind, vigorous and competent in time of war and they trust him still in time of peace.

Capt. Jarvis will preside over the senate with dignity and decorum. Maj. Engelhardt is a gentleman of pleasing address and business talents. Drs. Worth and Love have managed their own funds and accounts so well that the people now say, "take charge of ours." And now we have an articulate of public instruction an educated gentleman, in sympathy with the prevailing party, an experienced teacher, a man who will prove faithful, honest and competent.

We are satisfied with the official elected; but we are not satisfied with the laws as heretofore enacted. New laws are especially needed for the protection and education of children. A man dies and leaves children and property. An administrator and two lawyers take charge of the estate and find hardly enough to pay their own commissions and fees. "Something is rotten in the state of Denmark."

A rich man's second wife grows tired of the first wife's boy, and gives him away to one who hires him out and live a wretch on his wages. The boy never learns to read, feels that a foul wrong has been perpetrated against his rights, and he can no longer love a country which has given him no protection. Every boy has a claim on his country, and his country has a right to read the laws of his country and the commitments of his master. It is wicked, as well as absurd, to compel ignorance and to require obedience.

A poor man and his wife die. They leave a thirteen-year old girl; a man seizes her and puts her on a train and carries her two hundred miles, to one who wants a servant; then he takes pay for his trouble and goes away. Now that girl has rights which the state ought to protect.

A poor ignorant woman hires out her daughter as a servant to a negro family, to black the boots of negro boys before they start to school. That girl has rights which the state ought to protect.

A negro family opens a boarding house for white children, at two dollars and fifty cents a month. Soon they are crowded with children whose parents sell in luxury and play with their lap dogs. Now these children have rights which the state ought to protect.

But, alas, we started to write an article on the election. Well, every row in England leads to London, and every subject leads us to the children.

JUSTICE TO BROGDEN.

Gov Brogden, of North Carolina, has done himself credit, and in some measure, at least, repaired the damaged reputation of the southern republicans, by issuing his proclamation from the state house at Raleigh, declaring all the democratic presidential electors to have been duly elected. The various rumors that have been in circulation about the bulldozing of the electoral vote of North Carolina, to which we referred yesterday for the purpose of discrediting them, are thus happily set at rest. If the other republican governors in the south had acted with equal honesty, there would now be no such sickening anxiety and disgust among the people of all sections, and no such apprehension of revolution and bloodshed. Governor Brogden has done his duty honorably. Let it be remembered to his credit.—Petersburg Index-Appal.

PEOPLE AND THINGS.

Dress reform is still agitating the female mind.

And now they call it the late continental exhibition.

The western people are clamoring for extended postal facilities.

"Simmering in sumptuous sin" is the way a New Orleans paper talks about police-court wickedness.

A few days ago a vicious bull dog jumped upon an infant in New Orleans, and literally tore its tender flesh into shreds.

The New York Sun claims that the radical ring of Pennsylvania corruptionists, who have had their headquarters at Harrisburg, are about transferring their seat of action to Washington, under the leadership of Don Cameron.

Tweed and T. Weed have both been prominent New York politicians.

HOORIBLE DISCOVERY IN PARIS.

While angling for refuse in the Seine in Paris, recently, a vagrant felt an unusual weight encumbering his line. He took steps to pull out of the water what he expected would be a valuable find, when, to his surprise, he discovered it to be the trunk of a young woman, the bonds of which were tightly tied together with a cord. The body presented marks of having been cut open with a hatchet. Horrified at the unwelcome sight, the poor man ran for the commissary of the district, who immediately telegraphed for M. Jacob, chief of the police. The latter had the river dragged, with the result of finding the legs and other parts of the corpse. These, as was the case with the trunk, were found wrapped in a petition of printed cotton. As soon as they were collected a medical examination was made of the remains, and they proved to be those of a female of about twenty-eight years of age, who evidently belonged to the working class. From their appearance they could not have been in the water above two or three days. Crows went to the Morgue, where the marjored woman was placed on view. No trace has yet been discovered either of identity or of the perpetrator of the crime.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The advertiser, an old physician, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hand by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple Vegetable Remedy, for the speedy and permanent Cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Motivated by this motive, and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he will send (free of charge), to all who desire it, this receipt, with full directions for preparing and successfully using. That our readers may see with what fervor our paper is received by our editorial brethren, we give below a few extracts embracing "what they say" of us:

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

[Newbern Times, Rep.] The leading democratic paper in the state.

[Toisnot Transcript.] The Raleigh Sentinel under its new managers and proprietors is greatly improved, and is now one of our most valued exchanges.

[Goldsboro Messenger.] The Raleigh Sentinel, under its present able management shows a decided improvement. Edited with marked ability its general make up and typographical appearance is excellent. We wish the new management every success.

[From the Salem Press.] The Raleigh Sentinel, under the new management has been much improved in manner and matter. We have been in regular receipt of the Daily Sentinel for a week or more, and hope its daily visits will continue. Specimen numbers can be seen at this office. Price of the Daily $5 per annum.

[From the Fayetteville Wide-Awake.] The Sentinel the name of which has been a terror to radicalism since Holden pledged "the last dollar and the last man" to the support of the Confederate States government, has passed into new hands and is assuming an attitude from which it will hurl many a destructive canister into radical ranks.

[Greensboro Masonic Journal.] The Raleigh Sentinel came to us last Wednesday as a morning daily and decidedly improved. The new managers and editor promise to do better in the future, and present a better paper than the initial number. They may perhaps do it, but we can't see much chance for improvement. Gentlemen, we wish you success.

[Robesonian.] The Raleigh Sentinel, under the present management, is ver generally improved. It contains as much reading matter as heretofore, and is one of the very best daily papers in this state. In common with a great many people of this state we reverse the name of the Sentinel, and will always learn of its property with pride and pleasure. They have reduced the rates for the campaign, as will be seen in another column.
