

Congress meets in three weeks.

Gautau's sister is said to be crazy.

Cannot the postal authorities arrange a pouch to leave Raleigh for Newbern?

And now let the people of Virginia prepare for the inundation of Northern capital.

Virginia bonds declined six cents on the first news—where will they go to? To the waste basket.

From the Wilmington papers we learn that the injunction proceeding in behalf of Mr. Matthews to prevent the consummation of the sale of the Carolina Central to President Robinson has been withdrawn, and that the sale will be completed.

The Republicans have had possession of the New York Legislature time out of mind. This year the Democrats turned the tables on them, and now say to the discomfited jobbers and ringmen of that corrupt party, "Not this year, some other year."

On Thursday an elevator fell from the fourth story of the Belvedere Hotel, New York, to the ground, the rope breaking. A number of persons were standing upon it, and were severely injured. Some, it is thought, would certainly die. We prefer the steps.

The Virginia Readjusters have proclaimed their intention to put only pledged men on the Supreme Court bench, men who are not to decide according to law and the constitution, but according to their pledges. Farwell judicial parity in Virginia's highest court.

The fusion or coalition movement which the Republicans tried in Virginia, uniting their colored cohorts with unscrupulous whites, was also tried in Mississippi, but there it failed. The Mississippi Democrats say to the Radicals, "Not this year, some other year."

Among the mummies recently discovered at Thebes was one whose casing indicated a doubt as to its age, but on the removal of the outer wrapping it was found swathed in its original bandages and on its breast an inscription showing it to be Ramesses the Great, who lived ever so far back.

The attorneys employed in the star route cases say that they are going to mend their licks and present bills of indictment for the action of the grand jury next month. They blame the district attorney, Corkhill, for discharging the grand jury so as to prevent bringing the cases before that body this fall. Corkhill, it is said, is to lose his place.

It is announced that in consequence of the admission to the North American Review of "recent articles" (Bob Ingersoll's apparently) D. Appleton & Co. have declined to act as Editor Rice's publishers after the close of the present year. By the way, the editor of the North American Review declares that Judge Black cannot rightfully find fault with his own magazine.

The Star says that Mr. F. Martens, who has charge of the steam fire engine "Adrian" horses, discovered a human jaw-bone in the midst of a pile of ball-bast a few days since, with a full set of teeth only one of which was in the least decayed. It was examined by a professional gentleman, versed in such matters, and pronounced the jaw-bone of a young man about twenty years of age, who had been dead only about three years, as indicated by the character of the skeleton.

The Constitution says that Atlanta writers are in demand. Miss Fannie May Witt has just contributed a serial story to the Savannah Weekly News, and this is to be followed by a novelette from the pen of Miss Mat Crim. Why don't our Southern folks write more? Is it constitutional modesty, the absence of ambition, a shrinking from notoriety, or unwillingness to do mental labor. A paragraph says that Bulwer never wrote more than three hours a day. After an early breakfast he wrote until ten, and that ended his day's work. In three hours each day one can accomplish a great deal.

Mr. Atkinson, in his Atlanta address, mentioned that the wages of a laborer for a single day would bring his supply of provisions for the whole year from Chicago to Boston, more than 1,000 miles. In Massachusetts, while there is $75,000,000 invested in cotton mills, there is $100,000,000 invested in railroads and more capital deposited in the savings banks than the sum of both put together. This is the lesson of frugality, thrift and enterprise. Indeed, it is the deposits of the saving banks which supply the mills with the necessary working capital.

There was a big real estate transaction at Crown Point, Lake county, Ind., recently. Mrs. Caroline Forsyth and her husband, Col. Jacob Forsyth, signed a warranty deed for a 5,000 acre tract of land owned by them, located about fourteen miles from Chicago, for which $1,000,000 is the consideration. The purchaser was William W. Green, of New Jersey, who immediately gave a warranty deed to the East Chicago Improvement Company, the consideration being $3,000,000.

Dr. Wm. A. Hammond has expressed a very strong opinion regarding cigarette smoking. He believes that cigar smoking is beneficial to adults after eating, or when the labors of the day are over, but the use of tobacco in any form is highly injurious to young persons and women. He says parents should prevent their boys from smoking cigarettes, which are worse than cigars, as the paper absorbs the nicotine. The effects upon growing boys are to destroy their appetite, stunt their growth, injure their voices and affect their memory.

The new "Fontaine" locomotive, to run with a double set of wheels, making 95 miles an hour, has not stood a satisfactory trial. Experts declare that the damage to the tracks is greater than the economy in time, and that, while upon a perfectly straight road the locomotive might make a splendid performance, it is not adapted to the grades and curves of the Pennsylvania road. An officer of the company adds: "Now, for instance, we take an engine of the kind known as 'long-legged loco. No. 10,' hitch on ten cars and start her off. Away she goes, swinging around curves and climbing mountain sides, and giving the speed that the builder calculated in his model. I doubt if the Fontaine engine could make any kind of time up a mountain side with one car, and I should feel considerably alarmed in a swing around a curve behind the new machine. You can rest assured that such a style of engine will never be adopted on this road, and I do not think it will be wanted in the West, for it could not run against the heavy winds they have on roads out there."

The naval advisory board recommends the building of forty-one new navy vessels, twenty small gunboats, to make ten miles an hour, and the balance very large vessels of steel to run fifteen miles an hour. We think it would be better to have some old-fashioned sailing frigates, and some light, smart gunboats, capable of making seventeen miles an hour, leaving the heavy and costly vessels to be built hereafter. At present we have no need for them, and until the present contract between projects and armor defenses is determined, it would be unwise to build larger vessels that might answer no good purpose.

Mahone has been interviewed. He says: "What a struggle it has been! Just think of what we have to contend against. The aristocracy, society, the church, the bondholders and all. What a struggle, and the Republican coalition did not work so smoothly as it ought." There is a good deal of candor in that. He admits that even society was against him. He was a leader of a movement at war with all that men hold dear in our civilization, and he so acknowledges. What an outlaw and outcast he must feel himself to be. He says that the United States Senator to be chosen will be either Riddleberger or Wise, who we believe is the son of Henry A. Wise, a Republican.

When the Democratic Congress last year passed a bill reducing the rate of interest to three per cent., and relieving the banks of certain taxes, the Republican leaders raised a great hubbalooboo over the matter, and declared that the banks would be ruined by such legislation. Indeed, the pressure brought to bear on the President was so great that notwithstanding it was apparent that a three per cent. bond could be floated at par, he vetoed the bill in the interest of the banks. Mr. Windom, the Secretary of the Treasury, subsequently extended the bonds at 3 1/2 per cent. He now claims that the Democrats were wrong, and tries to show that things are better, as they are than they would have been under the Democratic 3 per cent. bill. He says the difference in interest between 3 1/2 per cent. and 3 per cent. on the debt is only $2,897,800, while the taxes proposed to be repealed are $8,676,699, and that his plan is better, therefore, by $5,777,899 than the Democratic plan. That, however, is specious reasoning. These taxes consist of the heaviest ones—taxes on the banks, and are a charge upon business. We are, therefore, unnecessarily taxing business to pay the amount so unnecessarily raised over to the bondholders. But apart from that, what has become of the cry raised against the Democrats that they were oppressing the banks when the net result of the law would have benefited about seven millions of dollars more beneficial to the banks than the present arrangement, according to this Republican Secretary? Oh, consistency, thou art a jewel.

A SINGULAR question is presented in New York. There is a law there forbidding a Judge to hold office after he has attained the age of 70 years. Judge Spier, one of the Judges, thinks that he will attain that age in 1882, having been born, according to his recollection, in 1812. He therefore sent in his resignation to take effect December 31, 1881. But some one having found an old family bible in which the birth of the Judge was set down as occurring in 1810, the Democrats conceived that the office was already vacant under the law and ran a candidate for it. The Republicans in like manner made a nomination, but their nominee having learnt from Judge Spier that he was born in 1812, took his word for it and withdrew.

Mr. O'Gorman, the Democratic nominee, was thus elected without opposition. He will apply for induction into office, but the Governor will probably hold the election a unity and appoint some one else on December 31. A contest over the office will then possibly arise, to be determined by the finding of a jury as to whether the entry in the bible is to be believed or whether Judge Spier's recollection is the better evidence of the date of his birth. We suppose that almost any man would know pretty much when and where he was born; but contemporary entries in family bibles are very good evidence.

In the Charleston Courier we find a very excellent letter from Atlanta descriptive of the Southern fair's exhibition at the grand Southern fair. It is signed J. C. H., and would make two columns of this paper. The writer devoted himself exclusively to our woods and vines, and proposed in his next to speak of "the agricultural and manufacturing resources of the good old North State." We will make some extracts hereafter. Also in the Cincinnati Enquirer we find a very interesting letter concerning North Carolina, a part of which we hope to print in our next issue. The Constitution also devotes quite a long editorial to the display made of North Carolina woods and productions. Indeed so many good things are being said about our exhibits in the leading papers of the Union, that we feel much regret at our inability to copy them. We can only make our acknowledgments of such general appreciation and feel happy.

It is suggested that the North Carolina Press Association shall attend the Atlanta Convention, and to that end the secretary is now in communication with the railroad authorities seeking to arrange for transportation. If a favorable reply be obtained, it is likely that a special meeting of the Association will be called at an early day. The plan will doubtless be to assemble at Charlotte and go in a body from there to Atlanta, remaining in the Gate City about three days, which would give ample opportunity to visit the fair. We anticipate that the call will be for some day towards the first of December. Regularly twenty days' notice is necessary before calling a special meeting, but as this meeting is not for purposes of business, we presume the violation of the by-laws in this respect will not be regarded as a serious offense. Let us prepare to go and see this wonderful display of Southern products.

The following prominent visitors were invited to seats in the convention: Rev. Dr. J. L. M. Curry, of Richmond, Va., president of Foreign Mission Board of Southern Baptist convention; Rev. Dr. P. A. Douglass, of New York, corresponding secretary of the American and Foreign Bible Society; Rev. Wm. Beavins, of New Hampshire; Rev. Dr. W. H. McIntosh, of Marion, Ala., corresponding secretary of Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention; Rev. D. W. Thomson, of South Carolina Convention. The introductory sermon of the convention was preached by Rev. Dr. T. E. Skinner, pastor of the First Baptist church at Raleigh. It was a great effort, and, though occupying more than an hour in delivering, was followed with marked attention by the congregation.

The committee to whom was referred the propriety of making the treasurer of the convention a bonded officer, recommended that he give a bond of $10,000. Mr. J. E. Ray, corresponding secretary, was called upon. He spoke of the importance of having a large supply of books, maps, lesson books, &c. Rev. A. C. Dixon favored making Raleigh a central point for supplies. Organize churches first; we want no school unless under the direction of some church. The destitution of Bibles in Western North Carolina, he declared, was alarming. On motion the whole matter was referred to a committee of one from each association. The president announced the following committees: On Presidents—J. E. Carter, A. C. Dixon, P. Oliver, J. K. Faulkner, C. A. Jenkins. To nominate Board of Missions—C. T. Bailey; J. A. Stradley, E. Frost, J. B. Richardson, Theo. Whitfield. To nominate S. S. Board—J. M. Heck, T. G. Wood, P. P. Hobergood, D. G. Woodson. To nominate Board of Education—C. E. Taylor, P. A. Dunn, J. A. Munday, A. G. McManaway. On Obituaries—Theo. Whitfield, F. H. Jones, E. L. Davis, E. Dodson, R. A. Patterson. Items from the report of the Sunday school board: Sixty-seven new schools have been organized during the year. Number of schools at last report, 650; present number, 692; number of attendants, 48,000; contributions to this work in various ways, $7,300.01. There was pledged for State Missions $3,400, and with this there will be raised by associations enough to make this amount about $10,000. The committee to nominate preachers for the next session reported as follows: Introductory sermon, C. A. Jenkins; H. A. Brown, alternate. Missionary sermon, J. E. Carter; J. B. Boone, alternate.

THIRD DAY.

The report on education was read, being the special order for the hour. The report was full of facts and figures. From 1830 to 1840 the average number aided annually by the board was two, now there are twenty-three. The receipts of the board for the year have amounted to $3,463.63. This is in advance of anything that has ever been done by the Baptists of North Carolina in a single year. Fifty-seven new school houses have been erected in one county in the past twelve months. Upon this report interesting speeches were made by Prof. C. E. Taylor, Dr. Skinner, Dr. Richardson and Dr. Taylor. The report of the board was adopted.

Report of committee on Sunday school board was adopted. The committee appointed to consider the report of the Sunday school board recommended that the board raise sufficient capital the coming year to purchase and keep on hand a supply of Sunday school literature, books, maps, papers, etc., in order that it may furnish our Sunday schools with the literature, selling to all who can buy, at the lowest prices, also supplying as far as possible, without cost to them, the destitute places within our borders. Recommended that churches take up stated collections in behalf of their Sunday school board. The evening session was spent in the discussion of this subject. One thousand dollars was raised for this board.

Boston has analyzed her drinking water, and the Globe of that city prints a map of the result, which is quite an interesting manager. Among the animalcules shown we recognize the skeletons of the megatherium, the glyptodon, the ichthyosaurus, the plesiosaurus, and the pterodactyl, all of which lived before the flood. The vegetable matter brought to light by the microscope includes what appears to us to be a broken cart wheel, a section of stove-pipe, a prize beet, a clothes-horse and an old saddle. We are not surprised that the temperance party in Massachusetts is making progress backward.—Nor. Boston Herald.

in order to step directly into the compartments. Passengers are not permitted to cross the track, unless by the elevated or the "under passage" ways. On the continent the station platforms are low, as with us generally. Upon the arrival of a train at a station, the porters, who are always numerous, have on their hands luggage doors and ask if there is any luggage to carry. Hacks, cabs and omnibuses abound to wait upon passengers, but there are no express delivery wagons or transfer companies, as with us generally. The baggage car is a double-decked car, and is used for the carriage of baggage, and is called the "baggage van," and a freight accommodation train is called a "goods train." They have a "checking system" for baggage, and the traveler must look after his baggage at the different stations, which is a source of endless perplexity to our countrymen. They consequently have most European travel with only such luggage as they can carry in compartments with them.

TARBORO FAIR. An Entire Success Beyond all Anticipation—A Large Attendance and Exhibit. [Special to THE NEWS AND OBSERVER.] Our fair at this place, now in progress, is the best of all the exhibitions held here. The appreciation of the public is made evident by the fact that on Thursday it was estimated that 12,000 people were on the grounds. No fair ever held in North Carolina contained so many fine horses, thoroughbred and otherwise, for show and for racing, as the grounds contained 86 stalls and they were all full. President W. S. Battle, of the Edgecombe Agricultural and Mechanical Fair Association, formally opened the fair, making a good speech. Senator Lanson delivered one of the best of his many eloquent addresses, and electrified the people. Edgecombe can beat all the State on fairs. The attendance was large to the last, with no abatement of interest. X. Helping the Party. In the days gone by a Detroit sheriff who had made a close shave of being elected, had the ill luck to lose a prisoner from the jail. The fellow made good his escape to the country, but the sheriff overhauled him about eight miles out and drove him under a barn. The prisoner was captured and yet he was not. If he could not get out the sheriff could not get in, and threats had no effect on him. In this emergency the officer called out: "Say, Jim." "Yes." "You know I had a mighty close shave getting this office?" "You did that." "Well, I'm laying my pipes for a second term. If I lose you I might as well hang up. The opposition will hold it in letters four feet high, and hundreds of men in my own party will slip my name. Do you hear me?" "I do." "Well, I ask you to come out, not exactly as a prisoner going back to jail, but more as a patriot bound to stand by his party. Come, Jim." "I'll be hanged if I don't!" replied the prisoner. The judge was agin me, my sentence was unjust, and I hate your jail, but if it's going to help the party and crush the hydra-headed opposition out I come!" A Case of Conscience. A citizen of Detroit entered a Michigan avenue grocery the other day and said he wanted a private word with the proprietor. When they had retired to the desk he began: "I want to make confession and reparation. Do you remember my buying sugar here two or three days ago?" "I do." "Well, in paying for it I worked off a counterfeit quarter on the clerk. It was a mean trick, and I come to tender you good money." "Oh, don't mention it," replied the grocer. "But I want to make it right." "It's all right—all right. We knew you passed the quarter on us, and that afternoon when your wife sent down a dollar bill and wanted a can of sardines I gave her that bad quarter with her change. Don't let your conscience trouble you at all—it's all right. A Tar Heel on Post. It was a North-Carolinian at last who wooded the row at Yorktown. There he stood as sentry in his buttoned clothing, with orders to let no one pass without giving the countersign. One fellow approached and sought to pass, but the tar heel came down with his bayonet and demanded the countersign. The fellow handed out two or three old countersigns, but they would not do, and then he showed the grip and said to the tar heel, "I don't want to pass you, but I don't want to be shot either." The tar heel wouldn't pass any way. Then showed the grip in the old tar State. The sentinel throwing down his gun began to shake his coat, saying as he did so: "I won't shoot you nor I won't stick you, but you ain't passin' here without me to whip!" and at him he went with his fists doubled and in his shirt sleeves, and the stranger retired in good order. Some of the Danville Grays witnessed the whole thing, and regret that they didn't find out the name of the tar heel soldier. Who was he? [Reidsville Times.] Behold the Printer. He is Hunting for a Pick-up of half a Line. He has been hunting for Two Hours. He could have Set the half Line in twenty Seconds, but it is a Matter of Principle with Him never to Set what he Can pick up. The Printer has a Hard time. He has to Set type all night and Play Pedro for the Beer all Day. We would Like to Be a Printer were it not for the Night Work.—Dexter Tribune Primer. Mr. Chas B. Wayman, Erie, Pa., writes: "My physician has given me up to die. They told me my lungs and liver were all decayed and gone. I was very weak, pale and emaciated. By chance I saw Brown's Iron Bitters in a medicine store. I bought a bottle and immediately let it be beneficial effect. Soon all dyspeptic symptoms disappeared, my lungs grew strong, pain in the region of the heart vanished, my urine became free of sediment, and in a word I have regained perfect health. Now I feel able to thrash the doctor that attended me, and really believe I ought to do it."

Folks who don't think the Lord can give the hole in a punched quarter dropped into the contribution-box have no particular reason to go to church. On Thirty Days' Trial.
