FOURTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT. Meeting of the Convention at Fayetteville— Jas. C. MacRae for Judge, John D. McIver for Solicitor.

Special to THE NEWS AND OBSERVER. FAYETTEVILLE, June 21.

The Democratic convention for the fourth judicial district was held here today, for the purpose of nominating candidates for judge and solicitor. The district is composed of the following counties: Moore, Harnett, Cumberland, Bladen, Columbus, Brunswick, Johnston, Robeson,

Anson and Richmond. The convention was large and orderly, and was one of the most intelligent bodies ever assembled in the district. For the position of Judge the name of Messrs. John D. Shaw, of Richmond county, and James C. MacRae, of Cumberland, were placed in nomination, and on the eighth ballot Major MacRae was nomi-

WASHINGTON, June 21-SENATE .-Mr. Brown submitted amendments which he intends to offer to the river and harbor bill, appropriating $25,000 for the Savannah River above Augusta, $25,000 for the navigable channel through Ramney Marsh, near Savannah, and $40,000 for Brunswick harbor, Georgia. Referred.

Mr. Mahone called up the Senate bill or public buildings at Lynchburg, Abingdon and Harrisonburg, Va. The bill had been amended by the public buildings' committee to provide for only one build ing at Harrisonburg at a cost of $50,000. SENATE.-Mr. Mahone moved to insert $50,000 for the building at Abingdon. Mr. Cockrell objected to this as an attempt to restore the bill in defiance of the committee's action.

Mr. Morrill, of Connecticut, said only one building had been recommended be mittee to report more than one public building for a State at one session.

Messrs. Mahone and Johnson occupied ome time in advocacy of the amendment. Mr. Vest, of the committee, said that a $100,000 building at Lynchburg and one at Danville had already been given to Virginia. He thought that State had received her full share.

Mr. Beck complained that his appeal for a building at Lexington, Ky., had been refused by the committee because they had made some little provision for Louisville. He demanded the yeas and nays.

Mr. Mahone's amendment was carriedyeas 30, nays 20. Those of the members of the public buildings committee who responded voted no. The bill then passed.

Mr. Morgan called up his resolution for committee of investigation into labor strikes, their causes and remedy, the committee to sit during vacation, to visit different places, to send for persons and papers, to examine persons under oath. etc. A discussion, participated in by Morgan, George, Morrill, Hoar, Davis, ot West Virginia, Garland and Sherman, developed general unanimity of sentiment in favor of the early passage of the resolution. The only diversity of opinion was as to the method in which the investigation should be made, whether by a special or standing committee. The resolution was finally referred to the committee on education and labor, with instructions to report on it within one week. The Senate then resumed the consideration of the House bill to enable national banking associations to extend their corporate existence. The section before the Senate was one authorizing the issue of gold certificates. The pending amendment to allow silver certificates as well as new gold certificates to be counted by national banks as a part of their lawful reserve in the settlement of clearing house balances, was adopted with-

000,000. An amendment was offered by Mr. Coke, and amended by Mr. Pugh, which was adopted, providing that no national bank shall become a member of any clear ing house in which silver certificates shall not be receivable in settlement of clearing

A provision was adopted forbidding the certification of checks in excess of deposits, under penalty of $5,000 fine or five years' imprisonment, or both. An agreement was entered into that the debate on the bill will close at 5 o'clock to-morrow, when voting upon the bill and amendments will begin.

Mr. Allison submitted a copy of the bill recently reported from the committee on commerce for the construction of what is known as the Hennepin Canal, which he intended to offer as an amendment to the river and harbor bill.

After executive session the Senate ad-House.-Toe Speaker being absent

Mr. Robeson, from comittee on ap-propriations, reported back he naval ap-propriation off, and it we referred to committee of the whole.

The House then went in committee of the whole on the bil to reduce icternal revenue taxation.

Mr. Kelly, of Pennsykana, chairman of the committee on ways an means, explained the provisions of he ill, and said the financial condition of the government to-day presented a spectacle ach as had never been seen in the worl's history. The bill in question proposed to make a reduction in the revenue of les than seventeen million dollars, totake ffect immediately, and less than six millin dollars to take effect the 1st of May, 883. Last year the government had a suplus of one hundred million dollars and hd then colected $360,000,000 from all sources. This year it would collect over$400,000, 000, and its expenditures had een greatly reduced. He then compared he financial condition of the government the first month of the present year with its condition for a similar period of last year, to show that there had been an increase in the receipts from each of the tiree sources of revenue, customs, internal taxes and miscellaneous, at the end of tle first nine months of 1882. There had been exhibited reduction in the interest clarges from $66,490,000 to $56,862,00), while in 1881 the government has expended $204,000,000; in 1882 it had expended but $194,000,000 for nine months, and the net surplus, which at the end of the first three-fourths of last year had been $62,483,000, was at the end of the three-fourths of the present year $104,-000,000, an increase of $44,000,000. The bill which he was pressing on the attention of the House did not reduce the revenue much more than one-third of the

000,000 surplus last year, and when the revenue should be abated by these $17,-000,000 it would have this year about $135,000,000 surplus. vocating a general system of reduction of taxes, complained of the pending bill because it took the tax off of the wealthy and did not relieve the poor laborer in the slightest degree. and capitalists; Other things were put in merely as a makeshift to carry it through. After a declaration of his opposition to reducing taxes upon the luxuries of life, he passed to a discussion and denunciation of existing taxation. Mr. Thompson spoke for over an hour and elicited a good deal of laughter by his criticism of the civil service of the Republican party. In conclusion he said that whatever Democrat voted for this bill voted against the interests of the people and might as well subscribe himself as a Republican from

A large number of amendments were submitted and read for information. The amendments offered affect every provision in the bill, either as an amendment or a substitute. The committee finally rose
