A private letter received yesterday stated that owing to sickness in his family Col-Paul F. Faison could not go to Chicago. His alternate, Mr. T. M. Arrington, will attend the national convention. Mr. Henry Briggs promises to win quite a reputation as an amateur gardener. Yesterday he exhibited a cabbage, very hard as to head and very large as to size. It weighed no less than 13 pounds.

The Goldsboro "Messenger" says: Mr. I. F. Dortch, who was confined to his bed by sickness last week, was able to leave for Raleigh on Saturday, where we hope he will speedily recover his strength.

R. B. Andrews & Co. are making extensive reductions in prices on their immense stock of clothing and hats now that the rush of spring trade is over. Their stock is new and of the latest styles, and they offer bargains to reduce the stock for the fall

Rev. Dr. Watkins of the First Presbyterian church, has notified the chairman of the committee of arrangements that re-ligious services will be held in that church at 7 o'clock a. m., on the 4th inst., as requested and in conformity to the programme, all denominations and the public being invited.

Mr. Ed. Barbee leaves to-day for Chieago. To-morrow Messrs. Ed. A. Jones and G. E. Leach take their departure for the same place. After seeing the convention they will go to New York and eastern summer resorts, spending several weeks in that pleasant way.

Says the Goldsboro "Messenger:" "The North Carolina State exposition has had engraved and given to the public a fine picture of the main building to be used this fall. It is well planned and will be doubtless well filled, and our heart swells with State pride at the thought of what North Carolina can show to the world "

The floods on Terrible creek Monday were indeed terrible. They washed away John L. Johnson's mill, destroying the dam and buildings. The mill was broken to bits and the fragments scattered down the stream for miles. He lost fifty acres of corn and oats. The abutments of several bridges were washed away.

The Wilmington "Review" says: "The new banner for the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of North Carolina has been received, and is on exhibition. It is 43 inches long by 33 inches wide, is bordered with heavy bullion and gold tassels, and is a beautiful and appropriate piece of workmanship. It is adorned with the North Cardina coat-of-arms besides the usual symbols of masonry, and cost $100."

The people of Fayetteville propose to celebrate the fourth of July in grand style. The programme is an amusing one. It runs as follows: "The people along the line of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley railway, and all the inhabitants of the country surrounding Fayetteville, are cordially invited to come to town on the glorious fourth and participate in the festivities incident to the 'day we celebrate.' A grand pyrotechnic display—fireworks by day as well as by night—speech-making, glorification and fraternal good fellowship, all mingled and blended with pic-mc lemonade and other refreshments, will be among the enjoyable features of the occasion. In short we propose to 'make a day of it,' open the big blade, tie loose the animals, tear up the earth and buckle in for fun. Come, all ye friends and neighbors, -on the trains, by boat, in carriages, walking and crawling if you can't get here otherwise. He who fails to put in an appearance will go through life regretting a lost opportunity. Fill the old town and its suburbs to overflowing, then climb upon the roof-tops, make yourselves perfectly comfortable and help yourselves to any and everything you see. If you don't see what you want, ask for it. Remember, we are expecting and will be looking for you, each and every one of you, and every man, woman and child who disappoints us by not coming will forthwith and immediately be spotte I henceforth and forever. So be on hand to receive a royal welcome."

H. A. London, Esq., editor of the Pittsboro "Record" and president of the State Press Association, was in town yesterday. Gen. M. P. Taylor, of Wilmington, with his eldest son is here for a stay of a few

Mr. J. N. Ingram has been engaged to deliver at the Raleigh Literary and Debat-ing society's hall in this city, Monday evening next, a lecture giving an account of the strange scenes in far away Australia, that country of which we know so little. As an artist and writer on a Sydney pictorial paper he voyaged around the Southern continent, and traveled 4,000 miles through the Australian interior. He will have many wierd, things to tell about the new landthat world "incognito" in the great Pacific -and we trust that he will be greeted by a large audience.

Back from Waynesville.

Mr. E. G. Harrell yesterday returned from Waynesville. He left there Tuesday morning, being one of a party of sixty, and they came as far as Pigeon River, sixteen miles, in hacks. There was a monster landslide at Pigeon About an acre of land slid right on to the railroad It was said that a negro's cabin, was on the land and that he never stopped hoeing his corn. The slide will put the railroad people to much trouble, but of course they will soon overcome the difficulty as they have so many others. Mr. Harrell wears a watch charm which is plain proof that his services in connection with the teachers' assembly are properly appreciated. It is of gold, with ornamentation of oxydized gold, and bears the following inscription: "E. G. Harrell, Chautauqua, 1884, from Pittsboro and Scotland Neck Ladies."

Oxford Female Seminary.

We javite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of this thorough and flourishing institution, to be found in another column. It is located at Oxford, the beautiful and rapidly growing capital of Granville county, in a healthful hill coun-try of the State. Its friends and patrons claim that no female school in the State is doing more thorough work. The president, F. P. Hobgood, A. M., was educated since the war, when the new and improved methods of teaching had been introduced, and he is thus fully abreast of the times. Not all new, but all improved methods are adopted by him, and he has done as much as any other man in the State to advance the standard of female education, and we are pleased to learn that he is now reaping the fruits of his toil. The school is in a very prosperous condition, and every session its number of students increases. heartily commend the school.

St. Hary's School. The June number of St. Mary's "Muse" is one of marked merit. The essays by the graduating class constitute one of its most pleasing features. There is a finish and grace about them which will attract attention. The other original contributions are all of merit. The editorials and chat about the school are interesting, and show how constant is the progress of this fine educa-tional institution. Miss Susan Isabel Graves, the youngest member of the graduating class, received a percentage of 98.4 on a possible 100 points. She won special honor by her paper on spherical trigonometry and mathematical astronomy, which was submitted to the professor filling that chair in the New York University, the Chair in the New York University the Chair in the New York University, the Chair in the New York University the Chair in the New York University, the Chair in the New York University the Chair in the New York mark being 95 on a maximum of 100. The report of the offertory shows that during the session the contributions of St. Mary's chapel were $360.92. Of this $60.50 was Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock as the shitting engine of the R. & G. R. R. was pushing several cars loaded with lumber, it backed down the track so as to get a better headway for the up-grade. The switch had been adjusted for the through line, so the engine went right off the rails and turned over into the ditch on the north side. The track was broken up and twisted so that trains on the through line were blocked. Engineer Caleb Coley was slightly bruised, his injuries not being considered at all serious. The accident occurred all in a moment and he was caught in the engine as it went over. The engine was damaged and will require repairs. Engineer Coley was taken to his home at once. A large force of wreckers went to the scene. They found it necessary to construct a track around the place, and temporary one was soon built. The through freight train on the R. & A. road was detained at the break for three hours. That on the N. C. R. R. was detained only a few minutes by the obstructions, which were removed. The trains on the Raleigh & Augusta road availed themselves of the temporary track and the train at 8 for Hamlet was not delayed. To-day the track, &c , will all be put in proper order,

THOROUGHBRED CATTLE.

What Raleigh Township is Doing in A few years ago there were but few thoroughbied cattle here. Perhaps the number might easily have been counted upon one's fingers. But in this respect, as in so many others, we have progressed, and now there are some fine herds, which attract attention, not only in this section, but all over the State. It is safe to say that there are to-day more thoroughbred, registered cattle in Raleigh township than in any entire county in the State. Some herds of such cattle have become specially noted. It is a plain proof of the progress we are making. The investment, considered as an investment, is a good one. Jersey calves sell readily at from $100 to $200, and several dozens have been shipped hence to va-rious points in the State. The owners of the cattle devote time and care to keeping them in good condition. All are carefully stabled and thoroughly curried and washed Jerseys require considerable care the first season here. Mr. W. G. Upchurch has a very fine herd of registered cattle. These are at his Rhamkatte farm four miles from the city He has ample stable accommodations. His cattle look exceptionally well, and upon a thorough examination of his herd we failed to find a cow or heifer which was not in tip-top condition. Some are beauties. There are three Jerseys from the island of Jersey. As was noted some weeks ago these were specially purchased by Mr. Upchurch the past spring, at the Harkness sale, near Philadelphia. The three cattle are all beauties-quite as pretty as a picture. Their big, soft eyes, their sleek coats, the rich yellow of their skin, their small perfectly-shaped heads and delicate horns, all go to make up a picture such as delights the eye of the lover of fine cattle. These imported Jerseys cost Mr. Upchurch quite a handsome sum, but they will repay the complimented on my improved appear investment in many ways. He keeps them in a long, open stable, covered with pine to keep off the hot sun. Through the stables runs a rapid, clear and cool branch. The situation is just right for these cattle, which come from an island where moisture and coolness always exist to a remarkable degree. A very fine bull, a thoroughbred Jersey, is one of the ornaments of Mr. Upchurch's herd. He cost a fancy figure, and is an animal which traces descent to some of the finest stock on either side of the water. Mr. William Grimes is the largest stock-

owner hereabouts and has two distinct herds, one of Devon, the other of Jerseys. The herd of Devon cattle is the only one in the State. The cattle are in color a rich red brown, are large framed and rather long in the legs, with wide branching horns, and particularly fine eyes. The Devons are kept at the Oregon farm, the Jerseys at Spring Hill farm. These two farms are barely half a mile apart. Mr. Grimes de-votes much attention to his stock, and Mr. Willie Grimes, his son, remains all the time at the farm. The herd of Devon cattle is eleven in number. A magnificent bull, "John O'Groat," was pur-chased last fall from Mr. C. F. Lowe, Lexington, N. C., and is said to be six years old. Owing to an unfortunate neglect of Mr. Lowe he was never registered, though entitled to registration. The other cattle in this herd and their registered numbers are: Alamance, No. 2,512, born May 30th, 1882, bred by L. B. Holt, Graham; sire Puritan Lad, he by Cole's Puritan, dam Helen 5th, out of Butterfield 3d. Moun-Oregon, 2,676, August 30th, 1883. Prince Albert, May 24th, 1884. Some of the last named have not yet been registered. Sir Walter Raleigh is the finest of the young bulls. Mr. Grimes has at his Spring Hill farm a number of grade cattle, there being 59 head of these. The total number of all his cattle is 97. He as a rule has two sales a year selling some of both Jerseys and grades. Maj. R. S. Tucker is a well-known fancier of thoroughbreds and his herd of Jerseys is well-known. He has won many prizes at the fairs. The cattle are all pure ored and were bought of Enoch Pratt, the Baltimore milinaire, so famous as a stockbreeder. We will give notes of his thor-

The Fourth of July.

[Cor. of THE NEWS AND OBSERVER.] As one of the old citizens I am glad to see that the committee of arrangements for celebrating the fourth have revived the old, and to me appropriate custom of having religious services at the commencement of the day we celebrate as our national birthday. F fcy years ago I saw the old church filled with members of every congregation in town, and all the ministers in town around the pulpit taking part in the service, returning thanks to the Giver of all good for the great blessings we as a people enjoy, and asking His guidance and blessing in the future Surely nothing can be more appropriate than that all Christians should unite in common thanks for the past and White Coods, united supplications for the future. Let our ministers and people unite on Friday morning in a short service of praise and OLD CITIZEN. thanksgiving. OTEY THE BARBER has removed from his
