IT IS A FACT.

Hundreds of letters in our possession (copies of which may be had by return mail) are our authority for the assertion that Skin, Scalp and Blood Humors, whether Scrotulous inherized or Contagious, may NOW be permanently cured by Curicuaa Resolvent, the new Blood Purialer, internally, and Cutieura and Cutieura Scap, the great Skin Cores and Beautifiers, externally, in one half the time and at one half the expense of any other season.

GREATEST ON EARTH. CUTICURA REMEDIES are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case Sait Rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years and in fact died from it. I b lieve CUTICURA would have saved her life. My arms, breast and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cared until I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, internally, and Cut'cura and Cuticura Soap, externally.

GREAT BLOOD MEDICINES. The half has not been teld as to the great curalive powers of the Cuttcura Remidles. I have paid hundreds of dollars for medicines to cure diseases of the blood and skin, and never found anything yet to qual the Cuttcura : Emedies.

1 Tovidence, R. l. Chas. A. Williams.

CURE IN EVERY CASE. Your Cutscusa Remedies outsell all other medicines I krep for skin discusses. My cus-omers and patients say that they have effected a cure in every instance, where other remedies have failed.

The Charlotte Observer says: The contractor has commenced the work of constructing the electric light plant in the cotton seed oil mill.

The Goldsboro Messenger says: We were pleased to meet on our streets last week Mr. Ed. Palmer, of the U S. navy, who is on a short visit to friends in this e ty, his old home.

The Asheville Citizen says: Mr. Klisha Phillips, living on north Hominy, in Haywood county, at the age of 96, is a hale, hearty man. A few days ago he rode on horseback to Pigeon River station, 12 miles altogether, without fatigue.

The Clinton Caucasian says: In the yard of Mr. Eleszar Rich, near Newton Grove, Sampson county, is a large mulberry tree. Twenty feet above the ground, in the fork of the tree, is growing a peach tree, now in heavy fruitage, and when the peaches are full grown there will be at least a bushel of them.

The Winston Leader says: Mrs. Mary S. Williams, consort of Mr. Nick Williams, died at her home, Panther Creek, in Yadkin county Sunday morning the 25th ot June ... The Forsyth Riflemen will celebrate the fourth of July in a handsome manner. They will give a dinner on the day named and hold a fair at

The Elizabeth City Economist says: A whale got on the shoal water of the seabeach on the coast of Knott's Island, in Currituck county, on Sun lay morning, June 22, and some few fishermen found him making the water fly, "a huge leviathan floundering on a sheal," and killed him. It was estimated that he would make 150 barrels of oil, which will be a snug little sum for the fortunate captors It is said that Judge Pool will be the Republican candidate for Congress in this district. We suppose that he and Skinner potatoes, the connecting link between truck crops and standard crops, have in these latter days become the most considered of our products. The Wilmington Star says: Mr. W. T. Shephard, of Topsail sound, found a dead whale near his place on Saturday last. It appears that the poor creature ventured too far upon the shoals and could not get off again. He measured just twenty three feet in length. Mr. Shephard butchered him and realized considerable oil from the carcass . . . Mr. A. A Hartsfield died in this city Monday, after a somewhat lingering illness, of dropsy of the heart. day last the largest excursion from Greensboro and adjoining counties perhaps ever known in North Carolina, visited this town. Nine coaches were packed beyond capacity. The aisles were filled, and the platforms were growded; many found accommodation on the top of the coaches. It was estimated that the train brought 900 persons. Hundreds were left at the stations along the way, for whom no room could be had. The station agents sold all the tickets on hand and were forced to write hundreds on letter paper.... On the farm of Mr. D. L. Flowers, near Spinola posteffice, Johnston county, is a most remarkable pear tree. Mr. Flowers says that its age dates back as far as he knows his family history, about one hundred and fifty years. It stands near the site of the ancient homestead of the Flowers family; it measures six feet in circumference, tour feet above the ground, and now has a very heavy erop of pears on it.

The Miraculous Escape of Two Children. Hickory Press.

Last Wednesday afternoon there was a heavy electric discharge followed by a deatening peal of thunder. The fisch and thunder were so simultaneous that it was evident to all that something had been struck not far away. It was soen ascertained that the dwelling house of Mr. A. A. Yoder, in the northwestern portion of the town, was struck by lightning, tearing the weather boarding, scantling, studding, etc., off and scattering things wildly. Lamps were thrown from the mantels and pictures on the wall were more or les burned. At the time two of Mr. Yoder's children were playing on a featherbed pallet in the room up stairs, and escaped un-injured even from the flying timbers. The feathers, being a non-conductor, saved them from the lightning's stroke.

A summer soiree in a suburb of Paris. Monsieur and madam have lingered long in the garden after dinner. The warm air, the fragrant breeze, the solitude, all tend to a gush of sentiment. "Tell me, s weetheart, if I should die, would you marry again?" "Oh," answered madam, in a tone of reproach, "of course not-at least, not right away."

THE ENGAGEMENT STILL ON.

"You have heard of papa's trouble at the bank, George, dear,?" she asked from beneath the lapel of his coat. "Your papa's trouble at the ban't !" exclaimed George, turning white. "Certainly not!" "What is it?"

"Why, he is $4,000,000 behind in his accounts and an investigation is to be had."

"In that case," replied George, coldly, struggling to release himself, "our engagement must --"

to his shoulder and stroking her ringlets fondly.
