Observations.

The grass is nearly all dead. Rain began to fall at 11 o'clock last evening.

Raleigh now boasts of the handsomest saloon in the State.

Yesterday people were started at the sight of several drops of rain.

Yesterday was cooler than several of the days just previous, and there was a pleasant breeze.

A drummer's license was yesterday issued from the State treasury to Thomas W. Sparks, Philadelphia.

The street cleaner and the man of enterprise. How about them? Will they join forces during the exposition?

Yesterday the fall terms of the white and colored institutions for the deaf and dumb and the blind began, the number of pupils being large.

Last evening Mr. F. M. Sorrell fainted at the corner of Fayetteville and Davis streets.

He was taken home in a carriage, after having recovered somewhat.

Rev. George Patterson, D. D., formerly of Wilmington, is in the city, the guest of Mrs. George W. Mordecai.

Dr. Patterson's visits, far too rare, always give great pleasure to his numerous friends here.

New cotton is coming in more freely today forty-two bales came in.

The faces of cotton weighers are brighter. They see business ahead.

Mr. T. N. Richardson, one of the weighers, has been quite sick, but now is improving rapidly.

Capt. E. R. Stamps has been appointed the delegate from North Carolina to the national conference of the committee on charities and corrections, which will be held at St. Louis, beginning October 13.

It is the eleventh annual conference.

The venerable and well known negro, Friday Jones, arrived here yesterday, after several years absence.

He spent his first day here in walking all over the city with his grip sack, cane and umbrella, saying pleasant words to everybody.

He is now a Democrat.

Last evening the stockholders of the new tobacco warehouse company held a preliminary meeting.

This morning at 11 o'clock there will be a meeting, at the cotton exchange for the purpose of incorporating the company, electing permanent officers, etc.

The Charlotte "Observer" says: "The members of the Hornet's Nest Riflemen held a meeting at their army, last night to consider the question of attending the opening of the State Exposition in Raleigh on October 12."

It was decided by a large majority that they would go. They expect to leave for Raleigh with full ranks, and after getting there will enter the competitive drill for the prizes."

Wednesday afternoon there was an inspection and drill of the Hornet's Nest Riflemen.

Rifles, of Pineville, by Col. F. H. Cameron, in Charlotte.

State Exposition Notes.

Mr. David Anderson, general agent of the Taylor Manufacturing Co., is having the large 75 horse-power Taylor cut-off engine put up, to run the main line of shaft in machinery hall.

Also two 15 horse-power Tiger engines, to run two "Moore Cotton Grit" corn mills, and a Butterworth separator and planing machine.

He will have an ice machine in operation, with a capacity of 1,200 pounds per day. This will be a very interesting feature of the display.

Wake Democratic Executive Committee.

The members of the Wake county Democratic executive committee are notified to meet at the office of Battle & Mordecai, in the city of Raleigh, on Friday, September 12.

All the candidates on the county Democratic ticket are requested to be present at the meeting.

S. F. MORDECAI, Chairman of Executive Committee.

Capt. J. J. Thomas.

Attention is called to the ad. of Capt. J. J. Thomas, which appears in this issue.

Eight years ago he made a new departure in business here, that of an exclusive dealer of cotton, and has by a strict adherence to the course then announced by himself, that he would follow by close and prompt attention the wishes of his patrons, and with his acknowledged high business qualifications, built up the largest trade of this kind in the State.

He receives a majority of all the cotton consigned here and enjoys the confidence of all with whom he deals.

He is regarded very properly as one of Raleigh's soundest and most experienced business men.

A Crank Burglar.

A mechanic known as "Captain" Wilkerson has been a resident of Raleigh for years.

He is by trade a carpenter, and a very good one. Some time ago he married a woman in this city, but after a brief space of married life they separated.

Wilkerson's mind, it is said, has completely given away. Some nights past he attempted to break into the house of Mr. John Brown, corner South Daws and West Morgan streets, but was foiled.

Monday night he repeated the attempt. The police looked for him. Yesterday morning they came up with him.

In a fit of insanity he had divested himself of all clothing save a shirt, piled up his apparel in Wilmington street, and set fire to it. He was just preparing to enjoy the sight of the blaze when the police nabbed him.

He was taken to the guard house. He refused to speak a word. The janitor, officer Osborne, said that Wilkerson could not be induced to talk at all. He remained in his cell perfectly quiet.

Eliza Grauman.

Yesterday Mr. David Elias, of Baltimore, was united in marriage to Miss Helen Grauman, daughter of Mr. M. Grauman.

The ceremony, which took place in the parlor of Mr. Grauman's residence, East Hargett street, was attended by nearly all the Jewish residents of the city, besides a number from a distance.

The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Harris, of Richmond, Va., and was a most interesting affair. The bride and groom were accompanied by a large number of guests.

The groom is a pleasant and popular gentleman; the bride is a favorite with all who know her. The wedding was a most successful one, and the bride and groom were accompanied by a large number of guests.

Funeral.

There was yesterday mingled mirth and sorrow in the houses of the Jewish residents of Raleigh—in the morning a marriage, in the afternoon a funeral.

At a number of the sad services, the remains of little Julius Rosenthal, whose terrible death from lockjaw has been told of, was held at the house of Mr. L. Rosenthal, Fayetteville street, Rabbi Harris, of Richmond, Va., conducting. The pall-bearers were Messrs. M. Grauman, G. Heller, T. Joseph, G. Rosenthal, A. Borwanger and J. J. Katz.

The interment was in the Jewish burial ground, at Oakwood, whither the remains were followed by deeply sorrowing relatives and many sad friends.

Obituary.

The many friends of Miss Lucy E. Foster will be sad to learn of her unexpected death, which occurred last Thursday, Sept. 4th, at the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. Thos. J. Blackhall, near Kitterell, N. C.

Miss Foster was widely and favorably known in this State, having been for a number of years successfully engaged as music teacher in several of our institutions of learning, having taught in the school at Kitterell, also at Greensboro and Louisburg female colleges. She was a lady of rare accomplishments and great usefulness, a sweet spirited christian character. The influence of her life is an abiding benediction to those who weep because she is gone, and the world is better off because she lived in it.

The Seventh District Congressional Convention.

[Charlotte Observer.] SALISBURY, N. C., September 9.—The declaration of Hon. Keir Craig as the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Seventh Congressional district, owing to ill health, was formally presented to the executive committee at Statesville some weeks ago and the convention was recalled to meet here today.

Practically the same delegates reassembled in the court house and organized at 12 o'clock with the same officers. George S. Bradshaw, who had been chairman of the previous convention, took the chair and called the reassembled convention to order. He then announced Mr. Craig's declaration in a short but impressive and eloquent address.

The names of the following gentlemen were presented to the convention: R. F. Armfield, of Iradell; Theo. F. Klutz, of Roway; Prof. O. W. Carr, of Randolph; F. C. Robbins and M. H. Pinnix, of Davidson.

The first ballot resulted: Armfield 102, Klutz 18, Carr 20, Robbins 40, Pinnix, 49.

On the nine succeeding ballots there was no change, after which the voting began, and on the twenty-eighth ballot the name of Theo. F. Klutz was withdrawn and the name of Hon. John B. Henderson was presented by the Rowan delegation, and supported with enthusiasm until after the fortieth ballot. Then Rowan supported Geo. S. Bradshaw until the sixtieth ballot. She then again presented the name of Henderson, and on the sixty-third ballot he received 133 votes and the nomination, which was almost immediately made unanimous.

Henderson was then carried into the court house on the shoulders of his friends, and he then addressed the convention. The nomination is regarded as healing all the differences between all the vocalists in the district, and will give universal satisfaction in the ranks of the Democratic party.

Longevity of the Cross Creek Scotch.

[Cor. of THE NEWS AND OBSERVER.] FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., September 3. In your issue of the 3d inst. I see that a correspondent of your paper had on the 28th of August attended the golden wedding of Henry P. Martin, Esq., and that there were only two persons present that were at the wedding fifty years before.

Now I want to show you how old the Scotch people of Cumberland county live to be.

On March 2, 1832, I attended the golden wedding of Hector McNeill, ex-sheriff of Cumberland county and his wife, who was Mary McNeill before marriage. When they were married fifty years before they had eight attendants, four bridesmaids and four groomsmen.

When the golden wedding was celebrated eight of the ten persons, who stood up together fifty years before, were living and six were present. Only two were dead, one groomsmen and one bridesmaid. The gentleman had moved to Alabama to die and the lady had died only two years before at the age of eighty. Hector and Mary McNeill are still living at a good old age and enjoying perfect health.

They had born to them fifteen children and raised thirteen. There were several other persons at the golden wedding that saw the marriage fifty years before.

CURRENCY.

SEASIDE DEFENCES. Seaside Hotel Man—Well, I declare! What is that?

Newly-Arrived Guest—That is most quiet netting. Very handy to pin over the bed-room windows, you know. I suppose you have mosquitoes here?

"A few; but that is only cotton stuff."

"Of course; you would not have it silk, would you?"

"Certainly not."

"Then what are you surprised at? What should it be made of?"

"Iron." Philadelphia Call.

BUSINESS MUST BE DULL. A country merchant caught a thief going through his cash drawer.

"Hello, there," he sung out, "what do you want in that drawer?"

"Oh, nothing," said the man, sheepishly, backing off and trying to get away.

"Well, don't let me disturb you. Just go right ahead; you'll find exactly what you want. I've found the same thing there for the past six weeks."

THE METHODIST ADVANCE.

[VOLUME V.] An unofficial organ of Southern Methodism, edited by W. M. Bobey, D. D., of the North Carolina Synod. In order better to meet the wants of the people and to enlarge its sphere of usefulness, the price of the Advance has been reduced to One Dollar and Fifty Cents a Year, or eight months for one dollar. Large quantities in advance—making it one of the cheapest papers in the South. The Advance is an independent journal, acknowledging allegiance only to Southern Methodism, but depending for favor entirely on its merits. It is in harmony with all the official Journals of the church and is indebted to them for many courtesies. It antagonizes none of them, but seeks to co-operate with them in giving to the people an unexceptionable literature. Sample copies furnished free on application. Address: THE METHODIST ADVANCE, aug 22 dim Goldsboro, N. C.
