THE PRINCIPAL AWARDS IN SOME OF THE DE PARTMENTS-NOTES ABOUT THE DIS-PLAT-THE FAIR IN MANY RE-SPROTS SATISFACTORY-DUTS AND PARES.

Yesterday was, like its predecessor bright and balm;; in fact it was the most beautiful day of the entire week. There Many of these alter making purchases went to the fair grounds There was no great throng of people, as was the case Thursday. Unly about 1 200 were present, but they made up in erjoyment what they lacked in numbers. Those who were at the fair had the best opportunity to see the exhibits and made liberal use of it. The stock pens were looked at carefully. The cattle, beautiful, sleek thoroughbreds, wer, as usual, pets and had many risitors. Many of the prize winners were photographed. They were very patient as they stood in the bright sanshine and put their best points forward, just as a young lady would de; for cows, like many young ladics, are coquettish,

The beautiful butter display was yester. day, as heretofore, much admired. Few visitors to the fair failed to see it. The grand pize of $25 was won by Mr R C Freeman, of Gold-boro. The cow which gave the milk was the thoroughbred Jersey "Lucy Stith," which was sold Mr Freeman by Mr W G Upchurch. The second prize was taken by Mrs A H Green, of this city. The butter is the best by far ever seen in the S.ate. I: may safely be said that the cattle and butter features of the fairs are hereafter to be among the most prominent. This is as it shoud be.

There was a lively contest for the $50 premium for the best original oil painting lustrative of North Carolina scenery. The winner was Mrs J B Birwell, of Peace institute, this city. Her work is excellent. It represents a scene on Richlands creek, near Waynesville. It is a ruggedly picture que landscape, b. ldly treated. In the foreground, seated on a log, is Wid. DR ARMSTRONG'S TRIAL Atlanta Constitution.

Boy. James G. Armstrong, restor of St Philips church, wil not be tried this year on the charges preferred sgainst him by the standing committee of the diocese. The bishop has set the 13 h of January as the day on which the court is to convene for his trial. It was thought by some that by consect of all parties an earlier date might be sgreed on, and that the painful suspense might be curtailed. That, it seems, is impossible and the bishop has fixed the date as above stated. In the meantime Dr. At mstrong is spending his leisure days quistly at the rectory, and Rev. Mr. Hunt is conducting the services every Sunday.
