Contrautions for the Y. M. C. A. received at any of the banks today.

Sheriff Yount, of Catawba, yesterday brought one convict to the penitentiary.

Sheriff Baxton, of Northampton, yesterday brought one convict to the penitentiary.

Horse-shoes bring good luck, "they say." There are no less than three of them over the door of the guardhouse. Who gets the luck? The city?

Considerable comment has been made on the suggestion that the coroner of Wake should reside in Raleigh. It is a matter of importance, as the authorities see.

Yesterday morning the remains of an infant were found in a vacant lot at the corner of West Cabarrus and South Person streets. No inquest was held.

A series of meetings in the Presbyterian church at Durham has begun, Rev. Mr. Darnall conducting, assisted by Rev. W. S. Lacy, of Jonesboro, and Rev. Dr. Smith, of Greensboro.

A reporter was yesterday informed that all the early-planted oats in this section that is those not planted after October—have been killed by the late frosts. Replanting will be necessary.

The expressions of compliment concerning the Academy opera company's performance of "Fra Diavolo" are general, and the company is said to be one of the best which has ever appeared here.

At the tobacco warehouses yesterday there were good breaks. Prices ran high. At one warehouse an average of over 307 on five different lots was made. Considerable tobacco from Osham and Granville was on the floors.

Yesterday W. F. Stancell, tax collector of Northampton, paid into the State treasury $7,404.27, taxes due by that county. Mr. D. E. Riddick, sheriff of Gates, settled that county's taxes, $2,672.08.

The jail at Oxford was guarded several nights by members of the Granville Grays. It appears that Judge Clark received a private letter containing information that an attempt to rescue a prisoner, J. W. Vaughan, was planned. Hence this precaution, as well as the military guard to Raleigh last Monday.

Yesterday morning early there was quite a heavy sleet. The weather moderated somewhat and then a steady rain set in. The day was very cheerless and there were all sorts of discomforts. In the afternoon sleet began to form and snow fell. The night was gloomy, cold and stormy. It was one of the worst nights of the winter.

Mr. J. H. Bates, of New York, is one of the oldest advertising agents in this country and a reliable one. For thirty years he has been in the business. He has succeeded and has now a business which extends over the entire country. During the long period of his work as an advertising agent he has seen advertising grow from small beginnings to its present proportions. Now it is the lever of a business man. Liberal and judicious advertisers are the men who have made fortunes.

The new proprietors of that always popular summer resort, the Atlantic hotel, Morehead City, a C. C. & Foster Bros., and the lovers of the sea will be glad to learn that the house has fallen into the hands of such enterprising gentlemen. It is a sufficient guarantee that the house will be kept the coming season up to the highest standard of excellence. The senior member of the firm, Mr. A. J. Cooke, has been at the Yarboro house for a number of years and is a thorough hotel man in every respect. Mr. R. P. Foster, recently of Warm Springs, is a gentleman of large business experience and makes friends of all he meets. Mr. Omega Foster is a well known and popular young man of Raleigh. All are widely known and for the Atlantic under their excellent management a brilliant season may safely be predicted.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the North Carolina Home insurance company yesterday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: W. S. Primrose, president; W. G. Upchurch, vice-president; Charles Root, secretary; P. Cowper, adjuster and supervisor. The reports submitted by the officers were gratifying to the stockholders, and the exhibits made show that the company is in a more flourishing condition than ever. It is a pleasure to the NEWS AND OBSERVER to note the continued prosperity of this home company, which each year becomes more strongly established in the providence of the public and more worthy of that liberal patronage which it so richly enjoys. Under the administration of able, careful, prudent officers, it is strengthened with passing years, and commands in an eminent degree the confidence of all its patrons.

Marked interest has been manifested here in the case in the U. S. court in which Mr. J. A. Haywood sued two insurance companies. The case was on hand several days and a great number of witnesses and experts were examined. Yesterday evening the case was given the jury.

The Entertainment at the Park Place.

At Washington, D. C., Rhea and Mary Anderson, who have been playing engagements as rival stars at the two theatres, have carried the rivalry into society. Mary Anderson drew a large audience, with standing room only, at Mrs. Z. B. Vance's home there last Thursday. The news spread at the different receptions that Mary Anderson was there, and the street before Senator Vance's home was immediately blackened with carriages, and the people lingered near until long after 5 o'clock, "until Mary did appear." There was envy in other Senatorial homes that the North Carolina colleague should secure such a strong attraction, and chagrin to see a room full of callers suddenly melt away when told that the dramatic star was twinking in Mrs. Vance's parlor.

North Carolina "Fly-Share" Bonds.
A decree of some importance to the State and the holders of a certain class of her bonds has been rendered at the present term of the U. S. circuit court at Raleigh. One James T. McClelland, of New Jersey, filed a petition in the Swasey case, alleging that these bonds, of which there were nearly half a million out, were a first lien on a part of the State's stock in the N. C. railroad company, and praying that the dividends on such part should be applied to the payment of the coupons on these bonds, and for an injunction against the receiver, Mr. Phillips, from paying further dividends from this stock upon coupons on the construction bonds, the subject matter of the Swasey suit, until the petitioner's claim was satisfied. The State's commissioners for exchange were made parties. The case was argued on petition and answer at a June term, 1885, by Richard F. Maury, Esq., of Richmond, Va., for petitioner, and Hon. S. F. Phillips and Battle & Mordcaid for respondents. Judge Bond reserved his decision until a few days ago, when his opinion was filed adverse to the petitioner, and a decree has been rendered thereupon dismissing the petition. It is hoped that this decision will expedite the exchange of these treasury bonds. Of the construction bonds, we are glad to be informed that nearly $2,000,000 have been exchanged: under the act of 1879, leaving only about $500,000 still outstanding, of which the United States government holds $42,000.

Dr. Bull's Baltimore Pills never claim more than they can accomplish. That's business.

At the store of Fred A. Watson, 112 Fayetteville street, will be found an exceptionally fine line of such desirable goods as mirrors in all kinds of frames, easy chairs, rockers, trice-a-brac, besides handsome wall papers, curtains, pictures, photograph and picture frames in all styles.

Railway Accident.
Tuesday there was an accident on the Oxford & Henderson railroad at Oxford, which came very near being fatal. About 600 yards from the depot the train ran off the track, owing to an open switch. The engine turned over and engineer James Lawrence was painfully bruised, being thrown to the ground with great violence. The fireman, Joe Williamson, was badly scalded by escaping steam and also received severe cuts on the head. One car left the track. No passengers were injured. The engine turned completely over beside the track.
