

Daily one year, mail, postpaid $7.00
Six months, " " " 4.00
Three months, " " " 2.50
Weekly, one year, " " 2.00
Six months, " " " 1.50

NO ADVERTISING WITHOUT PAYMENT, AND NO PAPER SENT AFTER THE EXPIRATION OF TIME PAID FOR.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1886.

Very great forbearance was exercised in dealing with the London mob, certainly, but that the course pursued by the authorities was the wisest is doubtful.

The newspapers of the State, for the past week, furnish abundant evidence that if a North Carolinian wants to be well advertised, he has only to call his old mother "a laughing stock among the States."

FRANK HURD, the brilliant Ohioan, seems to have a clear case in the matter of his contest for the seat in Congress held by Romeis.

The death is reported of John G. Thompson, until recently one of the most active leaders of the Ohio democracy.

The next American Cardinal will certainly, it appears, be Archbishop Gibbons, of Baltimore, who will be remembered by our people as at one time vicar apostolic of North Carolina.

The Republican majority in the Senate retired in disorder from the position it assumed with regard to removals from office by the President, and the latter remains master of the situation.

We transfer to our columns an article on the part borne by North Carolina troops and especially the Third Infantry in the battle of Gettysburg.

TODAY all that is mortal of the distinguished soldier, courteous, kindly gentleman and patriotic citizen of the republic, Winfield Scott Hancock, will be returned to the dust from which it came.

THE SOUTH AND EDUCATION.

The New York Evening Post holds that Federal aid to common schools in the South would be a positive injury to this section.

The State board of education is that it tended to the deterioration of the schools, from the fact that many of the districts came to depend upon them.

On occasion he could be a boy, and enter a wrestling match in camp with all the rest of a school boy.

The official report of Maj. Parsley, read in the light of the thorough study which has been given to the battle of Gettysburg since.

THE news of the gradual passing away of that father in the Democratic Israel, Horatio Seymour, will be heard with sorrow by the people of the South.

RECENT papers in the Southern Bivouac bring to mind some incidents in the battle of Gettysburg.

THE writer of this would detract nothing from the hard-earned fame of Pickett's men on that eventful third day of July.

gade. They, it seems, were not so proud of their new assignment, their complaint being their objection to being brigaded with North Carolinians.

The Third regiment was commanded by Major W. M. Parsley, of Wilmington, numbering about 300 muskets.

On the night of the 22d the Third brigade of Gen. Edward Johnson's division, under Gen. George H. Stewart, of Maryland, after a most desperate conflict with the enemy on the extreme left of Ewell's corps.

REPORT OF MAJOR W. M. PARSELEY, COMMANDING THE THIRD M. C. REGIMENT.

"I have the honor to submit the following report of the participation of my regiment in the battles of the 22d and 23d July, at Gettysburg, Pa.

On the night of the 22d the Third brigade of Gen. Edward Johnson's division, under Gen. George H. Stewart, of Maryland, after a most desperate conflict with the enemy on the extreme left of Ewell's corps.

LOSSITG, the Federal historian, gives quite an amusing account of how Stuart captured them.

Gen. Lee, in his official report, notices this exploit, and says: "The troops of Johnson's division moved steadily up the steep and rugged ascent, under a heavy fire, driving the enemy into his entrenchments, part of which were carried by Gen. Stewart's brigade, and a number of prisoners taken."

was noticed by all, too much cannot be said. My loss in killed and wounded was heavy, as will be seen by my list of casualties.

WM. M. PARSELEY, Major. Command Third M. C. Inf. Troops.

The division of Johnson advanced, and for an hour there followed one of the severest battles of the conflict.

On the night of the 22d the Third brigade of Gen. Edward Johnson's division, under Gen. George H. Stewart, of Maryland, after a most desperate conflict with the enemy on the extreme left of Ewell's corps.

LOSSITG, the Federal historian, gives quite an amusing account of how Stuart captured them.

Gen. Lee, in his official report, notices this exploit, and says: "The troops of Johnson's division moved steadily up the steep and rugged ascent, under a heavy fire, driving the enemy into his entrenchments, part of which were carried by Gen. Stewart's brigade, and a number of prisoners taken."

LOSSITG, the Federal historian, gives quite an amusing account of how Stuart captured them.

Gen. Lee, in his official report, notices this exploit, and says: "The troops of Johnson's division moved steadily up the steep and rugged ascent, under a heavy fire, driving the enemy into his entrenchments, part of which were carried by Gen. Stewart's brigade, and a number of prisoners taken."

passed in force and the enemy's stronghold on Cemetery Hill rendered untenable.

The Federal General Howard, in speaking of this oversight of the Confederates, says: "Their generals evidently did not realize until the morning the great advantage they had gained."

The division of Johnson advanced, and for an hour there followed one of the severest battles of the conflict.

On the night of the 22d the Third brigade of Gen. Edward Johnson's division, under Gen. George H. Stewart, of Maryland, after a most desperate conflict with the enemy on the extreme left of Ewell's corps.

LOSSITG, the Federal historian, gives quite an amusing account of how Stuart captured them.

Gen. Lee, in his official report, notices this exploit, and says: "The troops of Johnson's division moved steadily up the steep and rugged ascent, under a heavy fire, driving the enemy into his entrenchments, part of which were carried by Gen. Stewart's brigade, and a number of prisoners taken."

LOSSITG, the Federal historian, gives quite an amusing account of how Stuart captured them.

Gen. Lee, in his official report, notices this exploit, and says: "The troops of Johnson's division moved steadily up the steep and rugged ascent, under a heavy fire, driving the enemy into his entrenchments, part of which were carried by Gen. Stewart's brigade, and a number of prisoners taken."

Gen. Lee, in his official report, notices this exploit, and says: "The troops of Johnson's division moved steadily up the steep and rugged ascent, under a heavy fire, driving the enemy into his entrenchments, part of which were carried by Gen. Stewart's brigade, and a number of prisoners taken."

L.S.L.

CAPITAL PRIZE $150,000.

"We do hereby certify that we supervise the arrangements for all the Monthly and Quarterly Drawings of the Louisiana State Lottery Company."

UNPRECEDENTED ATTRACTION! OVER HALF A MILLION DISTRIBUTED.

Louisiana State Lottery Company.

Incorporated in 1868 for 25 years by the Legislature for educational and charitable purposes.

By an overwhelming popular vote its franchise was made a part of the present State Constitution adopted December 26, A. D. 1878.

190th Grand Monthly and Quarterly Drawing.

In the Academy of Music, New Orleans, Tuesday, March 16, 1886.

Under the personal supervision and management of G. N. T. BEAUREGARD, of Louisiana, and G. N. JUBAL A. EARLY, of Virginia.

Capital Prize $150,000.

LIST OF PRIZES.

1 Capital Prize of $150,000 $150,000
1 Grand Prize of 50,000 50,000
1 Grand Prize of 20,000 20,000

APPROXIMATION PRIZES.

100 Approximation Prizes of $200 $20,000
100 " " " 100 10,000
100 " " " 50 5,000

EVERY DAY MATTERS.

E. J. HARDIN'S.

You will find always a complete stock of the best family supplies, carefully selected as to quality, at lowest possible prices, neatly put up and promptly delivered.

CANNED FRUITS.

California Apples, Peas, Peaches, &c.

TO ARRIVE THIS WEEK.

Magnolia Hams, cranberry and water-cured; Ferris' Hams, 1 1/2 lbs. Extra Choice Mackerel in full weight, 20 lb. kits.

Wines, Liquors &c.

A Choice Stock of Whiskies, Brandies, Wines, Ales, Porter, &c., for medicinal and family use.

FOR SALE OR RENT.

VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE.

By virtue of authority conferred by a certain deed of mortgage executed by a certain John L. ...

VALUABLE LAND PROPERTY FOR SALE.

By virtue of power conferred on me by a certain deed of mortgage executed by Dal. H. Crawford and wife...

SALE OF LAND.

By virtue of authority given in a mortgage from Alexander Barham and wife to W. B. Allen, recorded in the register's office of Wake county...

SALE OF VALUABLE LAND.

This is to give notice that under and by virtue of an order of the Superior court of the county of Wake, made in the civil action of E. W. Wharton, administrator of David M. Carter, deceased, against the said W. B. Biedose and others...

MORTGAGE SALE.

FURNISH to authority contained in a mortgage deed executed by the said J. B. Ferrell and Mary A. Ferrell and C. M. Busloe, trustee, to secure the payment of a debt to Geo. W. Norwood, deceased...

EVERY DAY MATTERS.

E. J. HARDIN'S.

You will find always a complete stock of the best family supplies, carefully selected as to quality, at lowest possible prices, neatly put up and promptly delivered.

CANNED FRUITS.

California Apples, Peas, Peaches, &c.

TO ARRIVE THIS WEEK.

Magnolia Hams, cranberry and water-cured; Ferris' Hams, 1 1/2 lbs. Extra Choice Mackerel in full weight, 20 lb. kits.

Wines, Liquors &c.

A Choice Stock of Whiskies, Brandies, Wines, Ales, Porter, &c., for medicinal and family use.

VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE.

By virtue of authority conferred by a certain deed of mortgage executed by a certain John L. ...

VALUABLE LAND PROPERTY FOR SALE.

By virtue of power conferred on me by a certain deed of mortgage executed by Dal. H. Crawford and wife...