determined in great measure the cost of t. This scale was fixed by the board that worked under Governor Jarvis and most of the expenditures were incurred under the plan of operations which Gov. Jarvis sanctioned.

Gov. Jarvis had much experience in such matters and as he was in direction until he vacated the office of Governor in February, 1885, we may assume that he managed with his accustomed wisdom to keep the expenses down to the lowest The chief question to be considered is, was there extravagance? We do not know but that some little money might have been saved, but in the management of such a great undertaking, reasonable diligence seems to have been observed to prevent unnecessary expense. We think perhaps the servant hire is excessive, but that depends in great measure on what the servants have to do and how competent they are. The board is said to have often canvassed this matter, and while desirous of reducing the item of wages, has never been able to do so There are some other doubtful items of expense, but the members of the board are men of good sense and they thought those items proper to be allowed. We might not have concurred with them in all these

Mr. Wilson was allowed quite an amount in addition to his salary for his like that of May, but later in the day it services at New Orleans. Perhaps this was an injudicious expenditure, though judging from all accounts we have no doubt that Mr. Wilson's services were

We present this matter as the board of agriculture has presented it. We do not understand that any excuses are to be made in any way for what has been done, but the people of North Carolina have only to suggest that information is desired and the democratic officials hasten to give it It is thus that the board has made its publication in the Bulletin for the information of the people. We hold that State officials should not be too hastily accused of mismanagement or extravagance, particularly when, as in the present instance, those officials are men of high character and intelligence. At the same time, whenever either mismanagement or extravagance appears it should be exposed without fear or favor, whether it Wilson is a son of Mr. John M. Wilson. be the fault of party friend or of that place. Party foe. The fullest light too should be thrown and kept by officials upon all affairs of public concern. This is the only proper view to take of publie business.

The News and OBSERVER does not think that the department of agriculture and we have often urged that greater attention be paid to the prime object for 9.06; November 9.02a9 03. which the department was establishedhe fostering of agriculture. What we and efficient officers, let the board practise rigid economy, and let the department be in fact as in name the department of agriculture.

Florence Tucker, are making a tour of A SPLENDID MERCHANT MILL FOR SALE.

> I hereby offer for sale my Wheat and Corn Mill on Walnut creek and Fayetteville road, one mile from Raleigh. This is the best equipped mill in this section and the best water power near here. It contains one set rollers and two sets buhrs for wheat, one set rollers and two sets stones for corn, with other necessary machinery for both wheat, corn and feed. It has capacity for grinding two hundred bushels tof grain per day in the year with the present power and app'iances, earning 24 bushels toll every day. It is splendid property, but I have matters to attend to which will require my absence from here a good deal of the time and will sell the property at a bargain Any one wishing to purchase the property as an investment can rent it at a good inte est on their money. There are $6 acres of land attached, a part of it set in grape vines ready for bearing this year. The title is good and ersy terms can be had if desired. For further particulars address
