The Knights of Labor.

A few-days ago a reporter was conversing with a prominent Knight of Labor and asked the question, "How many Knights are there in Raleigh?" The answer was "There are over 1,200; you can say 1,200." Yesterday a reporter was told that the number in Raleigh, or rather in Raleigh township, is now over 1,500. There are three assemblies in Raleigh, and applications were some time ago made for the organization of two more. The formation of assemblies was stopped for forty days, such was the pressure; the charters and necessary papers, &c , could not be furnished. This period of forty days terminated yesterday and the new assemblies will prebably very soon be put in working order. There are applications on file for the formation of seven assemblies in-Wake county. Of these one is in New Light, one in St. Mary's, one in Cary, one in Buckhorn, two in Swift Creek. A Knight said yesterday that in a year there will be assemblies in every county in the State. As he expressed it, "the State will be thoroughly organized." The Knights are greatly pleased with the success of their tobacco factory. It is far behind on orders. The new cutin the factory. It may be mentioned as a fact that the neat white pine boxes come in "shooks" from Michigan, and cost, laid down, about ten cents each. Perhaps, sometime, the valuable spruce and white pine of Western North Carolina will be utilized for boxes.

The figures giving the number of Knights of Labor will excite surprise among the uninitiated. These will be yet more astonished to learn that there local clubs.
