

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than ordinary kinds and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders.

The Owl Looks Wise. But he only sees in the dark. The savage tribes of Indians knew how to kill.

How should they without education know how to cure? The "Old Nurse" may know her duties, but she was not educated in medical science.

When you are sick and suffering, don't trifle with remedies whose special claim for value is that they were used by old nurses, savage tribes of Indians or any similar type. Then you need prompt acting, sure remedies to properly correct the disorders of your system. Is it your stomach, your liver, your kidneys that need attention? Has your blood been clogged in its action and taken up the bile of the liver instead of filtering out its own impurities in its passage through that organ? Has it become weak, acidulated, watery, and so disordered your kidneys? Then you need a remedy which combines all the blood purifying and enriching qualities that can be found, together with the strength to be gained from a proper combination of iron with these ingredients.

NEWS OBSERVATIONS.

—Miss Merosini returns home the carrier for a little rabid dog virus and leaves M. Pasteur the richer by $5,000 which her papa donates to the French savant.

—The great strike of coal miners in the Clearfield, Pa., region ended Tuesday. The men return to work at the old wages and the mine-owners make certain concessions.

—Miss Adèle Grant, at a wedding in Paris, wore a watch, the back of which was formed of a single cat's eye, surrounded with diamonds. It was a gift from her future husband, Lord Cairns.

—The Marquis of Westminster's colt, Ormond, carried off the blue ribbon of the English Derby. He was ridden by Archer, the famous jockey, who has a rare gift in the way of lifting horses to the winning-post.

—There is nothing quite so fashionable now in charitable circles as the Kirmess. The Kirmess is a festival or fair. If we are going to make it a permanent institution some steps should be taken to settle the orthography of the latest foreign fad. In Washington they call it Kirmess, and in some highly aristocratic circles there is a disposition to spell it Kyrness. Let us compromise on Kirmess.

—Stockholders in a bank would not count dividends as profitable if they were drawn from the stock itself instead of its earnings, and so it is with farmers—unless they pursue such a course as is calculated to leave the soil in as good or better condition than when the cropping commenced, they are not farming at a profit.

—The President at last talks to some of his visitors very frankly about his approaching wedding, and without manifesting any irritation or annoyance at the natural and good-natured curiosity of the public. The fact is that he has never been indignant at the general interest manifested by the public in regard to his wedding, but he has maintained a discreet silence when accused, as if to stimulate further curiosity.

—The prohibitionists recently carried an election that banished intoxicants from Rhode Island. The liquor dealers are fighting in the supreme court, but all agree that prohibition will be tried for a while. As the law is about to go into effect, the liquor dealers are selling out their stock and preparing to quit the State. The larger hotels at Providence and Newport are to be closed, as their proprietors say that they cannot make money without selling liquor. The effect of the election on rent in the cities and towns has been very perceptible. The real estate agents say that there has been a large decrease in the value of all kinds of property, and that in many cases the rent now offered would not keep the property in good repairs and pay the insurance. The prohibitionists are hopeful and say that the law will be strictly enforced, and that Rhode Island will never return to whisky selling.

—Very elegant and lustrous brands of black gros grain silk, mervillous, satin surah, and plain satin, are now offered for sale at remarkably low prices. The revival of black silk for costumes is placed beyond a doubt, and those whose faith in its worth and excellence was abiding, and who clung to it in its obscurity, will be glad to see it once again restored to favor. Black silk cannot long remain out of vogue. It is too comely and beautiful a fabric to be set aside for almost any other material in the whole category of elegant textiles, as no other is so equally appropriate on all occasions. American manufacturers are sending to the trade most superior grades of silk both in black and colors, which foreign modistes and designers in women's attire (both men and women dressmakers) declare frankly give more satisfaction as to wear than some of the Lyons brands of world-wide fame. Many of our domestic silks are sold as foreign in make because merchants dare not confess them to be from American looms. Shoppers purchase these; they wear remarkably well; they come again for more, all the time supposing they are French goods.

—Made an Honorary Life Member. New York, May 28.—Capt. S. M. Saunders, who has had a controversy with Farnsworth post, G. A. R., No. 170, of Mount Vernon, about the toast he offered to Jeff. Davis' health, received a telegram yesterday from Savannah, Ga., informing him that he had been unanimously elected an honorary life member of the Chatham Artillery, of that city.

CONGRESSIONAL.

THE HOUSE TALKS OLEOMARGARINE AGAIN.

The Amendments to the Bill Stagnated—An Earnest Speech.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—SENATE.—A resolution to inquire into the appointment of Indian traders was debated some time and referred to the Indian committee. The North Pacific land forfeiture bill was discussed until 2 o'clock, at which hour Mr. Van Wyck's bill for the taxation of railroad lands was placed before the Senate, and under a plea of discussing this bill the debate on the North Pacific forfeiture was continued by Messrs. Edmunds, Van Wyck, Dolph, Mitchell, of Oregon, Plumb, Vest and others. A reference by Mr. Van Wyck to the proceedings of the House of Representatives brought an inquiry from Mr. Butler as to whether such reference was in order. The presiding officer (Mr. Hawley) replied that so little that was before the Senate had been referred to in the debate that the chair had not thought it worth while to call attention to any particular point as being out of order. The bill before the Senate, he said, had not been referred to for an hour. (Laughter.) No result was reached, and at 3 1/2 the Senate went into executive session. At 4 1/2 the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned till Tuesday next.

HOUSE. On motion of Mr. Morrison, of Illinois, it was ordered that when the House adjourns tomorrow it be to meet Tuesday next.

The Senate resolutions relative to the death of John T. Miller, late Senator from California, were laid before the House. Mr. Morrow, of California, gave notice that he would call them up for action Saturday, June 18.

The private business having been dispensed with, the House went into committee of the whole (Mr. Springer in the chair) on the oleomargarine bill, the pending amendment being that offered by Mr. Daniel, of Virginia, reducing the special tax on retail dealers from $48 to $25.

In the course of another protracted and stubborn debate Mr. Daniel's amendment was rejected, along with numerous others, while still others were unceremoniously ruled out on points of order. An amendment was adopted allowing retail dealers in oleomargarine to pack the compound in paper packages. Mr. Evershart, of Pennsylvania, rose to speak against the bill, and members, remembering the sensation caused by his speech in opposition to the river and harbor bill, clustered around him and frequently interrupted him with laughter and applause. He asserted the constitutionality of the measure and inveighed against the manufacture of oleomargarine, which threatened with destruction the time-honored business of butter making. Oleomargarine was composed of the refuse of butcher shops, compounded and prepared so as to resemble in taste, form and color butter. It looked as if its origin was associated with springs and cows and pastures and all the charms of the country. It was an imposition, made solely to be given to the poor man to roll under his tongue like a sweet morsel of sin. Though it be as pure as an icicle on Diana's temple, or as wholesome as the bread of angels, it was still a counterfeit, pretending to be genuine.

Successive amendments, reducing the tax to five cents and one cent per pound, were rejected. Mr. Townsend moved to make the tax two cents. Mr. Butler retorted supported the amendment. Pending action on the amendment the committee rose. The speaker laid before the House several veto messages on private pension bills and they were referred to the committee on invalid pensions. The House at 5 o'clock took a recess until 8 o'clock, the evening session to be for the consideration of pension bills.

A Terrible Whirlwind in Michigan. LAFERIE, Mich., May 28.—At midnight a whirlwind, of terrific severity, accompanied by thunder, lightning, rain and hail, visited this vicinity, unroofing barns, twisting off signs and awnings, breaking glass and blowing down huge trees. The inhabitants were alarmed, many taking their children with them and repairing to their cellars for safety. Much damage was done to property, but there has been no loss of life yet reported.

The Collapse and Ruin of a Mill. GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 28.—Last evening the entire building of the Valley City mills collapsed under the weight of machinery and grain. Every floor, with its contents, fell into the cellar and as the tail-race ran beneath the mill the water washed all the grain into Grand river. Over 20,000 bushels of wheat and as much meal, together with the new and costly machinery, were lost, aggregating in value between $75,000 and $100,000.

The French cabinet, by a vote of 6 to 5, adopted the principle of the expulsion of the Orleans princes.

The Independents Ahead.

THEY BEAT THE DEMOCRATS AT RICHMOND. RICHMOND, Va., May 28.—The election in this city yesterday has resulted in the overwhelming defeat of the regular Democratic nominees. Lee (Dem.) for city sergeant, was defeated by Smith (Independent) by a majority of over 2,800. The board of aldermen stands nine Democrats and nine independents; the common council nine Democrats and twenty-one independents; making an independent majority of twelve on joint ballots. The election was a crushing blow to the democracy and will result in a pretty general change in numerous offices in the city, including the heads or several important departments.

In Petersburg all the general officers on the citizens' or anti-republican ticket were elected.

The Knights of Labor General Assembly. CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 28.—The Knights of Labor buckled down to business today and held two sessions. The committee on laws presented their report, recommending that the general executive committee be increased from five to eleven members. After an hour's discussion the recommendation was adopted. The six new members will be elected by ballot, and will serve during the unexpired year, which ends in October. Permanent headquarters will be opened in Philadelphia, and if necessary the board will sit throughout the year, instead of assembling at the call of the general master-working man.

A resolution was adopted giving Mr. Powderly power to recall the commissions of all organizers. The subject of appointing competent organizers and the means to be taken for their selection were being discussed when the noon recess occurred.

The Week's Business Failures. NEW YORK, May 28.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during last week, as reported to R. G. Dun & Co. for the United States, 154; Canada, 27; total, 181; as against 167 last week, and 196 the week previous. The casualties in the Eastern, Southern and Middle States are light and below the average in number. The Western and Pacific States furnished more than half of the total number of failures of the week.

The French Press on the Expulsion of the Princes. PARIS, May 28.—The radical journals are not satisfied with the expulsion bill, because it leaves with the government the fixing of the date of its operation. They demand a bill making the instant expulsion of all the French princes mandatory. Le Soleil condemns the government for yielding to the clamor against the princes. It says the government has abdicated in favor of the revolutionary party and declares that an era of violence has begun. Le Journal des Debats also opposes the bill.

New York Cotton Futures. NEW YORK, May 28.—Green & Co.'s report says: The old crop moved fairly, but mostly under a pressure to realize; the holders becoming discouraged at the failure of the supporting influence. Liverpool was slack and home advices developed a fair interior movement with rather better crop accounts. While the demand generally had a very indifferent form, about five points were lost with the close slow, the new crop sparingly handled and without change of importance, though inclined to an easier tone.

How East. NEW YORK, May 28.—Most and his two companions, Braunschweig and Schenk, were today found guilty of the charge in the indictment—misdeemeanor. The jury recommended Schenk to the mercy of the court. The sentence will be pronounced next Wednesday.

The Close of the Norfolk Bank Case. NORFOLK, Va., May 28.—Argument was closed in the U. S. circuit court today in the cause of the receiver of the Exchange national bank against the trustees, Bain & Bro. Chief justice Waite announced this afternoon that he would be unable to render a decision for some days, and would send it from Washington.

More Vetoes of Pension Bills. WASHINGTON, May 28.—The President sent to the Senate today five additional vetoes of private pension bills. The reason stated in each veto is that the disability described arose from causes wholly apart from military service—in some cases long before the war and others long afterwards.

Not hangeable about Home Rule. LONDON, May 28.—Joseph Cowen, radical, M. P. for Newcastle, publishes a letter in which he says: The home rule question is not settled. Years will be spent over this fight. Political animosities will grow and faster, leading to a complete re-creating of party lines. The prospect for the liberals is not hopeful.

New York, May 28.—The following is the comparative cotton statement for the week ending May 21:

A HAPPY MAN.

PREMIER CLEVELAND'S MARRIAGE A FIXED FACT. His Fair Young Bride Brought to New York—A Quiet Wedding.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—President Cleveland will be married at the White House Wednesday evening, June 2, to Miss Frances Folsom. The recent death of a relative of Miss Folsom has changed the original plans for the wedding, and the invitations will now be limited to a few members of the cabinet, Senators and their wives.

Rev. Dr. Sunderland, of the First Presbyterian church, Washington, will officiate. The ceremony will be followed by a collation and the wedding in all its details will be plain and unostentatious. Miss Folsom arrived at New York from Europe last night on the Astor steamship Cordonia. She was met at the quarantine station by Col. Dan. Lamont with a revenue cutter and landed at one of the up-town piers, on North-river. Her coming by an Antwerp steamer was little regarded as within the possibilities that only two of the New York morning papers and not any of the telegraphic reporters had the news. The reporters generally were watching the British steamship lines.

Mr. Gladstone Angry. HE MAKES SOME SEVERE COMMENTS ON HIS OPPOSITIONS.

LONDON, May 28.—Mr. Gladstone, in the house of commons this afternoon, in reply to questions from the opposition, refused to state what the intentions of the government were concerning the home rule bill and the procedure thereon. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, conservative leader, moved an adjournment of the debate on the bill and supported his motion by a fierce attack upon the government, denouncing in strong language their tactics in the management of the controversy. This speech provoked a hot-tempered war of words. Mr. Gladstone arose in the middle of the excitement and with (for him) unusual passion declared that he would choose his own time to press the bill to a vote, and that he would accept no advice from those who were doing their best to ruin the measure. This declaration, made with the vigor of overwhelming force, provoked great enthusiasm among the liberals and nationalists and they cheered loudly.

The Episcopal Convention OF THE DIOCESE OF EAST CAROLINA. The following is taken from the Wilmington Star's report of the proceedings of this convention, in session at Goldsboro.

Rev. Mr. Forbes was chosen president and Rev. N. Harding secretary. The various committees were appointed, as follows: On election—Rev. R. H. Drane, George C. Royall and R. B. Everett; on parishes—Rev. V. W. Shields, J. W. Alberson and W. G. Lamb; unfinished business—Rev. T. B. Houghton, H. N. Blount and S. H. Abbott; state of the church—Rev. W. H. Lewis, L. Ehorn, N. E. Price, W. L. DeRosset and W. B. Shepard; canons—Rev. J. C. Huake, D. D., Rev. James Carmichael, D. D., Rev. H. G. Hilyar, A. J. Rosset and John Hughes; Finance—Rev. H. Collins, Hughes, D. D., and Rev. H. G. Hilton.

On motion of Col. W. L. DeRosset it was resolved to appoint a committee to examine into the claims of this diocese to half the scholarship in the theological seminary now owned by the diocese of North Carolina, and what steps should be taken in regard to it. Col. DeRosset, Maj. Hughes and Isaac Dorseth were appointed the committee.

On motion of Mr. Hughes it was resolved to appoint a committee to examine into the claims of this diocese to the property devised by Miss Mary Ruffin Smith to the old diocese of North Carolina. Maj. Hughes, Mr. George Davis and Col. D. K. MacRae were appointed a committee for the purpose.

On motion of Col. Atkinson it was resolved that a committee of three be appointed to consider what should be done with regard to the offer of St. John's and St. Mark's churches to sell their share of the Episcopal residence, and also as to repairing the same. Rev. J. Harding, Mr. W. Calder and Mr. W. G. Lamb were appointed the committee to consider the matter with regard to the Episcopal residence.

Bishop Watson read his address, showing a record held 182 confirmations, 286 ordinations to the priesthood one. Two priests have been received into the diocese, and two priests dismissed to other dioceses. The bishop spoke very feelingly about the miserable pittance that the clergy receive for their support. He would not be able to keep ministers in the diocese unless the laity were more liberal.

On motion of Col. Atkinson it was resolved to appoint a committee to consider the proposed changes of the prayer book.

On motion of Dr. Lewis it was resolved unanimously to suspend the rules in order to adopt the canons prepared by the committee on canons. The whole day was spent in consideration of these canons. The rules of order were also considered in committee of the whole. Late in the evening the committee arose, and the convention adopted the body of the canons and rules of order reported by the committee of the whole.

The Turks, as Usual, Fail to Keep Their Word. CONSTANTINOPLE, May 28.—Greece has complained to the Porte that the Turks have not evacuated the positions on the Greek frontier which they agreed to abandon.

Mr. Andrew Mickle.

This excellent man, who died recently in Texas, deserves more than a passing notice. He was one of the best men who ever lived in this State. For years he was a merchant of Hillsboro, where he married a daughter of judge William Norwood, sister of the late John W. Norwood, of Mrs. Wm. J. Bingham, and other most loved and honored citizens.

Wishing to educate his sons he changed his residence to Chapel Hill about 1850, where he resided until his removal to Texas in 1862. He was a staunch lover of North Carolina and left the State with great reluctance, in order to be near four of his children, who had settled in the "Lone Star" State, mainly on considerations of health.

Mr. Mickle was greatly loved and trusted by all who knew him, including hundreds of the alumni of the University, of which he was a member for several years. He was kind and gentle, of extraordinary soundness of judgment, faithful to every duty, of unswerving integrity, of straightforward rectitude in all things; modest and retiring in his disposition, he could be stirred to firm, vigorous and open plainness of speaking and even denunciation by what he considered a worthy cause. A merchant in easy circumstances at the beginning of the civil war, he lost everything by refusing to raise his prices and engage in speculation and extortion. As a vassal, as postmaster, as treasurer of various funds, he was always strictly accurate and faithful in his dealings. He was in all respects a good and true citizen and a thoroughly consistent member of the Episcopal church, of which he was almost a life-long vestryman. The venerable Paul C. Cameron, his neighbor three score and ten years, an uncommonly good judge of character, says that he was one of the most reliable men he ever knew. Not only Mr. Cameron, but Gov. Graham, judge Battle, chief justice Ruffin, chief justice Nash, in fact all the great and good men of Orange, numbered him among their friends. Mr. Mickle leaves two sons and two daughters in Texas, and a son, Mr. A. D. Mickle, in Raleigh. His most estimable wife survives him.

When they got the tickets each selected two tickets to use. The ticket which drew the amount was to be divided between them all. Now if you want to save your money call and see me. New and advanced ideas are crowding out the old ones; pluck instead of luck; cash instead of credit; brains instead of cheek; and science and ability are beating back and crushing into oblivion moonshine merchants with their tough and tremendous long-time prices.

Our Millinery Department will be filled this with new hats and flowers and such goods as are needed as the season advances. These goods are bought in New York from first-class houses and the most fashionable in the city and not from auction houses, as I understand is reported by many persons in this city. They are bought for cash and at cost, so I can sell them cheaper than those houses who buy from drummers and on credit. The drummers are going all through the country at an expense of from $8 to $10 a day, besides paying heavy license fees. Who pays all these expenses? Why you people who buy goods from houses who buy from drummers and on credit. The consumer has all these expenses to pay.

Come and buy your Millinery from us and save all these expenses. Respectfully submitted to the cash trade only.
