OBSERVATIONS.

Mayor Dodd is again at his post. The graded schools closed yesterday. This is what the farmers call "growing weather."

A new bridge has been built across Walnut creek at Jones & Ellis' mill, south of the city.

Yesterday deputy sheriff R. O. Pittman, of Robeson county, brought three convicts to the penitentiary. In Randolph county a few days ago

Mr. William Brown, while drinking water from a spring dropped dead. Pastors of the churches are specially requested to send in today's notices of any changes in their Sunday services. It is said that more mineral waters, of various kinds, are used here than in any place of the size in the entire South.

The handsome residence of Mr. Chas. o D. Upchurch, corner Fayetteville and West Lenoir streets, has been artistically repainted by King & Macy.

The low prices of tobacco of the ordinary grades have caused a decrease of the acreage in this section. People will pay more attention to the finer grades.

Two young Africans at a ball at Adams' hall Thursday night fought instead of dancing, and each had to pay $5 and costs for the fun. It cost more than dancing.

Those interested in stock, dairying and farming, should go to the office of the experiment station this (Saturday) morning at 10 o'clock to hear Maj. Alvord talk on those subjects.

Great numbers of birds fly over the city these nights. At 1.80 o'clock yesterday morning a reporter heard great numbers of them. They appeared to be going north. They fly in flocks and make a sort of whistling noise. They were at a low attitude and were quite the electric lights.

Yesterday near Walnut creek's young woman named Edie Buffalo had a gun, to she used in killing snakes. She pointed it at her mother, remarking that it was not loaded. Of course it was'nt, but it went off, all the some, and a handful of shot found a nice resting-place in the shoulder of the mother. whose name is Julia Buffalo.

Important to Stock-Haisers.

The gentlemen who met Maj. Alvord, of Houghton farm, N. Y., who is there, representing the U. S. department of agriculture and inspecting the experiment station, enjoyed very much his conversation on the subject of stock, ensilage, dairying and farming generally. The major has had a most extended experience in these matters and he is full of practical knowledge of them. This suggested a meeting for informal conversation, when the farmers of the neighborhood could all hear the major talk. Accordingly Dr. Dabney invites all those interested in these subjects to come to his office at 10 o'clock this morning and meet Maj. Alvord for a short conference. The gathering will be entirely informal. Any one can ask questions and the major will answer them and ask others. So much interest is taken in these matters now in Rale gh that there is no doubt that all who have time will go.

The Water-Works Examiners. Mayor Dodd and aldermen G. E Leach and F. O. Moring have returned from their trip North, during which they examined many water-works and secured much information of value in connection therewith. They went first to Norfolk, being accompanied there by Mr. J. C. Brewster and Mr. M. Bowes They were shown every courtesy a Norfolk by the city authorities, and this was the case at all points they visited. They spent some hours at Baltimore, it conference with ingineers and experts and picked up some very useful ideas. THE CENTENNIAL GRADED SCHOOL THE VERY INTERESTING CLOSING EXERCISES OF THE TERM.

It has for many months been one of the day's most pleasing sights to witness the processions of bright-faced and intelligent children on their way to and from the Centennial graded school. Now they all, have a holiday which they have certainly carned, and they "surely will be missed" until school opens next September. Yesterday was closing day and there was a large attendance of people interested in the admirable school. The exercises began at 9 o'clock and closed at 1. During all that time there was a constant procession of visi-tors, one and all of whom were delighted at what they saw. The programme of oral examinations, etc., was very pleasing indeed, and though people naturally expected much from the pupils of a school under the excellent management of Prof. Moses and an able and earnest corps of teachers, vet all frankly confessed astonishment at what they said and heard. The best of good order and behavior, perfect neatness, well dressed, tidy children, little ladies and gentlemen, were seen there. The rooms were fragrant with flowers, the blackboards were adorned with such pretty designs in crayons, plain and colored, as to look like an art exhibition. The children were at their nest desks and each did as he or she was bid; executed all orders promptly and well. Two of the class rooms were vacant. The third grade teacher, Miss Grace Bates, was sick and hence her class had no examinations. The teacher of the sixth grade, Mr. W. V. Savage, had no examinations, as he was at the bed-

But the other eight rooms were all full of children and any spare space was kept filled with interested spectators. The spacious and admirably New. York, May 28 Exchange $4.87½. The other 113 would be there if there was room, but two months ago the reception of pupils ceased. The attendance has been large in proportion to the enrolment. Many names adorned the rolls of honor in the various grades. Carolina 4's 951; Tennessee 6's 58; Virginia 6's 44; Virginia consols 53; they appreciate their indebtedness to People could not help contrasting the school with what it was a year ago: It is but saying the truth to state that the June 29. ed the rooms and had heard recitations and songs without number, they went into the assembly room, and spent a half hour very pleasantly indeed. The visitors filled the rostrum, while the great floor space was occupied by 200 girls, who under Prof. Moses' guidance went through an elaborate and carefully executed calisthenic drill. The precision of their movements won loud applause for the pupils as they

Another very interesting and gratifying part of the day's exercises followed and ended the "commencement." This was the presentation of the Peabody medals. These medals, four in number, were awarded the pupils in the four highest grades, whose standing, scholarship and deportment during the en-tire session were "the best." The boys at the Centennial school are bright. All know that! But the girls must be brighter, for all four of the medals were won by them. The young ladies who were thus successful are: Miss Ethel Bagley, fourth grade; Miss Mag-gie Ferrell, fifth grade; Miss Lula West, sixth grade; Miss Tillie Bates, seventh grade. How proud they all were, and how proud their schoolmates and their visitors felt at their success. so worthily won. The medals are of bronze, two inches in diameter. On the obverse they bear the head of George Peabody and the words: "Born Feb-uary 18, 1795; died November 4, 1869." On the reverse is this inscription : "Education : A Debt due from Present to Future Generations. The Trustees of the Peabody Educational Fund to" (here follows the name of the recipient.) A few minutes after the calisthenic exercises ended, the audience was seated and all the pupils filed into the great room with hats and school books. Rev. F. L. Reid, who with Mr. T. H. Briggs, Jr., was present as committeemen, addressed the school. He said that all who had seen the exercises had seen enough to know that Prof. Moses and his teachers do all things well. He said the closing act of the performance was the presentation of the Feabody medals and introduced R. T. Gray, Wsq., as the gentleman selected to perform that duty in behalf of the superintendent, the teachers and the school committee.

Mr. Gray spoke briefly but in a very earnest way, alluding to the joy the victor feels in a victory worthily won. These medals were won by earnest, persevering, conscientiou effort. They were true rewards of merit, of diligence in study, of propriety and deportment. They should stimulate to yet further efforts. He alluded to the great philanthropist, Peabody, to his gifts for education and the good they are doing all over the South. When Mr. Gray ended the big Augusta quiet, 82, 56 bales; Charlesassembly-room rang with applause, as he gave the medals to the smiling and happy girls to whom they had been awarded.
